HOW A BAMILY WAS ANNOYED BY AN IN NAME RELATIVE.—About one month ago, a very neatly-dressed and pleasant-spoken lady entered Alderman White's office and asked for the constable. She said that she desired to have served upon one of her tenants a legal three months notice to retire from a house on West Chestnut street. The building is a splen did structure and cost a large amount of money. The lady said it was built by her husband, who had died several months since, and as the "tenants did not, or could not, or would not pay the rent, the only resource was to disposess them.

"That is the proper way, Madam," responded the magistrate, as he commenced filling up the notices, two in number.

The lady paid the usual fee, and after a few remarks upon the necessity of enforcing the law, departed.

The constable, proceeding to the house in question found it to correspond in appearance with that given by the lady at the office. He rang the bell, and a servant answering the summons, showed him to the reception parlor, where he preside the arrival of the tennat where he awaited the arrival of the tenant.
The house was furnished insplended and costly style. Oil paintings and fine engravings, valuable works of art, embellished the walls. The floor was covered with velvet carpeting and furniture to match. The constable began to stake that he certainly was in the wrong the, and therefore he would have to appoint the subject of his visit in as polite and stake a style as need he

THE NEW PUBLIC BUILDINGS .- A special ineeting of the Public Building Commission was held this morning in their rooms in the new court-house, Wm. S. Stokley, Esq., President, in the chair. The object of the meeting was the consideration of a communication from the City Controller, asking for estimates of appropriations required, the amount of revenue expected, &c., for the year 1869.

Mr. Spering moved that the City Controller be notified that the Building Commission will require $300,000 next year.

require $300,000 next year.
The following was read as a proposed reply to the note of the City Controller:
"In compliance with your note of request dated October 15th, 1869, I would state that the amount required to carry on the business of the Commission for the year 1870 will be as follows, to-wit:
"Item 1. The first annual instalment toward the erection of public buildings, $300,000, as per ordinance approved Dec. 31, 1868.

"I would further state that we have no source from which any revenue may be derived. "There will be no deficiency in the appropriation for the year 1869." The ordinance providing for the levying of a special tax of 1-10 of one per cent., or such other tax, which will yield at least $300,000, was then read read.

Mr. Robbins desired to know what 1-10 of one per cent. will yield.

Mr. Spering replied that it would raise about

Mr. Robbins then moved to amend the motion of Mr. Spering by inserting the full amount of the tax (about $460,000).

Mr. Walter said that not more than $300,000 will be expended next year. Less money will then be required than in any future year. The work which will then be executed will not be costly. The contracts will cover a great deal of work at little expense. The second year the Commission will need all the money it can After some discussion the amendment of

Mr. Robbins was agreed to, and the resolu tion was adonted. Mr. Walter said that the Committee on Mr. Walter said that the Committee on Plans and Architecture thought that they would like to have a model of the proposed buildings, and have agreed to employ a person to make a model at an expense not to exceed $750. They had found a person who had agreed to make a model for $500. The committee think, however, that they have not the right to make such an engagement without authority of the Commission. The plans are being drawn as rapidly as possible. Models will convey a better idea than drawings, and the Committee think it unwise to space anything in order to show the people what the buildings are to be. Mr. Walter then offered a resolution authorizing the Committee on Plans and Architecture to obtain a model of the proposed buildings, provided the expense does not exceed $750.

Mr. Billington thought that a model should not be made until the plans are completed.

Mr. Robbins remarked that the Committee considered a model essential in order that the Commission will be enabled to vote intelligently on the subject. Mr. Gillingham thought that no more could e understood from a model than can from plans on paper or written descriptions of the

Mr. Walter said that the plans will be completed by the middle of December. After the wans are approved by the Commission a punched will be of no use. The first and second stories are completed, and when the plans are done the model will be done. The object of the model is to let the Commission know become in the condition of the buildings are to the FIRE IN THE FIFTEENTH WARD.—This FIRE IN THE FIFTEENTH WARD.—This morning, about half-past eight o'clock, a fire broke out in the planing-mill of Campbell & Atkinson, on Twenty-fourth street, above Green. The building was of brick, two stories in height. The flames originated in the basement, near the boiler, and spread rapidly through the combustible material in the building, and the structure was entirely destroyed. ing, and the structure was entirely destroyed. The loss of the occupants is estimated at $3,900 on machinery. The stock is not insured, but the machinery is insured for $1,250 in the Mechanics' Insurance Company, and $1,250 in the Farmers' Mutual, of York, Pa.

Both buildings are owned by Christopher Stiver. The front building was rented by George Cook, who relet it to Campbell & Atkinson. This building was valued at $5,000, and Mr. Cook had it insured for $1,500. THE FASHIONABLE THRONG.—The weather being rather pleasant on Saturday, thousands of ladies, old and young, thronged the retail business thoroughtares of our city to glance at examine and, perchance, to purchase the at, examine, and, perchance, to purchase the latest styles of fall and winter goods. The competition among the storekeepers is waged with untiring energy. With tasteful, and, in some cases, gorgeous displays, and a proper arrangement in regard to a judicious use of a case of the ca at, examine, and, printers' ink, the excitement among those who never fail to "go shopping" on clear days is continuous, if not really of a chronic character. In fact, sometimes the side-walks become impassable, because of the crowds of shoppers, and gentlemen whose business is urgent are compelled to go whose business is urgent are compened to go beyond the curbstone for passage way, or have recourse to less frequented streets. Here and there may be seen detectives, watching and mingling with the busy throng, but store-keepers generally have their own watchers for self-projection against the "lifters" who, whenever an opportunity offers, lay violent hands upon any article easily carried away. hands upon any article easily carried away. The probability is there never was such a heavy stock of goods on hand as at the present time, and in the higher grades the prices in some instances show a decline of more than'a hundred per cent.

INCENDIARISM.-Last night, about eleven o'clock, an attempt was made to burn a row of handsome new dwelling houses, now in course of erection on Sansom street, above Thirty-fourth. Policemen Green and Rowe were passing up Chestnut street, and observed a light in one of the houses. Upon making an examination it was found that a lot of the principle of the programment to the control of the course had been gathered together in the shavings had been gathered together in the sitting-room, and piled up against a door. A hole had already been burned through the floor and the door was in full blaze. Officer Green tore the door from its hinges and threw it into the street, while Officer Rowe extinguished the fire among the shavings. As the policemen were leaving the premises they discovered the next house was on fire. The fire had been builtin the same manner, and was also extinguished by the policemen. A man was seen running from the houses, and is supposed to have been the incendiary.

SUICIDE.—On Saturday night, as the Camlen ferry-boat was about entering the slip at Federal street, Camden, a man who was evidently intoxicated mounted the guards and jumped into the river. The boat was stopped, the life-boat lowered, and every effort was made by the hands to save the man, but without avail. The man was drowned, and left no due by which his identity could be ascertained.

Assault with a Blackjack.—Thomas Morris wentinto the tavern of James Ledger, Cresson and Grape streets, Manayunk, on Saturday and wanted lodgings. He was refused. Being drunk, he was ordered away. He went out, and with a blackjack assaulted a man who left the house a few minutes afterwards. Morris was arrested and Alderman wards. Morris was arrested, and Alderman Gibson sept him to prison.

BOLD THEFT.—A lady, while passing Ridge a venue and Green streets, about four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, had a satchel snatched from her hand. John Adams and John Heston were arrested on the charge of having committed the robbery. They were taken before Alderman Massey and were committed in default of $1,500 bail.
