ME CREAN OF THE NEW BOOKS. Argum ent Against Female Suffrage. We extract a specimen passage from "Woman, her Rights, Wrongs, Privileges and Responsibilities," by L. P. Brockett, M. D., one of the contributors to Appleton's Encyclopedia; published by Stebbins, Hartford, abundantly and sensationally illustrated in steel and wood, and sold by agents only : The objections to woman-suffrage on social grounds are numerous and important. If women are to vote, they must either be conversant with the political questions of the day, and able to form an intelligent opinion on them, or they must vote under the leading and guidance of others, and thus become the dupes and prey of selfish and unprincipled politicians. In the one case they will become partisans zealous, earnest, indefatigable in their way, but, alas, too forgetful of that womanly modesty and grace which is the highest ornament of hood. If now it should happen, as it often would, that the wife should, from con-

husband those of another, and both were posi-tive and decided in their opinions, what bick-By LEE & SHEPARD. For sale by J. B. Lipwould be engendered in the family circle! How unseemly would be such contests in the presence of their children, if they had any! And, how often would it break up the peace of families, and lead to separation, or, at least, to permanent estrangement! Again, as Dr. Bushnell has well observed : "The struggle (of a great political campaign) is a trial even for en. that sometimes quite overturns their self-mastery, and totally breaks down the strength both of their principles and their bodies. And yet if we enlarge the contest, as we must when we bring in women, it will be manifold more intense than now. Hitherto, it has been an advantage to be going into battle in our suffrages with a full half, and that the best half suffrages with a full half, and that the best half morally, as a corps of reserve; left behind, so By HARPER & BROS. Sold by Turner Bros that we may fall back on this quiet element or base several times a day, and always at night, and recompose our courage and settle again our mental and moral equilibrium. Now it is proposed that we have no reserve any longer, that we go into our conflicts taking our women with us, all to be kept heating in the same fire for weeks or months together, without interspacings of rest or cooling times of composure. We are to be as much more excited, of course, as we can be, and the women are, of course, to be as much more excited than we, as they are more excitable. Let no man imagine-as we see to be the way of many-that our women are going into these encounters to be just as quiet or as little nerved as now, when they stay in the rear unexcited, By GEORGE A. LEAVITT. Sold by J. I letting us come back to them often and recover our reason. They are (to be) no more mitigators now, but instigators rather, sweltering in the same fierce heats and commotions, only more fiercely stirred than we. What we take by first-hand impulse, they take by exaggeraion. And, accordingly, it will be seen that
