And the people! 'Ah! the people!' Was there ever so rare a place for studying "the paragon of animals"? Truly, I think not; for here we see many men in their best estate; when the heavy burdens are for a little while lifted from off their shoulders; when the inspiration of freedom is upon them and they spiration of freedom is upon them, and they breathe deeply the free air and are glad, the hard lines of care softening, melting into unworted smiles; world-hardened men and careworn women becoming again as little children. of whom it is written that "of such is the

There is the merchant, who has for a brief There is the merchant, who has for a brief season forgotten his ledger and the fluctuations of trade; the lawyer, who has laid aside his briefs; the clergyman, enjoying a short surcease from sermonizing; the physician, who has left his patients to the tender mercles of a brother practitioner. The rugged artisan, too, is here with wife and children, all as joyous as though there never had been and never could be care in the world. What a hand this worker has—neither grace nor flexibility in it; a hand which has had many hard knocks, and which, indeed, seems perfectly well able and which, indeed, seems perfectly well able to return them, with interest, when occasion to return them, with interest, when occasion requires; and yet, knotted and misshapen by toll as it is, it is not without its beauty when clasping—so tenderly—the baby-paw of that chubby child of his, or when laid caressingly upon its head. He of the stainless choker yonder may have a whiter hand, but never in his most inspired moments a proven clean. most inspired moments a more eloquent ges-taie than that But, oh, the women of this land of looms, slaves of the spindle! Truly, it is a good thing to be free from this noisy dissonance, if even but for a day. Here comes he who, doubtless, in the minds of the children, at least, is the very high-priest of the festival—the candy vender; basket on arm, he passes to and fro, crying his wares, lozenges, candies, gorgeously colored and wondrously flavored, and the ubiquitous popcorn. Old and young partake, and apparently with equal relish, for your true Yankee is ever a lover of sweets.

What junketing could be complete without music? Our excursion is not lacking in this particular—we have a harper among us; not a prepossessing lad, certainly—scrawny of neck, vulgar of feature, and tawny of skin; Italian skies have given it its olive hue. Or Naples he, spawn of the lazarons; and yet, doubtless, dike all Italians, through all his wanderings treasuring the memory of his beauteous land, and longing to return. Poor Italy! Ever the land of poesy and song! It vexes me to hear "Captain Jinks" thummed even by such Italian fingers. But perhaps in even by such Italian fingers. But perhaps in his soul he detests the doggerel as much as I, and, like many wiser and richer than himself, and, the many wiser and richer than himself, is simply catering to a vitlated public taste for the sake of filthy lucre. I almost think so, for just now, as he passed me, harp in hand, he lightly touched the strings to Nonti scordar

But enough of this. Newport is situated about twenty-eight miles from Providence, and Rocky Point is placed midway between the two cities. It is a favorite resort for the Providencers; boasts a fine hotel, an observatory, and affords excellent bathing, fishing, &c.; but above all, it is famed for its "clambakes," a Rhode Island institution of which I may have something to say in another letter. may have something to say in another letter.
Here it was that poor Stephen A. Douglas was entertained with, perhaps, the largest
"bake" on record, when, at the head of a forlorn hope, he was pluckily—although, as many thought, somewhat indecorously—stumping the Union for the Presidency in '59
If I remember rightly, eight hundred bushels of the bivalves were on that occasion immolated. I shall not weary your readers with a descrip-tion of Newport, at which city we arrived in due season. Its leading features are already familiar to them, either through personal ob-servation or the medium of the public press. Old Newport is as quains and new Newport as showy as ever.

Miss Kate Fields is there, also Mrs. Howe; others of the leaders in the "Woman's Rights" movement are daily expected, to attend the Convention which is to be held on Wednesday Convention which is to be held on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Truly, it is carrying the war into Africa to hold a Woman's Rights Convention in Newport, where woman's right to be gay and frivolous, extravagant and silly, is at least junquestioned. If they can turn the minds of the fashionable world of Newport to nobler thoughts than mere splendor of dress and a round of shallow gayeties, the "strong-minded" sisterhood will be doing a noble and much-needed work. Success to them! Hate Fields is said to be preparing a new lecture for the coming winter: paring a new lecture for the coming winter this her numerous friends and admirers wil he glad to hear.

