Judge Chase in Virginia. From a Richmonif Letter in the Boston Daily Ac

From a Richmond Letter in the Boston Daily Advertiser.

Mr. Chase, with that forecast and sagacity for which he has been somewhat noted, saw long ago to what we were tending, and with an activity, zeal and rapidity not common to men of his weight, early put hinself in a position to make the best possible use of the opportunities presented. His white hand and velvety touch manipulated not a few of the men who have mixed and mingled in our past complications. There was such an odor of respectability about him, such a happy method of saying pleasant things, a tongate that could flatter so charmingly such a ponderous dignity of manner, as to make him almost irresistible. On one occasion, shortly after the Democratic Convention in July last year, a trusting, honest beauty in July last year, a trusting, honest hearton unsuspecting gentleman who believed that the abolitionist of 1840, the cabinet officer of Mr. abolitionist of 1840, the cabinet officer of Mr. Lincoln, the distinguished Chief Justice was a Republican, and a member of the Republican party, very innocently remarked:—"Why, Mr. Chief Justice, the Democrats came very near capturing you at New York in their convention;" to which he replied:—"Oh, no, not at all; I have always been a Damocrat." of day there is no imputation which could be finade more offensive to that gentleman than that he is a Republican, or that he sympathizes with or desires the success of the Republican party.

within a short time the Richmond Dispatch, one of the most bitter of all the conservative one of the most of the the chart of the chart of the papers of Virginia, heads its leading editorial with the name of Mr. Chase, compliments him as being the ablest among all the northern statesmen—a skilful financier who did more than any one of the Federal Generals to bring the war to a successful termination, and says:

"He is supposed to have advised with the Virginians who first proposed to withdraw Colonel Withers and concentrate all the opponents of Wells upon Colonel Walker." The supposition referred to is an existing fact. All this is said by the Dispatch, and all that Mr. Chase has done, is doing or will do, is with express reference to the formation and success of the new party. It is not, however, at all improbable that Mr. Chase, after doing all the damage that his past position, present opportunities, large experience and capacity enabled him to do, may finally fail of reaching the goal of his ambition. He may not even be the nominee. the war to a successful termination, and says

A Henry Forgery in Nebraska. [From the Omaha Herald of August 14.] A few days ago a genteely dressed and mannered person, who registered his name at the hotel in Nebraska City as "C. G. Whitman," arrived in that place and made a deposit of sixty-four dollars in gold, $305 in currency, and a draft on the National Bank of Bloom-ington for $3,500 on Gimore, Dunlan & Co., of Cincinnati. He checked out small sums to pay on a lease of a store in that town, as he gave out that he was going into business there, doing considerable talk around about on this subject, telling Mr. Ware that he wanted to start next morning to buy his stock of goods, all arrangements having been completed. Mr. Ware gave him a draft on the Importers and Traders' National Bank, New York, for $3,000. The Bloomington draft was undoubtedly a forgery. This man "Whitman appears the next day in Fremont under the name of William T. Allen, where he again wants to go into "business." He makes the acquaintance of Mr. Fowler and other gentlemen, buys a lot for a residence and leases a store, paying small sums as an evidence of good faith on each, and steps into the banking house of E. H. Rogers & Co. to get his draft. pour rain on each, and steps into the banking house of E. H. Rogers & Co. to get his draft cashed, accompanied by a gentleman who acts the part of a swindled friend in the transaction. Mr. Rogers cashes Mr. Ware's draft, the swindler disappears, the discovery is made, and some unfortunate victim is to lose $3,000.

This W.T. Allen is probably the same man who was going into "business" in Omaha where he forged Murray's name for $200.

CITY BULLETIN.

