THE CONTESTED ELECTION CASE

Common Pleas—Judges Allison, Ludlow, Peirce and Brewster.—The argument in the contested election case was resumed this morning at $\frac{9}{2}$ o'clock. Mr. Sellers, for the respondenter continued his address, He urged that under the Constitution, which declares that "elections shall be free and equal," polls should be excluded if the Court was convinced that there was an organized attempt to prevent the free exercise of the franchise. This would apply to the second and tenth divisions of the First Ward, and the tenth divisions of the Nineteenth Ward. These divisions were excluded in the legislative investigation, and while this might not have the force of a decision of a court, it was valuable inasmuch as there was no political reason why the committee of the Legislawas valuable instituted as the two as a post-cal reason why the committee of the Legisla-ture should have thus excluded the polls. Testimony was referred to in regard to the presence of a large crowd of Baltimoreans in the First Ward, and the fact that voters were driven away from the polls, and in the second division of the First Ward the Democrats were driven from the polls. In regard to the testimony on both sides, Mr. Sellers referred to the fact that the witnesses for the conto the later that the present instance were the same witnesses who have been called for the past four-or five years, and have some po-litical position under the Republicans, while the witnesses on the other side are taken from the body of the people. In the Tenth division of the Ninteenth Ward there was disorder all day, and Democrats were affaid to vote. The vote in November was 105, but in October it was only 23. In the second division of the First Ward the In the second division of the First Ward the majority against the respondents was: Against Mr. Sheppard, 97; Fletcher, 95; Fox, 96; Melloy, 105; Getz, 92; Barger, 99; Weaver, 97. In the tenth division of the First Ward the majority against the respondents was as follows: Sheppard, 109; Fletcher, 109; Fox, 103; Melloy, 112; Getz, 115; Barger, 113; Weaver, 117. In the tenth division of the Nineteenth Ward the majority against the respondents was as follows: Sheppard, 173; Fletcher, 175; Fox, 168; Melloy, 174; Getz, 176; Barger, 172; Weaver, 123. If these polls are excluded the corrected count of majorities would be: Mayor, 2,293; Controller, 1,200; would be: Mayor, 2,293; Controller, 1,200; District Attorney, 1,937; Commissioner, 1,448; Solicitor, 1,364; Prothonetary, 1,107; Receiver, 787.

The contestants claim to overcome thes majorities, and this can only be done:

First—By excluding divisions, giving majorities to Democrats where the election was not free.

Second—By excluding divisions where any class of electors were designedly excluded.

Third—By showing individual illegal votes polled for Democrats, to an extent to show that they did not receive a majority of the legal votes polled as is recorded in their certificates of election.

cates of election.

If the first two fall, the third only can apply. Mr. Sellers then proceeded to discuss the evidence of the contestants as applicable to their charges of fraud, contending that there was no testimony showing that a "class" of voters was excluded at any of the polls referred to. In the fourth division of the Twenty-fifth Ward, where it is alleged that officers vouched for voters without being sworn, it was shown that by common consent between the Republicans and Democrats in side, the oath of the officers in the morning should be considered to cover these cases, and at the close of the polls the Republican and at the close of the polls the Republican officer inside stated that he never saw a more fair election. fair election.

Mr. Sellers at length reviewed the testimony applicable to the divisions attacked by the contestant, urging that there was no evidence that the election officers had excluded a class of voters. Upon the question of the right class of voters. Upon the question of the right of election officers to act as vouchers, he read the oath of officers, contending that a voucher must be a taxable resident, and as an election officer must be a resident, he is, by the operation of law, made the best voucher.

Mr. Sellers next took up the evidence referring to individual illegal votes. In the sixth division of the Seventeenth Ward the contestant set to throw out the first hour because ants ask to throw out the first hour because the Republican Inspector was absent. There were 76 votes polled, and of these the rewere 76 votes polled, and of these the respondents produced 70 of the electors, and showed that the election was fairly conducted. If it was fairly conducted in the absence of the Republicans, it is not a violent presumption to suppose that it was equally fair when done in their presence.

Mr. Sellers, in reviewing the testimony in regard to individual frauds, went over the vote in each of the divisions attacked, and deducted from the returned vote the numbers of illegal votes admitted by the contestants as personations or unassessed voters.

THE FIRE IN RICHMOND.

A Large Number of Buildings Destroyed by an Incendiary—Loss Nearly 8200,-000. [From the Richmond State Journal, Sept. 7.]