As you are aware, Newport is rejoicing in the presence of Grant and Sherman, both of whom are being duly lionized. With the particulars of the formal reception of the President, by the Mayor of Newport, you have already been made acquainted. General Sherman is upon an official tour of inspection, and her thus for declined to participate in public has thus far declined to participate in public gatherings; while President Grant is endeavoring to recover, in some measure, from the terrible ordeal to which he, like all our. Presi-dents, was subjected in the opening hours of his Administration—the distribution of the his Administration—the distribution of the spoils. Grant looks somewhat thin and careworn; it is hardly generous to grudge him brief recreation, as many, even of those who have been avowedly friendly to him, seem disposed to do. He will, during the coming winter, need all the strength he may acquire by present rest. To-morrow the Grand Army of the Republic of this State have their first remain. It is to take place at "Ocean Cottage" mion; it is to take place at "Ocean Cottage," about three miles below Providence, and the President has promised to be present. I will endeavor to send you some account of the proceedings.

THE WEST JEHSEY BALLBOAD COMPANY.—
The business transacted on this railroad between Philadelphia and Cape May so far during the present season exhibits an increase of at least forty per cent. over that of last year. It may be expressed in the single word, immense. Three regular daily trains have been running from Camden to Cape May, exclusive of excursion and freight trains, and all on time, without accident. The excursion trains form an important part of the history of the company, and so popular have they become that fourteen excursion parties have already engaged as many days for their trips next summer. Of the excursions of the present season we present the following statistics as possessing more than usual interest. The first excursion was run early in July by the Knights of St. Crispin, numbering 700. Then came the following: Washita Tribe, Red Men, 226; Weccacoe Fire Company, 650; Morning Star Council, U. A. M., 623; Wingolocken Tribe, Red Men, 3594; Union and Livingston Lodges, K. of P., 1,3354; Chosen Friends, America and Columbia Lodges, Odd Fellows, 1,562; Marion Hose Company, 960; Cicero and Industry Lodges, K. of P., 9054; A. Manship's Church, 550; Henry Clay and Eagle Councils, U. A. M., 600; Atlantic Lodge, Odd Fellows, 750; St. Francis Kavier, 1,404; St. Philip's Literary Institute, 9854. These were all in July, making a total of 11,612 persons. THE WEST JERSEY RAILBOAD COMPANY.

The following excursions have taken place.

The following excursions have taken place. The following excursions have taken place in August, up to the 21st inst.: Montgomery and Humane Fire Companies, of Norristown, 1,200; St. Joseph's Church, 1,865; St. Patrick's Church, 1,464; Vigilant Lodge, Odd Fellows, 1,337; Mariola Lodge, K. of P., 993; Arcadia Lodge, K. of P., 972; Waldense Lodge, A. P. A., 1,242; Grand Division Sons of Temperance, 1,795; Odd Fellows Lodges of Pemberton, N. J., 1,414; Greble Council, U. A. M., 250; Broadway, Hall Lodges, Odd Fellows, 1,500; Enterprise Lodge, Odd Fellows, 1,050; Perseverance Encampment, Odd Fellows, 1,276. Making a total of 15,670; up to the 21st inst., and a grand total from the commence inst, and a grand total from the commence-ment of the season to the same period of

Besides these excursions, there were ten of a local character—that is, running from Cam-den to different localities on the route. The den to different localities on the route. The smallest of these excursions numbered 399, and the largest 1,1661; total estimate, 7,900.

The Barnisboro' camp-meeting of the Methodist Church was a locality of great attraction. Nearly 15,000 persons were conveyed to it in the cars of the company. In addition to them interesting statistics, there were twelve excursions of Simday-Schools in July and August, and a charifful section, of country known as sions of Simday-Schools in July and August, to a beautiful section of country known as Union Grove, located about twenty miles south of Philadelphia. The aggregate number of scholars reached 3,230. The August business on the road is much greater than that of last year. The company has often been taxed to its fullest rolling stock, and on some of the largest excursions the cars were overcrowded. This, showever, cannot be attributed to the company. The partiesselling tickets for the excursion sold too many. No one can form any idea of the immense amount of work and the tremendous responsibility resting on the company and its agents to prevent accident on these heavy excursion trains. The engineers, conductors and brakesmen, who have direct charge of the trains, are care-ful and skilful and clever men. The general business management and arranging of the time tables could not well be intrusted to more competent persons than these gentlemen, who thus far have reason to be gratified that no serious accident has taken place, and none that can be be read to the reason to be read to the reason to the read to the reason to the read to the r accident has taken place, and none that can be charged to them.

