With the present Number commences the Feducith Volume of Habrer's Magazine. The Publishers propose to furnish, as heretofore, a larger amount of matter, with more profuse illustrations, than can be found in any similar publication in the English language. The arrangements of the Conductors are such as to warrant them by the assurance that the matter shall be the best that can be procured by the most liberal outlay.

The Life of Federick the Great, commenced in the present Number, will be continued for about a year. In the January Number will be commenced a Novel by the Author of "Guy Livingstone." The soveral Editorial Departments will present a record of the times in their social, literary, scientific and political aspects. For the Editor's Scientific Reads, the express co-operation of members of the Smithsonian Institute at Washington has been secured; and it is proposed that it shall of itself be a complete Year Book of Science.

The Publishers, therefore, are confident that the favor which has heretofore been awarded to their efforts will still be continued. FOR which is as near as possible the rates

MARINE BULLETIN. PORT OF PHILADELPHIA-Nov. 27. if put upon the market.

Colonel Jones, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Idaho, reports to the Indian Bureau concerning the assembling of the Nez-Perces Council at their reservation on the 18th inst., when the chiefs of the whole tribe were present, the non-treaty party outnumbering the treaty party. The non-treaty party has not considered the party of the party of the party has not considered the party of the part SUN RISES, 6 59 | SUN SETS, 4 36 | HIGH WATER, 9 35 Council at their reservation on the RKn. Inst., when the chiefs of the whole tribe were present, the non-treaty party outnumbering the treaty party. The non-treaty party has persistently refused all the advantages of the treaty of 1863, such as accepting presents or availing themselves of the advantages of the shops and mills of the reservation, or having their farms fenced. The sessions of the Council were continued from day to day, and resulted in their consenting to accept the gifts of the government and the advantages which the reservation offered.

Report of the Secretary of the Navy.

The report of the Secretary of the Navy.

The report of the Secretary of the Navy as completed vesterday and submitted to the President. The report begins by showing the present condition of the Navy, giving the number of seamen thereon and average expense of each vessel. It appears that the whole number of vessels now in service is 200. The number he believes to be too large for present requirements of the Navy and recommends its reduction to 180.
