Colonel McFarland, the Superintendent of the Soldiers' Orphans' Department in this State, some time ago issued a circular, recom-mending that the "children of the State" should be well provided for. In this city there are three homes for the children of deceased soldiers, viz.: The Lincoln Institution, the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Institute, and The Church Home. At all of these institu-tions the juveniles will have a holiday, and arrangements have been made for a feast of turkeys, mince pies, and other good things. The pupils of the Lincoln Institution will make a street parade in the morning, and will

The pupils of the Lincoln Institution will make a street parade in the morning, and will then attend Divine service at the Church of the Epiphany. The display by the First Division Pennsyl-vania Militia will, no doubt, be a very fine one. For weeks past preparations have been made for this parade and every military made for this parade, and every military organization will turn out in full strength Organization will that out in the storagent Citizens will have an excellent opportunity of observing what has been done, in face of many adverse circumstances, towards forming a division of militia which will be a credit to the city. The order of Major-General Pre-to be thankful for as on this occasion. Prayer was then offered. Mr. Chas. C. Burleigh then made an address in which he dwolt at some length upon the wrongs which had been inflicted upon colored men, and deprecated the prejudice against that race which still lingers in all parts of the country. This feeling against the colored man is inhuman—it is something not congenial with the character of man. The speaker ex-pected, in consequence of the abolition of slavery and the enfranchisement of the black man, and his consequent elevation, he will come to be respected according to his real worth, and have fields opened up to him which will show that he has the same nature as ourselves. To achieve this our energies

Men, women and children gathered from all quarters, and and children gathered from all quarters, and the assemblage finally became so large as to completely block up the streets. The Twelfth District Police then interfered and arrested the two bears and three ex-hibitors. The prisoners, were all taken to the Station House and were arraigned before Alderman Hood. The men gave their names as Francis Watson, Cæsar Royal and Carl Coshing. The bears eyed the magistrate curiously, but refused to give any names. The Alderman heard the evidence of the Knights of the Star, and then held the men in $400 bail for maintaining a nuisance, the Knights of the Star, and then held then men in $400 bail for maintaining a nuisance, and giving a public exhibition which endan-gered the lives of citizens. As it did not ap-pear that the bears had done anything which made them amenable to the law, they were discharged.

discharged. A HEAVY GALE.—During all of last night a strong southeasterly wind prevailed, and in the city windows ratled, shutters banged, and heavy signs creaked. Along the Delaware front the wind had full play and it assumed the form of a heavy gale. The water in the river was unusually turbulent and was dashed up over the wharves. As far as ascertained, no serious damage was sustained by the ship-ping in port, although many vessels were somewhat injurel by bumping against the wharves. The wind continued pretty high until about nine o'clock this morning, when it shifted to the southwest. About eight o'clock the north will of the old Patterson stores was blown down, and crushed in the roof of a storeblown down, and crushed in the roof of a storehouse No. 408 Penn street.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY .- J. A. Mansfield was arrested by Lieutenant Gercke, last night, at Thirteenth and Race streets, on the charge of having robbed a man named Mc-Laughlin of a gold watch, valued at $200, and $350 in money, in West Philadelphia, a few mights ago. In his pocket he had a pawn-ticket, calling for a watch. The accused will have a hearing this afternoon at the Central Station.

Ex-MAYOR MCMICHAEL, and several mem-EX-MAYOR MCMICHAEL, and several mem-bers of his family who have been traveling in Europe for some months, returned yesterday, in the Russia, and have been warmly wel-comed on their arrival in this city. Hon. Ed-ward McPherson, Clerk of the House of Representatives at Washington, also returned in the Russia. Louis A. Godey, Esq., of the Lady's Eook, is expected in the Lafayette, from Brest, now due at New York.

SHOOTING.-John Lewis went into the tavern of A. Becker, No. 1714 South Fourth street, last evening. While there he had a quarrel with Becker about a dog. Becker, it is alleged, became enraged, drew a pistol and is aneged, became enraged, drew a pistol and fired at Lewis. Fortunately his aim was bad, and Lewis escaped injury. Becker was arrested, and after a hearing before Alder-man Lutz, was committed to answer the charge of assault with intent to kill.

