Anna Limeburner, 1323 Davis street, testified.—Was at a party on Saturday night, and left at 20 minutes past 11 o'clock; two young men and two young ladies were with us; Frank Bradley and Frank Arnholt were in the party; Arnholt was with Anna Davis; Arnholt met Miss Davis at Broad and Poplar and passed up Broad street to the lower side of Girard avenue; we went down Girard avenue on the lower side; Arnholt came to the young man who was with me, James Devlin, and asked him what he struck him for; Devlin and asked him what he struck him for : Devlin ran and Arnholt ran after him with a crowd; don't know who struck Arnholt; the crowd who was with Arnholt all ran after Devlin; don't know of any fight at Broad and Poplar streets; after I got home, my cousin, a young lady, told me that Devlin had struck Arnholt in the nose at Broad and Poplar streets; never saw the Ronnicks

Anna Davis,1323 Davis street, testified—Wa Anna Davis, 1323 Davis street, testined—Was coming from a party at Seventeenth and Poplar streets; Frank Bradley was with us; Mr. Arnholt was along too; Bradley touched Devlin's hat; Mr. Devlin went back and hit Mr. Arnholt on the nose; this was at Broad and Poplar streets; Arnholt went across Broad street to wash his nose; then he met a crowd of his friends; they came after Mr. Devlin, and ran along Broad street to Girard avenue; that is all I saw of them; didn't know any of that is all I saw of them; didn't know any of them; saw Mr. Devlin afterwards; he got struck on the head; we girls went over the hill to Ontario street, and saw Devlin after-wards; Devlin hit Arnholt with his fist; did not hear that Arnholt was hurt until I heard yesterday that he was dead; never saw the Ronnicks before.

Mary Hallman, 1334 Tyler street, testified—
Was coming from Seventeenth and Poplar st.
on Saturday night; at Broad and Poplar street
Geo. Griner said: "That fellow is following us," pointing to Arnholt, "he has attacked us several times." while going up Broad street I eral times;" while going up Broad street I heard Annie Davis exclaim: "It is a shame!" looked behind and saw Arnholt's nose bleeding; we walked up Broad street to Girard avenue, and to Ontario street; Arnholt came up to Devlin and said: "You struck me and wanted to fight," Devlin ran, and Arnholt ran after him; we stood on the pavement, below Ontario street; Annie Davis came down Girard avenue and told us to come across; after going across we met two policemen; we said, "Go down there, they are fighting;" we ran across the lot to Dayis street; we went ran across the lot to Davis street; we went down Davis to Thirteenth street; at the corner of Thirteenth and Davis we met Mr. Devlin; his head was cut; I left then, and went to the corner of Thirteenth and Girard avenue; met Ed. Hinkle there; went to Girard avenue and Eleventh; as I got there George Briner came running up and wanted to whip Hinkle; I told him not to do it, that he was not one of the party; Hinkle left, and Briner took me home; as I was going home he told me that he ran

I was going home he told me that he ran into the confectionery snop, and the fellows after him; that he picked up a fork which was lying on the table, and that the lady took it away from him; and then he said that he ran down and got a police, and then fired a brick; he did not mention who he had a fight with; Devlin did not say who struck him; I did not ask Briner whom he threw the brick at; Bradley was with us; don'trecognize the other prisoners; first heard yesterday morning that Arnholt was hurt.

Dr. E. B. Shapleigh testified—Made a post mortim examination of the body of Francis C. Arnholt; discovered a lacerated wound, crescentic in shape, two and a half inches long, three inches above the left ear, made by some blunt instrument; also a slight contusion on the upper part of the forehead, over the right bone, one and a half inches long, directly under and corresponding to the wound; another fracture at right angles to this ran down through the parietal and temporal bones, four inches long; another fracture branched off from the latter, extending forward for two and a half inches; beneath the fractured skull there was a large clot of blood, outside the dura mater, pressing upon the left hemisphere of the brain; the deceased came to his death from compression of the brain, a result of violence.

The case was then adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock

CHARGED WITH LARCENY. Before Alder

CHARGED WITH LARCENY Before Alderman Kerr, yesterday afternoon, Mary Harold, alias Jennie Brown, was charged with larceny. The evidence showed that she had been engaged as a child's nurse in the house of Mrs. Mary Maher, No. 3841 Bridge street, and carried off a breast-pin, pair of bracelets, and other articles belonging to Mrs. M. She was committed in default of $1,000 bail.

The defendant came to the city last spring, and was employed in the workroom of a cloak manufactory on Chestnut street. She was subsequently employed as a seamstress in the family of one of the firm. She left, and was given a recommendation, which she used in obtaining situations in several families. In each, it is alleged, she committed robberies. From the cloak factory she carried off and sold silks, and while employed as a seamstress she stole several dresses belonging to the lady of the house. of the house.

