THE DAILY EVENING BULLETIN-PHILADELPHIA, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1869.

TEXAN POLITICS. The Situation of Parties.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says: A citizen of Texas, who is a Democrat and has long occupied a prominent position on the bench of that State, arrived here a few days ago. He gives what, in view of all the circum-stances, may be considered an impartial ac-count of the status of political parties in Texas. Although he has been a resident of the State for over thirty years, he was a Union-man all through the rebellion, and has been among those who, after the war, favored an immediate acceptance of the situa-tion. He corroborates the statement made a few days ago by General Clarke, the Republican candidate for Congress from the Galveston district, and says that the party lines in Texas are being distinctly drawn, Jack Hamilton, he alleges, is in no sense a Republican candidate, and no well-informed person in Texas regards him as such. What-ever votes he gets will be from such of the Democrats as propose to take part in the cam-paign and a few negroes in the isolated coun-ties. Hamilton, whose record morally and politically is well-known in Texas, has added nothing to it, this gentleman says, by the man-ner in which hesecured his monination. It was done, he alleges, through a combination of railroad and other rings in which Hamilton is interested, and through the connivance of Gov. Pease and one or two other gentlemen, who expect to be elected to the United States Sen-ate in case Hamilton is successful. A large number of Democrats will neither register nor York Herald says: A citizen of Texas, who is a Democrat and Pease and one or two other gentlemen, who expect to be elected to the United States Sen-ate in case Hamilton is successful. A large number of Democrats will neither register nor vote because they will not support. Hamilton, and cannot support Davis. The solid men of the Democratic party, who are old residents of the State, are opposed to Hamilton, on so-count of his wholesale denunciation of the Texans last winter at the North. This gentleman says they do not frust him, and cannot forgive him; besides, they are anxious to get the State back to her proper position in the Union, and they think this can be accomplished better by the election of Davis than Hamilton, because the former is believed to be in favor with the Administra-tion and Congress, while Hamilton's standing at Washington is regarded as doubtful. The Democratis who are opposed to Hamilton talk of running a candidate of their own. If they decide to do this, James Arm-strong, of Jasper, or Judge Hancock, of Austin, will probably be selected. If Hamilton be elected Governor he will be a candidate for the United States Senate. The other candidate, my informant says, will be General Reynolds, the commander of the dis-trict, who is understood to favor Hamilton's election as Governor. This gentleman is of opinion that if General Reynolds keeps his hands off and the full Republican vote is polled. Davis, who is said to be a pure man personally and politically, and well liked, will be elected. The position occupied by Gen-eral Reynolds gives him great influence, and the result of the election is, to some extent, in his hands. M. THOMAS & SONS, Auctioneers, is and Idi South Fourth street. The jot on the corner of Master and Lawrence streets is vacant, which could be improved by the erection of two dwellings, or it would be an excellent location for a store. THE NEW DOMINION.

The Dissatisfaction in Nova Scotia. A gentleman residing in Washington has received a letter from a friend in Nova Scotia,

A gentleman residing in Washington has received a letter from a friend in Nova Scotia, giving an account of the popular feeling in regard to confederation with the Dominion and annexation to the United States. The writer is represented as a man of calm judg-ment and scrupulous veracity: Musquidaboir, Aug. 3, 1869.—, * * You adverted to the accounts in the papers of the dissatisfaction of the people of Nova Scotia and the other scaboard, provinces with the confederation, and their desire to join the United States; and infimated a wish to know if it were true. I will reply that, from all I can learn from the public and private expres-sions of the opinion of the people of Nova Scotia, their dissatisfaction with the confede-ration is both general and intense. In proof of this I need only point to the proceed-ings, and return of the last general election, when the party war-ories were "Con-federation" and "Anti-Confederation," and it will be seen that there were 19 mem-bers returned to the Legislature of Halifax. Out of the 38 members returned to the Pro-vincial Legislature, only two were in favor of confederation; and one of these was subse-quently tried, condemned and unseated on a charge of bribery and corruption. And out of the 19 returned to Ottawa only one was for confederation, and he too, with a small ma-jority, is under protest for bribery and corrup-tion. So you will see that of the 57 members elected to the Dominion Parliament and Jocal Legislature, only two were avowedly elected to the Dominion Parliance avowedly Legislature, only two were avowedly favor of confederation; and the Confederate in favor of that 100 that too when the Confederate party had the advantage of the patronizing influence of the colonial secretary and the influence of the colonial secretary and the lieutenant governor, with the power of be-stowing posts, offices and emoluments. Even the Popish Archbishop of Halifax exerted his influence by commanding his people to follow his example by voting for the confederation. Yet all these influences, and all the unfair pressure brought to bear upon the subject failed to overcome the intense hostility of the majority of the people. Nor is it as some failed to overcome the infense hostility of the majority of the people. Nor is it as some of the partisans of confederation have said, that the people are dragged along and excited by their representatives; for, previous to the passing of the confederation act, or the last general election, as soon as the people be-came alive to the importance of the measure, public meetings were held and resolutions nassed in every county of the Province, and came alive to the importance of the measure, public meetings were held and resolutions passed in every county of the Province, and petitions numerously signed were sent in praying the Assembly not to adopt the scheme without consulting the people at the polls. One hundred and eighty-three of these petitions were presented to the House in one session (1865), and only one petition in its fa-vor. Yet this unconstitutional act was passed. against the well understood wises of the people sent respectful but impetitions to the Throne, aided by delegations of their most influential representatives, praying for its repeal, or even an inquiry into the nature or extent of their grievances, but all this was obstinately denied them. This conduct on the part of the British Government has sapped the foundation of that love and loyalty to the Crown for which Nova Scotia has been hitherto so -remarkable. As respects the subject of annexation, I will merely observe that I have seen Robert J. Walker's address, and think that his states-manlike views and manly sympathy will meet manlike views and manly sympathy will meet with much favor in Nova Scotia.
