Lately, the force has been upon its good behaviour, because every man in it understands that bad conduct will precipitate the action of the Legislature and insure his ruin. But if the people should be decived by this appearance of propriety, and fail to secure the passage of a Police Bill, we shall have a return to the old misconduct as soon as the Legislature has adjourned and the danger is past. There is a remarkable unanimity of sentiment in the community in favor of a reform which will give control of the police force to a board composed of trustworthy, non-po-to litical citizens, and this sentiment must be renity from arrest enjoyed by the worst class of the prosperity of the institution. litical citizens, and this sentiment must be responded to by the Legislature.

THE TAX QUESTION.

We find that we were in error in stating recently that the books of former Receivers of Taxes have never been audited. There is an uditing system in existence, which was esablished a number of years ago, by which certain special clerks appointed by the Controller make an annual examination of the books of the Receiver, and report the results to the Controller. This examination, however, appears to be directed mainly, if not entirely, to the detection of clerical errors in the books, and does not afford that check upon the tax collectors that is so much needed.

There is another fact which has not yet been mentioned, the knowledge of which is necespeople will not receive with enthusiastic appro- | sary to the elucidation of this muddled subation Senator Drake's remarkable scheme for ject.
