The following-named Rabbia At a session of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, which has just closed, a resolution was unanimously adopted to occupy Japan as a missionary field. It is predicted that this movement will be followed by the whole Christian world with lively interest.

In Great Britain, with a population of 24, 363,000, there are 36,200 ministers and 34,700 ehurches and chapels, or one for every 700 persons, and a minister to every 672 inhabitants. In this country, in 1860, there were 54,009 churches, being an average of one church for every 582 persons of all ages.

By request of the members of the congregation of the following resolutions were adopted on Thursday, after a long discussion:

By request of the members of the congregation and others, Rev. D. A. Cunningham, pastor of the Spring Garden Presbyterian Church, Eleventh street, above Spring Garden, will repeat a sermon, delivered a few weeks ago to young men, to-morrow evening at 71 o'clock. Young men and others cordially invited.

The Methodist Episcopal Historical So-served in our midst, yet since that language

The Methodist Episcopal Historical Society, in the prosecution of its work, has secured a room in the Methodist Building, No. 1018 Arch street, where it has collected reminiscences and autobiographies of some of the older ministers, historical sketches, rare books throwing light into the dim past, engravings of early preachers, autographs of such men as Wesley and Clarke, and a number of interesting curiosties. It is proposed to have a history of each quarterly conference written, to be placed in the archives of the society, which will form a complete history of every church within the bounds of the conferences.

Served in our midst, yet since that language has become actually unintelligible to the larger majority of our co-religionists, it must yield on this very account in our prayer, which, if not understood, is a soulless body, to the vernacular as far as the existing circumstances render it advisable.

The following proceedings also transpired: Propositions three, four and five were adopted without debate, and read as follows:

The attorney of the Methodist Book Concern, E. P. Fancher, Esq., a prominent lawyer of New York city, has published a statement of the resources of the establishment. He says: "The Concern is not involved in any improper liability of any nature, does not owe a dollar contracted by fraud, is stronger to-day than ever it was in pecuniary resources and property, and its assets exceed in value, in the judgment of those acquainted therewith, more than a million of dollars above all liabilities, and more than any exhibit of them which has ever been made. Its prosperity and prospects as a publishing house of religious literature are unrivalled. Its management has ever been both capable and honest; and nothing whatever has occurred to cripple its growing prosperity."

Inferiourit resolution in the into in the field that, heretofore, a woman who was married to a man who is proved to have a wife living, had to be divorced by the rabbinical authorities before she could marry again.

5. The priestly marriage laws, which presuppose the higher sanctity of the Aaronites, have lost, since the destruction of the Temple and the extinction of the sacrificial worship, all validity, and are no longer to be respected. The next question was the validity of divorce by the civil authorities and the position of religion in regard to it. The following is the resolution passed:

"Divorce is, on Mosaical and ribbinical grounds, only a civil act, and never was a religious function. It therefore must be recognized solely as an act emanating from a judicial authority of the State. The so-called Ritual Gat (Jewish letters of divorce) is, therefore, in all cases declared in effectual."

Third hair is thick-encd, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed.

But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.