HOUSE ROBBERY.—This morning, about half-past three o'clock, the house of Thomas Moxley, on Seventeenth street, near Carpenter, was entered by prying open a back win-dow, and was robbed of four coats, a pair of boots and a cap. The thief left a chisel, which he can get by calling at the First District Po-lice Striker lice Station.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPTS.—During last-night attempts were made to enter the shoe store of Mrs. Sanders, No. 1836 Market street, and Simes's drug store, at Twenty-second and Market streets. Windows were pried open at both places, but the thieves were frightened off before they had time to secure any booty. STABBED.—A man named McIlwee got into a difficulty in a tavern at Seventh and St.

a difficult and the state of th assailant was not arrested. LIQUOR STORE ROBBED .- The liquor store of Wm. Thompson, northwest corner of Tenth and Carpenter streets, was entered through a back window, last night, and was robbed of $30 in five-cent pieces and $20 in ten-cent notes.

ACCIDENT,-This morning, about half-past eight o'clock, James Moore was struck by a flag staff which was blown down at Almond street wharf, and had both legs broken. He was taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital.

THE FRIENDS AND THE FREEDAEN.--Inte Freedmen's Belief Association of Orthodox Friends held a special meeting last evening in the Meeting-House at Fourth and Arch streets. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the attendance was not so large as on many similar occasions in the past. The venerable Samuel Hilles, a philanthropist of Wilmington, Del., presided. John B. Garrett, Secretary of the Associa-tion, said that the present mouth closed the sixth year of the Association's existence, during which time a quarter of a million of dollars had passed through the Treesury, and been expended in the education, secular and religious, of the col-ored people of the South, and in their physical relief. The present work of the Association was in great measure limited to conducting schools, and these en-tirely in the States of Virginia and North Car-olina. The expense of these is about $1,600 a month, for which the Association is under en-gagement till the first of next July-the close gagement till the first of next July—the close of the current school year. Additional means will be required for physical relief and pur-chase of Bibles and other religious reading, which the Association distributes freely and to a great extent. The entire need for the current year was stated at not less to 12,000 to 15,000 dollars, which Friends were urged to contribute. Alfred H. Jones, Superintendent of the Association's schools in North Carolina, was introduced, and for about three-quarters of an hour enlisted the attention of his audience in a statement of the present condition of his in a statement of the present condition of his charge. About forty-five schools, under care of upwards of sixty teachers, and with be-tween three and four thousand children on the enrolment, are in successful operation. Experience shows that the largest attendance is during the winter and early spring, after the season of cotton picking is over, and before planting. The eagerness and ability of colored people to learn were dwelt upon. But that which drew the heartiest sympathies of the audience was the recital of the impoverished condition of the people, owing to the long-con-

which drew the heat dest sympathes of the audicace was the recital of the impover shed condition of the people, owing to the long-con-tinued drought of last summer in those States. Corn, which last year sold at 85a100 cents per bushel, is now worth, at Danville, Va., $1 50a1 60—and a large part of the popu-lation have no means with which to buy. The winter has set in early, and with unusual severity, and great suffering is expected to re-sult. The speaker appealed earnestly for the means to relieve it. The self-sacrifice, of the teachers of the freedmen was proven by their unwillingness, even when urged by the com-mittee in this city, who sent them out, to en-joy the luxury of a sleeping-car hence to Washington on their way to their work, pre-ferring to save the money for the relief of the people to whom they go. And this after a rapid journey from the remotest parts of New England. Such are true missionaries, and de-mand the support of committees like ours, mand the support of committees like ours, blessed in basket and in store. Allen Jay, Superintendent of Friends' schools (white) in North Carolina, confirmed the statements of A. H. Jones as to the condition of the people in that State. Francis T. King, of Baltimore, spoke of the religious character of the work of the Associareligious character of the work of the Associa-tion, and the need to prosecute it vigorously under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. He also alluded to the especial importance of the work in North Carolina, in view of the poor credit of the State and consequent inability to command funds to establish and conduct State schools. The region of country in which the Association schools are mainly located was before the war a slave-breeding district, and now needs just such lessons of virtue as are being given by the teachers. The meeting closed about half-past nine.

BASE BALL CONVENTION.—The annual meeting of the Base Ball Association, of Pennsylvania, took place at No. 6 South Eighth street this morning. Twenty-two clubs were represented, and among them the following prominent organizations: Athletic, Keystone, National, Bachelor, Expert, Pastime, Village, Awkward, James Page, Neptune, and Intrepid, of Philadelphia, and the Mount Vernon, of Manayunk, and the Brandywine, of Westchester, Pa.