The time was when the 27th of July was considered the climax of the season; but this, now-a-days, has been fixed at a later period. The Island City of Cape May was never more populous than it is at present. This may be attributed to the intense heat of the weather and the certainty of reaching the "great summer resort" via the West Jersey Railroad Company.

In a financial point of view, which is the most interesting of all, no one can have reason-

In a financial point of view, which is the most interesting of all, no one can have reasonable cause for complaint. It is quite probable that of the 27,000 and upwards of excursionists, two-thirds of them were adults, and it may be safe to say that the expenditures by them at Cape Island would average at least two dollars each, thus making in round numbers a sum not far short of $40,000. This estimate is probably below the mark. The highest number of cars used at one time for excursions was thirty-three—making a train of ing was thirty-three—making a train o sions was thirty-three—making a train of about one-third of a mile in length.

It is very evident from the great increase of business, that it will be still greater next year and in the meantime the energy of the managers who control the affairs of the road will be taxed to meet it properly. More cars will be in readiness for the business of next year, and, therefore, more people will take a trip to the smooth and level beach of "old seabeat Cape May."

FOUND DROWNED.—About ten o'clock yes FOUND DROWNED.—About ten o'clock yes-terday morning, while Fritz Hance, John Glenn and Aaron Heaton were fishing in the Schuylkill, above Callowhill street, they pulled up the body of an unknown white man, which apparently had been in the water for some time. The following description of the body may lead to its identification: He is five feet with einches high, about forty-five years of age. nine inches high, about forty-five years of age, black hair and goatee; had on a grey sack coat, light cross-barred vest, white overalls, low shoes, and a woolen comforter around his neck. The Coroner took charge of the body.

ROBBERIES.-The residence of Mr. Wiggins, ROBBERIES.—The residence of Mr. Wiggins, 763 North Twenty-fourth street, was entered through a second story back window about 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening. One silver and one galvanized watch, two gold and one plated chains, and afew other articles, were stolen, valued at about $40.

Also, the store of Charles Lockrey, at Fiteenth and Summer streets, was broken into last night, and $25 in money, with three bottles of whisky, were stolen. The thieves escaped.

POTATO STEALER.-Yesterday afternoon Potato Stealer.—Yesterday afternoon William Harris (a colored individual) was chased from Twelfth and Market streets to Sixteenth and Shippen, at which place the officer captured him. Some person accused him of stealing a pocket-book, which charge he denied, but he acknowledged to having stolen a basket of potatoes. Sent below by Alderman Dallas.

Fire.—About half-past two o'clock this morning a slight fire occurred at Thomas L. Hallowell's rag store, No. 29 North Front street. Smoke was seen by a policeman, and he gave notice to the insurance patrolmen, who discovered where the fire was, and put it cut without calling on the aid of the firemen.

PASSENGER RAILWAY CAR BROKEN UP .-At half-past six o'clock this morning, a colli-sion took place at Fourth and Willow streets, between a Coates street car and a Reading Railroad car. The passenger car was damaged very badly, and two persons were seriously jured.

