Brocke needs no introduction to American readers, being already favorably known by his admirable edition of the "Life and Letters of Rev. F. W. Kobertson." He is regarded in England as one of the formost preachers of London, and the remarkable discourses in this volume justify his title to a leading rank among the religious teachers of the day. Their freedom and vigor of thought, their reverent and catholic tone, and their striking adaptation to the needs and spirit of the present hour, makes them, like Robertson's Bermons, a most valuable addition to our religious literature. The Twitchell Canard. HARRISHURG, September 15.—On the 3d inst., P. Gray Meek, of the Bellefonte Wutchman, published in his paper a double-leaded article with the astounding canard that George S. Twitchell had been let out of prison, through the connivance of the Governor, he night before he was to have been executed, and that the dead body found in the cell on following morning was not that of Twitchwas taken of the absurd story, bu place. At the time of its publication no nothe Democratic press generally throughout the State having given extension circulation to Meek's assertion, Govcirculation to Meek's assertion, Governor Geary deemed it but just to himself to write to Peter Lyle, the Sheriff of Philadelphia, and to William B. Perkins, the prison-keeper there, both of whom are involved in the sensation, and this morning a letter was received from Col. Lyle denying the whole story as a wicked and absurd fabrication. Mr. Perkins sends an affidavit, sworn to and subway concerned in the matter, to the effect that there is no possible doubt as to the fact of the body being that of Twitchell. The letters are somewhat lengthy, and are a complete refuta-tion of the dirty slander. The Humboldt Celebration. New Haven, September 15.—The Germans celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Humboldt yesterday, with a large procession in the morning, exercises at Miller's Garden in the afternoon, and a dance in the evening. Yale Scientific School was elaborately decorated and when elaborately decorated, and when the procession reached the building it came to a halt, and Professor Lyman made a short address. At the Garden an oration in English was delivered by Professor D. C. Gilman, of Yale, and in German by H. Zeigel, editor of the German Republican. The exercises were generally participated in by the scientific men of the city. Many private residences were decorated.

The New York Money Market.

[From the New York Herald of to-day.]

Tready Sept 14.—Gold was firm until late in the day, when it declined on a report that Secretary Bout, well would be in the city to-morrow and investigate the operations of the gold gambling cliques. The first advance was due to unfavorable reports as to the condition of the markets in London and Paris.

There was a better demand for cash gold, and the rate for carrying fluctuated between 1-32 and 6 per cent, in the interval to Clearing House time. The rate afterward ranged from 7 per cent, for carrying to flat for borrowing. The disbursements of coin incress, to-day amounted to $116.835. The steamer Holsatia to-day took out $20.000 in specie. At the Gold Exchange Bank the gross clearances were $13.557.000 it he gold balances, $1.828.855, and the currency balances, $2.492.610.

The government market was extremely dull, but generally steady at tast might's prices. In the uneasy feeling which spread from the stock market in the afternoon there was a fractional yielding in prices, which shot, on evidence as unlikely and in issues.

Foreign exchange was quiet and dull. Quotations re mained without change.

The money market was moderately active at seven per cent. until after half-past two o'clock, when balances were to be had at six.

The Tribune says editorially: The Tribune says chtorially:
We are credibly informed that certain financiers of our city, in combination with European capitalists have one pired to buy and withdraw from use thirty millions f gold, with intent to compel those who must pay gold the Custom House or elsewhere to buy of them at extest in the prisoner's favor.
"Mr. Ramsden read the document, at the Custom House or elsewhere to buy of them at exorbitant rates.

We call upon the Secretary of the Treasury to take the needful steps to ascertain the facts, and, if there be such a combination, to use the power lodged in his hands as the public good requires. The Treasury has gold to sell—a good pile of it— and it is tho Secretary's duty to sell it when the market is highest. If, then, the conspirators put up the price of gold, let him improve the opportunity to obtain such price for as many millions of that commodity as the market will take. And, to preclude all pretence that he thereby makes money (greenbacks)
'tight.' let him buy bonds as fast as, he sells gold, so as to leave the money market totally unaffected.

Mr. Boutwell can surely ascertain that such conspiracy
'does or does not exist.' Is it does, we submit that his duty. The New York Stock Merket.

The acid of the peach is on Oxalic most indelible substances known. Oxalic acid has no effect on it, heat will not discharge with the control of it; nitrate of silver is less durable. Why cannot this acid be utilized? Either as a lasting ink for law papers or a marking ink for linen, or for printing in colors, it might be valuable. The difficulty of obtaining it is not to be compared with that of procuring citric acid from lemons, or tartaric acid from the lees of wine.

The Last of the Chignons. Adieu to Chignons. The Empress has decreed that high puffs and frizettes shall no longer exist. The long chatelaine braids looped at the back of the head and falling to the shoulders are hereafter the style. There the shoulders are hereafter the style. There is an evident trace of the changes in the Empress's sentiments in these modes of hair dressing and the fashions which follow them. In her brilliant prime she emulated the splendors and frivelities of Marie Antoinette's court and the minauderies of La Vallerie and Pompadour.
