POLITICAL

Republican Rally in Frankford. Upon last Saturday evening, the Republican voters of the Twenty-third Ward assembled in strength, for the purpose of opening the campaign in their vicinity, and awakening the attention of honest and sensible citizens to the importance of the coming election and electing the Republican ticket. A stage had been erected, in order to hold the meeting in the open air, but, owing to the inclemency of the weather, it was adjourned to the Odd Fellows' Hall. The Hall-was crowded to overflowing. The Frankford Brass Band was in attendance, and interspersed the proceedings with excellent music.

with excellent music.

Mr. Wm. Coon called the meeting to order and nominated and nominated

Hon. Edward G. Lee for President.

Mr. Lee then, in a few remarks, spoke of the objects for which they had assembled, and expressed his gratification at the large numbers present. He concluded by introducing the Hon. James Pollock. This gentleman adverted to the great importance of the hour. Republicans must be energetic. Much depended upon the election of the whole Republican ticket. The interests and the welfare of the country demanded its success. He then paid a glowing tribute to the past history of the party, and concluded by exhorting all to never falter in determined effort for carrying the State ticket. He spoke for over an hour. At the close of his remarks he was greeted with warm and enthusiastic cheers.

The next speaker was William Moran, Esq. After referring to the large crowd before him, evidencing that the Twenty-third Ward was awake, he spoke of the faithfulness of the Republican party to the interests of the whole country. Its past history was well known. It had legislated nobly and successfully for the nation when in jeopardy. The nation owed it and its leaders and supporters a deep debt of gratitude. The people should retain its candidates in power. The State and city ticket should and ought to be triumphantly elected. Hon. Edward G. Lee for President.

should and ought to be triumphantly elected He then contrasted the two administrations of Andrew Johnson and General Grant. The former was one of turm oil and confusion. The country was kept in a continued state of alarm country was kept in a continued state of alarm

—whilst the latter had really brought peace and prosperity. There was now a sense of security amongst the people. The public debt had been reduced in an unexampled manner, and the United States securities were known throughout the world as being worthy of honor—they were safe investments. Mr.
Moran showed the faithfulness of the present government employés—the loop-holes for the disappearance of much of Uncle Sam's funds had been stopped up, and honesty was the order in every Department.

He then expatiated upon the duplicity of the Democratic party in reference to the Cuban question, and the Alabama claims. No act of that party upon these matters had exhibited any high order of statesmanship. No de-termined stand had been taken, but all had been left in doubt. He then in powerful and been left in doubt. He then in powerful and argumentative language portrayed the difference in the standing of the two candidates for Governor. Geary had imperilled his life for his country. He had no sympathy for Robels or their sympathizers. He had proven his patriotism, and a grateful people will triumphantly elect him next October. On the other hand, Packer had deserted his country in the hour of dearer. His words his heart was with the of danger. His words, his heart was with the South and her Northern sympathizers. He had no affection for the Union soldier, and he contributed nothing to his support. He had left his native land when civil war threatened left his native land when civil war threatened its very existence, to revel in European cities, hob-nobbing with the rankest secessionists. He had amassed a fortune at the expense of the laboring classes, and through his and his fellow-capitalists had raised the price of coal, one of the great necessities of all classes of the community, so that his already rich coffers should be still more enriched.

Mr. Moran they referred to the change in should be still more enriched.

Mr. Moran then referred to the change in the Democratic ticket. A few leaders had foisted the same upon their party, and against all inquiry as to whom its own members desired as candidates. This was done to aid Asa Packer's election, but the eyes of the people were opened, and they could not be hoodwinked into his support.

After showing the disorders daily occurring in our city under Democratic rulers, he closed by a telling appeal to all present, to redeem the city, grasp the State from any danger which would certainly result from Packer's election, and to work manfully for victory at election, and to work manfully for victory at the polls. He was frequently and enthusiastically cheered during the course of his r marks.

Mr. Moran was followed by Senator Hens zey. He said much of the ground had been gone over, but he contented himself with a brief narration of the acts of a Republican Congress and its devotion to the country's good; it deserved well of the people and he called upon all to work zealously, and all—would-be-well.—He-concluded amidst deafening applause and cheers for the whole Repubcian ticket.

