The surprising development of our national resource and the rapidity with which the government is now enabled to reduce the national debt, by weekly purchases render it apparent that the time is approaching when the Five Twenty bonds may be funded at not over fou or four and a half per cent. interest. Meanwhile their high price, as compared with other classes of securities paying an equal rate of interest, is leading to general inquiry for more profitable forms of investment in which money may be safely invested.

During the war the necessities and peril of the government, and the consequent cheapness of its securities, rendered them so attractive that, from this cause, combined with the patriotic faith of the people in their safety, they absorbed almost the entire floating capital of the country, and diverted attention from other classes years for the same quality of fine Teas for family use. of securities which had before been deemed sufficiently conservative and sound to meet the wants of the most SIMON COLTON & CLARKE cantious investors. The government is no longer a borrower. It no longer needs the country's capital, but desires gratefully and honorably to repay it.

The rapid accumulation of capital for investment, and pereduction of the national debt and improvement of the national credit-rendering it certain that hereafter that a comparatively low rate of interest can be derived from investment in government bonds-is compelling the search for other safe and well-guarded channels into which capital not employed in business may wisely flow The enterprises of Peace, no less needful in their time and place, for the common welfare, than were the waste and cost of War, now call for the capital which the government no longer needs, and offer for its use a remu peration which the government need no longer pay, and in some cases, a security as stable and enduring as the faith of the nation itself. The desire to capitalize the premium which may now be realized upon Five Twenty bonds, and which a material decline in Gold toward par, and the ability of the Government to fund them at a lower rate of interest, may at any time extinguish, is felt by many holders who desire some satisfactory assurance as to which of the many ower-priced securities in the market would afford the ecessury safety to justify an exchange. The applications for information and advice which are addressed to us daily, show how universal is the desire BEST FAMILY FLOUR. for this assurance, as to what forms of investment more profitable than Government-securities at present market rates, are entitled to the confidence of investors.

The pressure of this want has led us to feel the importance of directing our own attention as bankers, our large experience, and our facilities for obtaining reliable nformation-to the work of supplying it in some measure, and to offer the results of our inquiries to those which we warrant superior to any other in the market who may be disposed to confide in our good faith and We are unwilling to offer to our friends and the public - anything which according to our best judgment is not as

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 19.—The storm of the last few days still continues, though it is moderating. Great damage has been done on the lake, and much loss of life is probable. The life-boat which went to the rescue of a schooner ashore north of the city, broke in two on Wednesday night, and some six men were drowned. Several vessels are ashore near here. The telegraph poles snapped, and were borne down by the heavy snow. Many trains have been delayed, but all are now the storm of the city of the leavy snow. Suspension of a St. Louis Banking Comto acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 6th inst., and with it a copy of your Finanwith the number for January, Lippincorn's Magazine of Literature, Science, and Education, will commence its fifth volume and third year.

The conductors have made liberal arrangements for the forthcoming volume. Their object will continue to be, to present to the American public a magazine of the highest class; and they will avail themselves of every means to render it still more valuable, attractive, and throws considerable light upon the important question of a contribution of a cursory inspection of a constant pressure upon my time has prevented me from giving the book more than a cursory inspection, but it seems to be a valuable contribution to our financial history, and throws considerable light upon the important question of a contribution of a cursory inspection of a cursory inspection, but it seems to be a valuative contribution to our financial history, and throws considerable light upon the important question of a cursory inspection, but it seems to be a valuative contribution to our financial history, and throws considerable light upon the important question of a cursory inspection, but it seems to be a valuative contribution to our financial history, and throws considerable light upon the important question. from Portland for Boston, went ashore during the storm of Wednesday, at Hampton, and became a total loss. I hope that Congress will address itself with courage and constancy to the solution of the problem as soon as it meets; and will feel assured that the American people have intelligence enough to support those who do it. My views on the subject are of little importance to apply the but on an American citizen. We are selling the above Bonds at a price that will pay a good rate of Interest.

This road runs through the richest and most thickly settled portion of this magnificent State, and is the only link wanting to connect St. Louis and St. Paul by a direct line, 147 It runs through the great coal fields of Southern Iowa to the North where coal is indispensable and must be carried. It runs from the great lumber regions of the

than the interest liabilities. Sixty miles more are graded, and a million and a half of dollars have already been expended on the work. The mortgage is made to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co., and bonds can be issued only at the rate of $16,000 per mile, or only half the amount upon some other roads: Special security is provided for the principal and for the payment of interest. First mortgages upon most railroads are the very safest investments, and so far as we can learn, there is not a single completed line in the Northwest which is not only paying its interest, but a good dividend upon its stock. and Great Western, 26.
