CHARGED WITH ROBBERY AND ARSON. John Jacobs, colored, had been arrested at the instance of Fire-Marshal Blackburn, on suspicion of robbery and arson. He resides with a colored man, named Turner, at No. 1226 Pearl street, and has been in the habit of visiting the house No. 1233 Pearl street, occupied by William Selby and Charles Wilson. On Monday, while Selby and Wilson were away at work, Mrs. Selby and Wilson went out to get a locksmith to open a trunk, which was in get a locksmith to open a trunk, which was in Mrs. Selby's room, in the third story. This trunk contained Sia belonging to Mrs. Selby, and a gold watch and chain, some charms and other trinkets belonging to Mrs. Wilson. The house was left in charge of a boy. He states that Jacobs entered, and inquired first for the men and then for the women. Findfor the men and then for the women ing that they were out he sat down. After remaining a short time he said that he smelt fire up stairs. The boy replied that there was no tire except in Mrs. Wilson's room, in the second story. He made an examination and found everything right there. Jacobs said the fire must be higher up. He went up to the third story and refused to allow the boy, to follow him. He remained for some time, then came down, rushed across the street and told Turner that the house was on fire. Turner and Jacobs went back and extinguished the flames. In the evening, when Selby and Wilson returned, it was discovered that the bed had been on fire in two places and that the trunk had been forced open and the valuables abstracted Jacobs was locked up to await a hearing at the Central Station.:

An Old Incendiary in Custody.—Alfred Beck was arrested last night, by the Sixth District Police, upon request of Fire-Marshal Blackburn, on suspicion of arson. He has already served two or three terms in the Penitentiary for incendiarism, and except when incorporated he has been a terror to the results. incarcerated, he has been a terror to the residents and business men in the neighborhood of Broad and Race streets for many years. His last conviction for arson was in May, 1863. He set fire to the stable and slaughter-house o John Smith, in the vicinity of Sixteenth and Race streets, at the time the store of James, Kent, Santee & Co., on Third street, was burning, in February, 1866, and eighteen calves and a horse were burned. He was then sentenced to an imprisonment of four years in the Eastern Penitentiary. Under a law remitting portions of sentences for good conduct, he has recently been released, and returned to his old haunts. Since he made his appearance again there have been several fires in the neighborhood, one of which destroyed the extensive warehouse of Frank D. Worley the extensive warehouse of Frank D. Worley & Co., and was undoubtedly an incendiary fire. Beck is strongly suspected of having had something to do with the origination of that fire, and is locked up to await further investigation by Fire-Marshal Blackburn.

How to Cure Consumption—The Philos-ophy of Dr. Schenck's Great Medicines.— Will people never learn to know that a diseased liver and stomach necessarily disease the entire system? The planest principles of common sense teach this, and yet there are thousands who ridicule the idea, and continue thousands who ridicule the idea, and continue in a course which almost inevitably brings them prematurely to the grave. Living, as the majority of people do, at complete variance with the laws of nature, it must be apparent to all that, sooner or later, nature will revenge herself. Hence we find that persons who indulge to excess in the use of very rich or indigestible food or intoxicating drinks, invariably pay a heavy penalty in the end. The stomach becomes disordered, and refuses to not: the liver fails to perform its functions; mended to all such. They bring sure and cer-tain relief wherever they are used as directed, and all that is necessary to establish their re-putation with every alling man or woman in the land is a fair and impartial trial of them. Let those who are skeptical on this point, and who have permitted interested persons to pre-judice them against these now celebrated reme-dies for consumption, discard their prejudices, and be governed by the principles of reason and common sense. If the system is discrdered, depend upon it, in nine cases out of ten, the seat of the disorder will be found in the stomach and liver. To cleanse and invigorate the stomach and to stimulate the liver to healthy action, use Schenck's Mandrake Pills.—The daily in-creasing demand for these pills, is the best evidence of their value, Thousands upon simply because they act promptly and effi-ciently. Invalids who may not find it con-venient to call on Dr. Schenck in person, are informed that full and complete directions for use accompany each package of the Mandrake Pills, Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic.—These medicines will cure Con-sumption, unless the lungs are so far gone that sumption, unless the lungs are so far gone that the patient is entirely beyond the reach of medical relief.

It may be asked, by those who are not familiar with the virtues of these great remedies, "How do Dr. Schenck's medicines effect their wonderful cures of Consumption."

The answer is a simple one. They begin their work of restoration by bringing the stomach, liver and bowels into an active, healthy condition. It is food that cures this formidable disease. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver and stomach, promoting healthy secretion, and removing the bile and slime which have resulted from the inactive or torpid condition of these organs and of the system generally. This sluggish state of the system generally. This sluggish state of the body and the consequent accumulation of the unhealthy substances named, prevent the proper digestion of food, and as a natural consequence creates disease, which results in prostration and finally in death.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, when taken regularly, mingle with the food, aid the digestive organs, make good, rich blood, and, as a natural consequence, giv flesh and strength to the patient. Let the faculty say what it may, this is the only true cure for consumption. Experience has proved it beyond the shadow of a doubt, and thousands are to-day alive and well who a few years since were regarded as hopeless cases, but who were induced to try Dr. Schenck's remedies, and were restored to permanent health by

One of the first steps the physician should take with a consumptive patient is to invigorate the system. Now, how is this to be done? Certainly not by giving medicines that exhaust and enervate—medicines that impair instead of improve the functions of the digestive organs. Dr. Schenck's medicines cleanse the stomach and bowels of all substances which are calculated to irritate or weaken them.

They create an appetite—promote healthful digestion—make good blood, and as a consequence, they invigorate and strengthen the entire system, and more especially those parts which are diseased. If this cannot be done, then the case must be regarded as a hopeless

If the physician finds it impossible to make If the physician finds it impossible to make —A PATIENT FIEL HUNGRY; if the diseased person cannot partake of good nourishing food and properly digest it, it is impossible that he can gain in flesh and strength; and it is equally impossible to bring a patient to this condition so long as the liver is furdened with diseased bile, and the stomach laden with unhealthy slime. healthy slime.

Almost the first request made to the physician by a consumptive patient is that he will prescribe medicines that will remove or allay the cough, night sweat and chills, which are the sure attendants on consumption. But this should not be done for the should not be done, for the cough is only an effort of nature to relieve itself, and the night sweats and chills are caused by the diseased lungs. The remedies ordinarily prescribed do more harm than good. They impair the functions of the stomach, impede healthy digestion, and aggravate rather than cure the

There is, after all, nothing like facts with which to substantiate a position, and it is upon facts that Dr. Schenck relies. Nearly all who have taken his medicine in accordance with his directions have not only been cured of Consumption, but from the fact that these medicines act with wonderful power upon the digestive organs, patients thus cured speedily gain fiesh. Cleansing the system of all imgain nesh. Cleansing the system of an impurities, they lay the foundation for a solid, substantial structure. Restoring these organisto health, they create an appetite. The food is properly assimilated, the quantity of blood is not only increased, but it is made rich and strong, and in the face of such a condition of the system all disease must be banished.

Full directions accompany each of the medicines, so that it is not absolutely necessary that patients should see Dr. Schenck personally, inless they desire to have lungs examined. For this purpose he is at his principal office, to. 15 North Sixth street, corner of Commerce very Saturday, from S A. M. until 1 P. M. Advice is given without charge, but for a horough examination with the Respirometer the charge is five dollars.