DUMMY ON FIRE.—Yesterday morning, about one o'clock, dummy No. 7, of the Frankford Railway, took fire in the depot at Frankford, from the engine. It was discovered and extinguished in time to prevent any serious

VISITATION OF KNIGHTS TEMPLAR TO ATLANTIC CITY.—The Knights Templar will make a grand visitation to Atlantic City on Saturday, August 28th. The Sir-Knights in full uniform will leave this city from Vine street ferry on Saturday at 2 P. M., and remain at Atlantic City until Monday afternoon. During their stay at the sea-side various festivities will be indulged in by the brave Knights and ladies fair—the principal of which will be a ball at the new Excursion House on Saturday evening, when the display will be one of unequaled splendor. The large ball-room will be handsomely decorated in honor of the occasion, and the scene will be magnificent. Previous to the ball a grand display of fireworks will be made under the supervision of Prof. Jackson. The Hop will be presided over by Sir. Win. Wallace Goodwin, who will be assisted by a large number of well-known gentlemen of the mystic tie. One of the features of their stay at the sea-side will be the grand review of the Knights Templar on Monday morning, when they will appear in full uniform. This will be one of the most beautiful sights ever witnessed at Atlantic City. These displays will, probably, absect a large number of Philadelphians to Atlantic City, who, before going, should secure round trip tickets, from Saturday until Monday, costing $3.00 apiece.

Moonleast Excussion to the City by the Sea. The energetic and efficient agent of the Camden and Allantic Railroad Company, David H. Mundy, aunounces that, on Saturday evening next, he will give his Twelfth Annual Moonlight Excursion to Atlantic City. The last boat will leave Vine street wharf at eight o'clock P. M. Returning, will leave Atlantic at an hour that will emulate all who participate to reach this city in ample all who participate to reach this city in ampl time to attend to business on Monday morning. The price of tickets for the round triphas been fixed at $1.50. These excursions have always been popular more especially with the "Can't-get-aways," and it is to be hoped that on this occasion David will have a 'full house."

THE LAST GRAND EXCURSION around New York Bay and Staten Island is announced to take place next Monday. A special train will start from Walnut street wharf at 7.30 A.M. There is no more delightful way of spending a summer day than this. Single tickets for the excursion cost only $3 anlece; tickets for a gentleman and lady only $5 apiece. Beck's Philadelphia Band, No. 1, is engaged for the eccession. for the occasion.

THE HARVARD RACE.—The American News Company has just published a correct map of the course on the Thames to be rowed over to-morrow by the Oxford and Harvard crews. It will be very interesting by way of reference and comparison. The course is marked off in furlougs, with the various points on the banks which will probably be referred to in the cable reports of the race. The map may be found at the Company's agency, 505 Chestnut street, and at the news agencies generally.

For Cape May.—On Saturday next, at 9 A. M., the steamer Lady of the Lake will make her last regular trip to Cape May. She will start from Arch street wharf. On Thursday, the 2d of September, she will make an extra trip, returning next day. We recommend this boat to all who desire a pleasant trip to a pleasant place on one of the swiftest and snuggest craft upon the river.

AUCTION NOTICE.—We desire to call the attention of our readers to the large and attractive sale of household furniture, mattresses, &c., to be held (to-morrow) Friday morning, at 10 o'clock, at Concert Hall Auction Rooms, 1219 Chestnut street, by T. A. McClelland

A Remarkable Bird Story.

The Russian River Flag says: "We are informed by John Mulligan—and he will vouch for the accuracy of the story—that about a month ago a small bird, a linnet, took possession of a large toy windmill which whirls as an ornament on the top of his tin shop. The mill is nearly in the shape of an egg, is about two feet high, and is placed vertically. While it was still, the bird entered between the wings or fans, and commenced operations on a nest, laid her eggs, and finally hatched them on the whirl. Those acquainted with this part of the State know that the wind is almost constantly blowing, except early in the morning, so that the windmill was not often at rest. Now that her young birds were hatched, how could she ge them out? Out she flew, and quickly returned with a long string. Watching her chance, in she went with one end of the string, and the other naturally became entangled around the shaft, and soon the machinery came to a dead lock. Rejoicing at her success, she triumphantly departed, taking along her brood."

CALIFORNIA WINE.—In California, wine, where it is manufactured, is cheaper than milk. In Anaheim and Los Angeles common wine is but thirty cents a gallon; milk costs fifty. Even a common strong wine is but forty cents. In Tuolumne county a large skilled wine-raiser offers four thousand five hundred gallons of excellent wine at twenty-five cents per gallon. In the same region milk is forty cents. In Coloma the price of the two is the same—forty cents. In Sonora good wine is for sale at forty cents a gallon and milk at the same price.