Last night the torch of the incendiary was applied with terrible effect to one of the central business squares, and a conflagration lighted, which, before the flames could be checked, laid in ashes a large lumber-yard, destroyed several fine storehouses, and inflicted a loss upon the owners of the property and the insurance companies of between $100.000 and $200.000. This tire was discovered $100,000 and $200,000. This fire was discovered by Private Watchman Meredith, about 9.15 o'clock P. M., when he saw the flames suddenly burst forth from the saw-table of the box

The flames were confined to the southeast quarter of the square bounded by Cary and Fifteenth streets, and the intersecting alleys. Fifteenth streets, and the intersecting, alleys...
The houses destroyed on Cary street are:
Wells's box factory, Johnson, Harwood & Estes's office and lumber-yard; Cardwell's agricultural and implement store; Boyle & Gamble's saw factory; Gersdorf's file works; Massie & Harvie's grocery and liquor establishment; Board & Hirsh's grocery store; the office of the Virginia Bone Company on Fifteenth street, and, an unoccupied house owned by Mr. John Enders. These buildings, with the lumber-yard in the rear of the two first, were entirely destroyed, nothing but the blackwere entirely destroyed, nothing but the black-ened walls and burning timbers and heaps of live coals and embers remaining in the morn ing. The surrounding property was considerably scorched by the flames—the windows and woodwork destroyed—and the contents damaged by water.

James H. Cafferty, one of the oldest, and a few years ago one of the most prominent of our American painters, died on Tuesday morning at his residence in New York, of dropsy, in the 51st year of his age. He was well known and popular with the artists of that city, and looked up to with considerable respect for his thorough knowledge of the rules and practices of art. He was the intimate friend of the late Charles L. Elliott, and was one of his earliest associates in Albany. was one of his earliest associates in Albany. Mr. Cafferty was elected a member of the National Academy in 1853. His merits as a portrait painter won for him distinguished recognition; but of late years he has exhibited little more than "still lifes" and game pictures.

The Meeting of the Virginia Legislature

The Meeting of the Virginia Legislature.

[From the Richmond Dispatch, Sept. 7.]

The Legislature, at its first convocation, is limited in its action to the election of its own officers and the passage of the Fifteenth Amendment. That exactly suits the people of Virginia. More than that, we never thought it prudent they should do. We would prefer that they should not even elect their permanent officers. For the mere business of taking a vote on the Fifteenth amendment some of their own members might be appointed temporary members might be appointed temporary officers. It will not be the time for elections or divisious; and after the members have seen and conversed with each other, and con-terred with the State officers, they can quietly at home bestow such reflection on the public interests and the questions relative to the ablest and truest men to subserve them as will insure the best and wisest action upon their return to the capital after the admission of viscoint into the Union Virginia into the Union.

to taxing the income of the Mormon Church. Under a recent decision of Commissioner Delano, the Assessor, Dr. Taggart, required of Brighiam, as trustee of the Church, an income return. He first replied in the following singular manner, to wit: "We, the Government of the United States, have no knowledge of any such person as the Trustee in trust of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, nor of any such organization as the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, If there ever was such an office or such an organization, we, the Government of the United States, have obliterated them out of existence by legal enactment, approved July 1, 1862." Subsequently, he seems to have thought better of it, for he made a sworn return of a few hundred dollars church income. This, for one-tenth of the production and increase of 120,000 people, besides the income from a great deal of miscellaneous church property, real estate, herds and flocks, buildings, &c. The enforcement of the law taxing the church currency uttered by the city ten per cent, has also made a fluttering, and the end is not yet, as Brigham says. Perhaps he will always beat the Government, and perhaps not.—Correspondent Chicago Tribune.

FROM NEW YORK.

New York, Sept. 9.—Theresa Brauning, a little girl of three-and-a-half years, was pushed off a stoop at No. 431 West Thirty-ninth street, on Monday evening, by a lad of eight years, named Louis Ulrich, and died in convulsions on Tuesday evening. The boy Ulrich was consequently arrested and committed to the Tombs, although it is not alleged that he intended to take the life of the child:

PHILADELPHIA, August 27, 1869. MESSES, FARREL, HERBING & Co.
GENTLEMEN: In the year 1856 I unfortunately was in business in the Artisan Building, which was destroyed by fire on the 10th of April. I had then in use what I supposed was a Fire-proof Safe, but upon opening it I found everything was destroyed and fire burning therein.
You will recollect, gentlemen, there was several of your safes in that fire, also several in the fire at Sixth and Commerce streets, the next May, five weeks after-wards, all of which upon being opened proved they were fire proof indeed, for I witnessed the opening of the most of them, and in every case the contents were preserved, while safes of other makers were partially or entirely destroyed. 1 at once concluded to have something that I could depend upon, and purchased one of your safes.

The safe I purchased of you at that time was subjected to a white heat (which was witnessed by several gentle-men that reside in the neighborhood) at the destruction of my Marble Paper factory, 921 Wallace street, on the atternoon and evening of the 24th-inst. After digging the safe from the ruins, and opening it this morning, I was much pleased to find everything, consisting of books, papers, money and silverware, all right. I shall want another of your safes as soon as I can get a place to continue my business in. I could not rest contented with any othermake of safes.

of safes.
