CONQUERING A NEW COUNTRY.

The Northwest.—Farming Life—How the Emigrants Arrive.

"Carleton" writes from the wilds of Northwest Minnesota to the Boston Journal:

"Wooded prairies, oak openings, hills and vales, watered by lakes and poinds—such is the character of the region 'lying south of Otter Tall, where we are traveling to-day. Over all this section the water is as pure as that gurgling from the hill-sides of New Heat of this region commands the highest market price, inasmuch as it is heavier is heavier and privilege, is not very fond of kings, lighters, and privilege, is not very fond of kings, lighters, and self-the mission of Chicago unix it with the grains of Chicago unix it with the grains of Chicago unix it with the grains of those States, and self-the misture for june. "The whe "Minnesota is one of the best watered States of the Union. The thousands of lakes and ponds dotting its surface are fed by neverfailing springs. This one feature adds immeasurably to its value. In Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska, the farmer is compelled to pump water for his stock, and in those States we see wind-mills erected for pumping; but here the ponds are so numerous, and the springs so abundant, that far less pumping will be required than in the other prairie States of the Illinois.

FATHER PROUT AND "THE BELLS OF SHANDON."

The author of the very beautiful poem "The Bells of Shandon," who was better known as "Father Prout" than by his real name Francis Mahony, was a most remarkable character. In him were combined the scholar, poet, wit, the "madcap priest," author, newspaper writer, and the rollicking, hard-drinking Irishman. SARATOGA WATER.

SPRINGS. SARATOGA, NEW YORK. The analysis proves that the waters of the Saratoga Star Springs have a much larger amount of solid substance, richer in medical ingredients than any other spring in Saratoga, and shows what the taste indicates—namely, that it is the STRONGEST WATER. It also demonstrates that the STAR WATER contains 100 Cubic Inches More of Gas in a gallon than any other spring. It is this extra amount of gas that imparts to this water its peculiarly sparkling appearance, and readers it so very agreeable to the taste. It also tends to preserve the delicious flavor of the water when bottled, and causes it to uncork with an offervessence almost cound to Chammagne.
