Negroes in the Cuban Army.

A private letter from Gen. Jordau, lately received, speaks in the highest terms of the bravery, the docility, and the fidelity of the negroes in his corps of the Cuban army. The white soldiers serve with them without protest, and so slight is the prejudice of color, that in many cases the non-commissioned officers are selected from among the blacks, and their officers are obeyed by white as well as black soldiers. In some cases continuous control of Philadelphia, doth hereby, in the King's name, strictly charge and command all persons trading and negotiating within the Fair to keep the King's peace, and that no person presume to set up any booth or stall for the vending of strong liquors within this Fair—that none carry any unlawful weapon, or gallop or strain horses within the built part of the city. And if any person be hurt by another, let him repair to the Mayor here present. God save the King!" white soldiers serve with them without pro-test, and so slight is the prejudice of color, that in many cases the non-commissioned officers are selected from among the blacks, and their officers are obeyed by white as missions are held by mulattees, who meet with no trouble in governing their white subordi-nates. Gen. Jordan says the negro troops fight as well as their lighter comrades, and sometimes better. His escort are all blacks, sometimes better. His escort are all blacks, and are commanded by a negro sergeant, a splendid soldier.

In regard to the wants of the Cuban army, Gen. Jordan expresses himself plainly. There was a time when he saw no necessity for taking American soldiers to Cuba to fight her battles. He now thinks that 2,500 or 3,000 good men, who have seen service in our armies, are essential to the success of the insurgents. They are needed as a nucleus around which to organize corps of men, to be rendered efficient by good example. With this number of the surgence of the surgence

October did not de herself muci credit in the way of autumnal weather. She came in with the roaring, hurly-burly of the great freshet, and indulged most of her days with a sume, cheeress sort of sky, cold winds, and even nipping frosts, most unbecoming that favorite month of the year. Once or twice, she smiled out with real good humor, just to show what she could do, and that she knew what was expected of her; but for the most part she was a very Jaradyce of months, with "the wind in the east" in the most unpleasant fashion.