The Philadelphia Democracy. A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune write

Sin: You are entirely too fast in complimenting the Philadelphia Democracy. Is it possible that you have lived this long and not know them better than to suppose a Democrat would resign from a nomination by simply coaxing? No, Sir, much more substantial reasons were offered before we had peace in our Democratic family. The truth is, the same men are candidates now, with one single exception, viz.: S. Gross Fry, the nominee for City Treasurer. City Treasurer.

City Treasurer.

The facts are these: Last week Packer, Mutchler & Co. refused to advance a single dollar until a change was made in the city ticket; and it became necessary for something to be done toward getting Ahern, Stewart & Co. out of the way. A caucus was called and they demanded:

Exact Cash down for all money expended. First—Cash down for all money expended by them in obtaining their nominations.

Second—That they should name their successors.

Third—That in case of success they should have one-half the emoluments of their respective offices; and, finally, that they should have the appointment of the several chief

Mr. S. Gross Fry, the nominee for City Treasurer, declined to join his comrades in this black-mail transaction, and hence his declination came out on Saturday last, five days in advance of the others; and it is due to him to say that he is in every respect a gentleman, and quite as competent as his substitute, Mr. Wm. C. Patterson.

The balance held on until their terms were in a great part accepted, the only abatement being in their expense account, the new nominers allowing them one helf cept down the necs allowing them one-half cash down, the balance to be paid in case the ticket is elected and the other conditions accepted as proposed. So you see that Messrs. Ahern, Stewart & Co. are still the real candidates—they are expected are still the real candidates—they are expected to elect the ticket; are to appoint the clerks, and allow Messrs. John G. Brenner & Co. one-half the office, less expenses, for the ase of their names. I do not believe there is the least chance of the people of Philadelphia indorsing this contract, and feel satisfied Mr. Brenner will have to stick to his butts and screws.

Respectfully yours. Respectfully yours,

Lively Times in Congress in Prospect... Expected Tilt Between Butler and Schenck.

Ben Butler, it is understood, is preparing a speech to be delivered early in the coming session, on the extravagances of the peregrinating committees of Congress. He will, it is said, confine himself especially to the Ways and Mone Committee of which his committee. and Means Committee, of which his com-petitor for the leadership of the House, Gen. Schenck, is chairman. Schenck and some other members of the committee, having heard of Butler's intention, are preparing to answer him. It is said they possess some facts, gathered in the course of their investigations in the East, about Butler's connection with certain manu-facturing institutions, which will not be very creditable to him. Butler is a good fighter, so is Schenck, and a lively time may be expected.

THE EVENT OF THE WEEK .- The Clothing The Event of the Week.—The Clothing Exhibition announced for the coming Thursday will attract more attention than anything else likely to happen in Philadelphia this week. The near approach of cold weather is making our people interested in the matter of Fall Clothing, and a display of new styles and materials such as Wanamaker & Brown propose giving at their great Oak Hall Buildings, is sure to be witnessed by thousands.

Their fate is sad, but more sad yet is the fate of their surviving poor and helpless wives and children. Our duty is plain—we must dry their tears, alleviate their sufferings and provide for their wants. We are not blessed with worldly goods, but our mite is as acceptable as the dolar of the rich. We propose, therefore, in the name of the Junger Münnerchor, to give jointly with the Germania Orchestra, on the afternoon of the 2d of October, at the Musical Fund Hall, a musical matinee, for the benefit

HAVE CORPORATIONS SOULS ?.- The mornng before the disastrous fire at Twelfth and Buttonwood streets, an insurance broker was directed by one of his customers to procure for them some insurance. He made application to the Anthracite Insurance Company of this city (late in the afternoon), and the risk was accepted, no premium was paid, receipt given or policy issued. The transaction was simply a verbal one. That night the parties sustained a loss. The broker, on visiting the Company's office next morning, was directed by them to ascertain the amount of the loss, and that it would be paid. In these days of litigation and hard feeling against insurance lirected by one of his customers to procure litigation and hard feeling against insurance companies it is gratifying to note such in-stances of honesty and fair dealing on the part of a Philadelphia company. BARN BURNED .- A large stone barn, on the Oxford road, about a mile from Frankford, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The wagons were saved but the grain, hay, &c. were destroyed. The property belonged to Alfred Comly. The loss is estimated at $7,000. The building is insurred for $3,000. The grain, &c. was also insured.

CORNER LOUNGERS.—Ten young men were arrested at Tenth and Ogden streets on Saturday evening for corner lounging. They were held to bail by Ald. Massey.