A FIGHTING DRIVER.—William Walls is the driver of an ice cart. Yesterday at Thompson and Leithgow streets he stopped his cart in such a manner as to make the street almost impassable. An ash cart came along. The wheels of the two carts got hooked together. Walls jumped off and commenced beating the ash man with a pair of ice tongs. A citizen interfered and was also assaulted. A policeman with big whiskers stepped up. Walls seized the whiskers and pulled them nearly all out. In the meantime a boy named Michael Meaning, who was with Walls, pitched in and whipped another citizen who was endeavoring to stop the affray. Walls and Meaning were arrested and fray. Walls and Meaning were arrested and had a hearing before Alderman Eggleton. Walls was held in $1,000 bail each on three charges of assault and battery, and Meaning was held in $500 bail.

ROBBERY AND ARREST.—This morning, about 2 o'clock, the dwelling of Edward Leatherby, No. 24 Parson place, was entered and robbed of a clock and a coat. Subsequently Officer Denard of the Delaware Harbor Police, arrested James McFarland upon the charge of having committed the robbery. The stolen clock and coat were recovered. The prisoner will have a hearing at the Central Station this afternoon.

CUT HIS WIFE.—A German, named George Brown, residing at No. 537 North Front street, who is charged with having cut-his wife with a knife during a wrangle on Tuesday night, has been held for trial by Alderman Toland. CRICKET.—The fall match between the first elevens of the Germantown and Philadelphia Clubs will be commenced on Friday, Sept. 24, at 2.30 P.M. Game to be continued on Saturday at 9.30 A. M.

Crowds of people have passed through the immense Oak Hall Buildings to-day, and the exhibition or, as more popularly known, the "Opening of Fall and Winter Goods," was a great suggest. It will be continued through great success. It will be continued through the evening, and most likely to-morrow.

MURDER IN BROOKLYN. An Insane Woman Killing her Little Son and Attempting to Kill her Daughter... The Boy's Struggle for Life...The Arrest of the Maniac.

In a tenement house in the rear of 114 War-In a tenement house in the rear of 114 Warren street, near Hoyt, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon, Edward Halpine, aged eight years, was killed by his insane mother, Catharine Halpine. The first information of the murder was communicated to the police by a daughter of the woman. Acting Sergeant Govers, re-pairing to the place, found the body of the boy lying on the floor in one of the rooms on the second story. At about three o'clock, the young woman, while in an adjoining room, heard her brother crying for help, and, on going to his apartment, found the door barricaded. She forced the door, and was met by her mother, who was armed with a bloody hatchet. Mrs. Halpine attacked her daughter with the wearen and might have killed her lying on the floor in one of the rooms, on with the weapon, and might have killed her had she not fied from the house, and reported had she not fied from the house, and reported to the police what had occurred.

Mrs. Halpine was alone found in her own room, and on being questioned, said that two strange women had entered her house and killed her son. She was quiet in her manner. The hatchet, which had been carefully washed, was found in the room. The boy's head had been frightfully cut with this weapon, the brains being spattered all about the floor. It brains being spattered all about the floor. It was evident that he had struggled with his mother, as different articles of furniture wer scattered about the apartment, and pools of blood had formed in several places. Mrs. Halpine, who is forty-five years of age, was ar-rested by Sergeant Govers, while the body of her son was laid out in the house to await the arrival of the Coroner .- Sun.

OFFICIAL CORRUPTIONS IN NEW OR. LEANS.

The Case of Collector Steadman and Com-ments Thereon.

From the Albany Evening Journal (Republican), Sep-tember 21.

The wague and unsubstantial rumors of official corruption, involving high parties at New Orleans, have taken definite form. Gen. Steadman, Collector of that port under John-Steadman, Collector of that port under Johnson, is charged with defalcations aggregating the enormous sum of $600,000. Though previous hints have been given that the General was not entirely scrupulous and upright, this allegation of tremendous and wholesale villainy will be received by the nublic with surprise and pain. ceived by the public with surprise and pain. The case affords material for reflection upon the close alliance between perfidy to principle in the abstract and personal iniquity. Gen. Steadman made a brilliant record during the war. At its close few men stood higher or had fairer prospects of elevation. In an evil hour he was induced by his former Democratic associates to unite in their scheme for sustaining the profiling Library associates. ing the peridious Johnson against Congress.

The President sent him to New Orleans as a spy upon Sheridan. For his despicable service in that capacity he was appointed to succeed the hero of the Shenandoah in command of the department and prefined the vice in that capacity he was appointed to succeed the hero of the Shenandoah in command of the department and proffered the Secretaryship of War. Neither of these suited him, for a reason now apparent—they were not sufficiently profitable. He was then made Collector, and it is now said that during his brief career in that place he plundered the people of more than half a million dollars! What a record to supplement the glorious achievements he had made as a soldier! Probably the robberies of Steadman were perpetrated in co-operation with the whisky ring. His associations in that direction were notoriously bad while he was in office. At last accounts this desperate adventurer was seeking to get off for Cubain command of a filibustering expedition. It would be well for him could he meet death upon some battle-field in a manly effort to secure liberty for an oppressed people. pressed people.
