Philadeiphia Money Market. Satuknay, January 22, 1870.—In our market bor-owers can generally dictate their own terms, the sup-bly of currency being largely in excess of the demand. The demand for call leans is very light, and the rates uito cary but rather irregular, on account of he large balances remaining over, which emelenders are glad to place at merely nominal figures. as per cont, is the usual range on good collaterals. Cirt-class business paper is nore abundant, but the anarket is so anoply supplied; that no difficulty is ex-perienced in passing at say per cont. all that class names,
