Saturday, October 23, 1869 THE TENNESSEE SENATORSHIP.

Mr. Andrew Johnson, in his most recent exploit of "swinging around the circle," has had a bad fall. The Legislature of Tennessee have chosen a person to represent the State in the United States Senate, and his name is Henry Cooper. He is said to be a good lawyer and and more respectable Senator than Andrew ority of them should have resisted all Johnson's schemes, and, uniting on another man greatly his superior, should have given the inelent aspirant a quietus for a time at least. Independent of Johnson's personal and potical character, and without reference to his man, by its action yesterday.

Besides he is hoping that Senator Brownlow is the finest public pleasure ground in the COLTON DENTAL ASSOCIATION ORI may die and create a new vacancy, which he world. will strive to fill. Or he may hope to be elected The probability of an outbreak in Paris on to succeed him five years hence. But by that Tuesday next becomes more imminent. We allude to this case only to show the power, the insolence, the desperation of the murderous clique of which the prisoners that the absence of Kelly's evidence or the cunning by which McLaughlin was metamorphósed into a witness for the defence, and inuced to patch up a case for the learned and crupulous counsel, will hurt the cause of the Commonwealth in the slightest degree if the ury is composed of honest men, as we believe it to be. This rascality is so bare-faced and impudent that its motive must be apparent to the dullest comprehension. If the prisoners were not guilty there would be no necessity for this villainy. Innocent men do not require perpetration of crime to secure a just verdict. The action of the Whisky Ring is as plain an acknowledgment of guilt, as if the accused had made confessions, and so the jury ought to regard it.

The popular opinion of this whole trial i made more decided by some of the behaviour of the counsel for the defence. Mr. Mann's allusion yesterday to Detective Brooks sufferings from his wound, was coarse and brutal to have a good record as a loyal citizen. No and in exact keeping with the whole conduct matter what he is, he cannot but make a better of this trial.
