CITY BULLETIN. -The Advent P. E. Church, on Sunday evening last, was filled to its utmost capacity by an attentive congregation, to listen to the Rev. J. W. Claxions rector, who is about taking his departure for Europe, with the intention, also, of visiting the Holy Land. His text was in Hebrew 6, 18-19: "Which hope we have as an anchor to the soul, both sure and steadfast," etc. The text was ably exhausted, and the sermon of that character well calculated to leave a marked impression upon the minds of the audience. As a slight token of the love and appreciation of the members of the congregation, in view of the fidelity and devotion of Mr. Clayton to the interests of his parish for the past seven years, a very The Arraignment of Rochefort. handsome testimonial has been handed to the faithful rector. VANCE, turning something into the British Treasury, became a drain thereon, through the necessity of supporting the large army for the protection of the provincial population and the bonor of the British flag. "Now," said Lord Morpeth, " we would rather give up the colonies and let them shift for themselves in future." "Why don't you do so then," said Mr. Fish.

"and let them become annexed to our Unite "Ah! ves. there is the very trouble," a swered Lord Morpeth. "We Englishmen be-lieve in manhood, and you Americans inherit the same thing from us. We are proud, like yourselves. We think it would be unmauly, after holding on to the provinces when they were valuable, to give them up now that they have become useless to us. But if they would ask as to let them go we would consent cheerfully. We would say, 'Go in peace, and God speed."
This was twelve years ago. We were strong then, and England realized that we had it in our power to possess ourselves easily of her provinces whenever we might desire, and no ubt one of Lord Morpeth's reasons for b ing so favorable to allowing the provinces to "slide" was the desire to be saved from a cosus belli with the United States Government, in case it should take it into its head to annex the provinces. THE ONEIDA COMMUNISTS. Worse Than Mormonism. [From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.]

The Oneida (N. Y.) Communists, who have a branch establishment at Wallingford, Conn., and who are well known for their success in making Socialism pecuniarily a success, are getting ambitious of making converts, we judge. At any rate, their head man, John H. Noyes, the lite and brains of this peculiar organization—as Brigham Young is of Mormonism—has written a book giving a history of Communism in the United States, and setting forth with greater plainness than ever before the belief of himself and his followers. The foundation-stone of the community is the apostolic idea of having "all things in common," including persons as well as property, and this idea is thoroughly carried out at Oneida, while we are informed that the Connecticut establishment is one with the other, "socially and financially." No such distinctions as husband and wife, parents and children, are recognized by the community, but all are considered as halonging to one another relations. sidered as belonging to one another, relations being regulated only by the attraction that one has to another. Among the articles of the creed that legitimately follow from this fundamental belief are that shame is sin; holiness comes first, and then free love: the abolition of marriage and the substitution of Commun-ism is a Christian duty, and so on. This statement of the belief of the Oneida Communists is no new thing, and is only worthy of notice from the broadness and rankness with which it is now stated by the leader of the community, and the evident attempt to attract the attention of the public by means of his book. It is also worthy of note that the people professing and practicing these principles—as much viler and more demoralizing than Mormonism ascan be unagined—are subject to no molestation, either legal or unlawul, though closely surrounded by neighbors than their actions. If any great assignation establishment like this had been set up without the pretence of religious belief to buoy it up it would have been disposed of pretty quickly. But Americans are very lenient to all forms and phases of religious belief, and there is no denying that it is enth century. But it is equally evident that this tolerance permits some strange anomalies, both of government and social life; and it is hardly to be wondered at that foreigners, who cannot be expected to know us thoroughly, wives as they want, though everybody else is strictly limited to one.