THE LAST DAY.—The Assessors engaged in making the extra assessments will close their abors at seven o'clock this evening. Voters should see that they are assessed before that MALICIOUS MISCHIEF. - Eli Shultz, the MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.— Eli Shultz, the driver of a huckster wagon, ran his team against a passenger railway car, on Ridge avenue, near Willow street, on Saturday evening. One of the car horses was badly hurt, and had to be killed. Shullz was arrested, and after a hearing before Alderman Massey, was held in $1,000 bail on a charge of malicious mischief.

Another Boat-House.—The Washington Barge Club has made arrangements for the erection of a handsome new boat-house, at Fairmount Park. Ground for the new structure will be broken this week.

BIRTH IN A POLICE STATION.- Julia Mc Laughlin, a lodger in the Second District Police Station, gave birth to a male child last

GET ASSESSED.-This is the last day or which the assessors sit for the purpose of making the extra assessments, and every. Re-publican should see that his name is on the FIRE.—A house belonging to Mr. Lodge, and located at Holmesburg, Twenty-third Ward, was partly destroyed by fire on Saturday morning. Loss, $500; no insurance.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.—Daniel Hackett was rrested on Sellers street, Frankford, on Saturday, on the charge of cruelty to animals He is a teamster, and was engaged in hauling a load of stone. It is alleged that he beat his horse in an unmerciful manner. Ald. Stearne fined him, and then held him in $1,000 bail to answer at court.

THE BROOKS SHOOTING CASE.—Mayor Fox has issued a proclamation offering a reward for three individuals who are alleged to have James J. Brooks. The proclamation containing a description of the parties whose arrest is desired will be found in another column.

A SUNDAY FIGHT.—A fight occurred yesterday afternoon, at Echo Park, at Fifth and Westmoreland streets, in the Twenty-fifth Ward. Ludwig Lambrecht, the proprietor, and a special officer employed on the premises, were severely beaten while attempting to quell the disturbance.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING.—George Sullivan, aged nine years, fell into the Schnylkill while playing on a raft at Cherry street wharf, about half-past nine o'clock on Saturday evening. Officer Daniel P. Davier, of the Schuylish. ing. Officer Daniel P. Davier, of the Schuyl kill Harbor Police, jumped into the river an rescued the lad from drowning. The boy're sides on Ninetcenth street, above Arch.

IMPORTANT.—It is highly important that the name of every Republican voter shall be on the assessment list. The extra assessment close at 7 o'clock this evening.

SUPPOSED LARCENY,—George Smith was arrested at Twelfth and Chestnut streets, this morning, with a lot of shirts, coats, pants, &c. in his possession. He was taken before Alderman Bonsall, and was committed for further hearing on suspicion of larceny. Suspicious.—Edward Rannigan was found signature of the second state of the second second in a house in Evangelical street, above Seventh, last evening. As he did not belong there, it is supposed that he intended to commit a robbery. He was committed for a further hearing by Alderman Bonsall.

ATTEND TO IT.—The extra assessments close this evening, at 7 o'clock. All citizens should see that their names are properly upon Assaulting a Policeman.—Fred. Rexratt was arrested at Ogden street and Corinthian avenue, yesterday, by Policeman Bicking, He managed to get possession of the officer's billy, and Bicking got a pretty severe beating with it. Rexrath was taken before Alderman Pancoast, and was held in $800 bail.

GENTLEMEN: In the year 1856 I unfortunately was in business in the Artisan Building, which was dostroyed by fire on the 19th of April. I had then in use what I supposed was a Fire-proof Safe, but upon opening it I found everything was destroyed, and fire burning therein. You will recollect, gentlemen, there was several of your safes in that fire, also several in the fire at Sixth and Commerce streets, the next May, five weeks after wards, all of which upon being opened proved they were fire proof indeed, for I witnessed the opening of the most of them, and in every case the contents were preserved, while safes of other makers were partially or entirely destroyed. I at once concluded to have some-thing that I could depend upon, and purchased one of

The safe I purchased of you at that time was subjected to a white heat (which was witnessed by several gentlemen that reside in the neighborhood) at the destruction of my Marble Paper factory, 221 Wallace street, on the afternoon and evening of the 24th inst. After digging the safe from the ruins, and opening it this morning, I was much pleased to find everything, consisting of books, papers, money and silverware, all right. I shall want another of your safes as soon as I can get a place to continue my business in. I could not rest contented with any other make of safes.