A JERSEYMAN IN TROUBLE.—James Der-byshire is a resident of New Jersey. He came to the city yesterday with a load of tomatoes. He got into the Seventeenth Ward and struck up quite a brisk trade, as he offered to sell his tomatoes at a cheaper, rate than they could be bought on the wharf. He was spotted, and it tomatoes at a cheiper the than the volume to bought on the wharf. He was spotted, and it was soon discovered that he was amenable to the law upon several points. At Cadwalader and Jefferson streets a policemon stepped up, and politely requested James to walk or drive over to the office of Alderman Eggleton. He complied, and when introduced to the magistrate, he was charged with huckstering without a license, having an unnumbered wagon, and cruelty to animals, by having a shoeless horse. The alderman imposed the fines and costs, amounting to $14. James didn't like the state of things, and demured to the decision. The alderman began to write out a commitment. James took another look, handed over the cash, and immediately started Jersey, about as fast as his team could conveniently carry him.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.—John Bigler started

niently carry him.

CRUELITY TO ANIMALS.—John Bigler started out for a spree yesterday. He hired a horse and wagon, and went out riding. He got dry frequently, and as there is a scarcity of water in this locality, he used whisky as a substitute. At Third street and Germantown avenue he got lively commenced yelling at the top of his voice, and beat his horse unmercifully because the animal could not make as good fine as some other mags a little more celebrated. A Tenth District Policeman didn't think that John was doing exactly the fair thing by his trotter and took him into custody. Alderman Eggleton heard the case, and directed Mr. Bigler to fork over the amount of cash necessary to pay the usual fine for cruelty to animals. John forked, and then left the office; expressing his disgust at the ways of the world in general and the law for the prevention of cruelty to animals in particular.

CARELESSNESS.—Nouvithstanding the freunfit for use; that in two months he was price trated by sickness and seldom able to arise from his bed; that by day and night an armed sentinel, with fixed bayonet, paced his beat backward and forward in his prison casematch.

CARELESSNESS.—Notwithstanding the frequent warnings through the newspapers, and other sources, people continue to go to bed at nights without having their houses or stores properly secured. The Lieutenants of Police report every morning numerous places found open on the previous night. This morning, in the First District, 24, and in the Fifth District, 6, unfastened houses were reported. The Sixteenth District Lieutenant stated that at one o'clock this morning the gate at Patter-Sixteenth District Lieutenant stated that in one o'clock this morning the gate at Patter-son's Yarn Manufactory, No. 3109 Chestnut street, was found open, and standing in the yard was a wagon containing fine zephyr valued at about $2,000, which could readily have been got away by thieves. Policeman Rowe watched the goods until after daylight. ALEXANDER J. HARPER, ESQ., member of the Common Council from the Eighth Ward, died this morning at his father's residence, 1811 Walnut street, at 3 o'clock, aged 53 years. His disease was congestion of the bowels, and he had been ill but three days.

Mr. Harper has been a most able and efficient member of Councils for several years, and was, in all respects, a valuable citizen. He was an active member of the Union was an active member of the Union League and the National Union Club, and his services to the Republican party have always been valuable. The news of his sudden death will be received with sorrow by all who knew him.

The New Gas Main:—The work of laying the new large gas-main along Ninth street, to connect the Point Breeze. Works with the large holder at Nortis street, is progressing rapidly. A large force of laborers are at work, and the pipe laying is furnished at the rate of about one square per day. This morning the diggers were nearly to Girard avenue, and the pipe was down and covered almost to Poplar street. The new gas-holder now in course of erection on Ninth street, adjoining the other holder, is going up fast, and will be completed in a few weeks.

STRAING WASHED CLOTHING.—Samuel Moore, a negro, was arrested about five o'clock this morning, while leaving the yard of a dwelling at Broad and Lombard streets, having in his possession a lot of washed clothing, which he had taken from the lines in the grant Bayrill have a heaving of the Central ward. He will have a hearing at the Central Station this afternoon.

CHARGED WITH STABBING - Charles Lewis was arrested last night upon the charge of having stabbed Peter Kiker in the face, on State street, between Race and Vine and Fif teenth and Sixteenth. The wound is painful though not considered dangerous. Lewis will have a hearing this afternoon, at the Central Fire.—This morning, about half-past four o'clock, a fire was discovered under the counter of the cigar-store of John Bampf, No. 2122 Market street. The flames were extinguished by Policeman Farrell before any serious damage had been done.

THE MINT.—The necessary repairs at the United States Mint having been completed, and the six new boilers having been placed in their proper positions work has been resumed. All of the departments are now in full opera-
