down to the sidewalk in front of the bank, saw the gas light burning as usual, and, seeing broken glass on the sidewalk, supposed some boy had thrown stones at and broken the glass of the lamp. Mr. Parker then returned to his bed. This was between three and four o'clock in the morning.

The safe open, the enterprising gentlemen proceeded to help themselves to a little over $32,000, cash, the property of the bank; $17,000 Danbury and Norwalk Railroad bonds, $9,150 Burlington and Mississippi Railroad bonds; and a PAILURES ANNOUNCED.

J. Mott & Co: were announced in the Stock Board as having failed. From Washington.

A THUNDER CLAPP TO THE PRINTERS' UNION Congressional Printer Clapp has determined, at last, to control affairs in the Government Printing Office, without regard to the Typographical Union, and has thrown a fire-brand among the printers employed there, by issuing several orders defining his position, and announcing rules which the printers must adhere to or leave the office. At the last meeting of the Printers Union a resolution was offered that all copy-holders at the Government printing office shall be printers. A member of the Union, yesterday, addressed Mr. Clapp a note, asking for an interview, for the purpose of ascertaining his views about the resolution. Mr. Clapp replies, curtly, and to the point, as follows. It is thought probable that the Union will order the printers to strike, but it is doubtful whether the order will be obeyed.

Mr. F.H.Gerviar—Sin: I can say in brief that I have yielded my last submission to the behests of any combination of men inside or outside of this office relating to its administration. Holding myself responsible only to the Government for my stewardship, I cannot respect any attempt, outside the Congress of the United States, to interfere with me.

QUEENSTOWN, October 2.—Arrived, steamship City of Baltimore, from New York. came rather early in the morning and made a day of it. A good dinner could be procured for fifty cents, and there was no lack of restaurant-stands at which one's hunger might be appeased at a less rate. There can be no complaint, indeed, of extortion in this respect. There was a general complaint, however, of the charge of fifty cents for single admissions, being larger than before, and numerous reports of a reduction;

The fair was evidently at its height on Thursday, when the largest crowd was present.

By noon to-day the fair commenced breaking up, exhibitors closing up their stands, and either selling or sending away, their articles, and by half-past five o'clock nearly all the tables were bare.

The Society now claim twice the number of entries and allowed from every section of the country, inside and outside the State.

It is quite probable that the receipts will more than cover the expenses, the management being economical.

There is one fact to be regretted, and that is that when reporters are granted the usual courtesy of free tickets, they are expected to say nothing in criticism of the fair or its management that is not entirely favorable to the society and calculated to bring a large number of twistors. The gold market was fairly active under legitimate purchases from the importing merchants, and the price rose from 130 to 130%, falling later to 130%. The government sold one million gold to-day, but had not made all the deliveries at the closing of the Sub-Treasury this evening.

The government bond market was again active and successed this feeling the 'or's fed the way to list; Subsequently the foreign bankers were free sellers on foreign account, the relations of the markets here and abroad allowing a marginal profit on the reimportation of some of the issues. Under these sales the market again went of, declining on the whole from a quarter to a half per cent, from the best quotations of the day. Even the public debt statement of a reduction of $7,467,429 for September failed to revive the market.

Outside business circles are as yet without any bad effects of the crisis, and the fact becomes daily more apparent that the panic is but a repetition of that of 185t, which affected the stock market only, and did not, like in 185f, extend to the commercial community. Some curious trubs are defucible from the extens of the panic wold have ended in a grand crash of all interests.
