..... Forty-first Congress-Second Session. The United States Senate, after the close of our report, passed the House resolution for a recess from Dec. 22 to Jan. 5. Mr. Osborn introduced a resolution, which was referred, inthorizing the Internal Revenue Commissioner to give rewards for the detection of persons trying to murder revenue officers. On motion of Mr. Carpenter (Wis.), his resolution eclaring that in the opinion of the Senate the Spanish gunboats should not be allowed to leave the country was taken up. It was advocated by Mr. Carpenter, Mr. Summer opposed it, and it was laid over. The resolution regulating the hours of labor of Government emploves, and the bill limiting the appellate jurisdiction of the Supreme Court.were considered. An Executive session was held. Prince Napoleon's Son in School.

[From Galignani's Messenger, Dec. 2.]
Prince Napoleon has just sent his eldest son,
Victor, seven years of age, to a private school n the Rue Caumartin, in which about fifteen pupils. The principal asked the father how he should address the boy, as "Monseigneur" or "Your Highness?" "Call him simply Victor," said the Prince. "But on the lists of honor for attention and good conduct?" "Oh, then, Victor Napoleon; but when his companions give him a blow and he when his companions give him a blow and he returns it, Victor, short, and in no case whatever Monseigneur.' The Prince and Princess of Wales. dated Nov. 27th, says:
"The Princess of Wales has another daughter, now about thirty-six hours old, and mother and child are both doing well. For this poor lady, so badly treated by her reckless and abandoned husband, there is but one uni-
