Immediately on the expiration of that year let all the accounts be passed over to the law officer, whose first duty should be to advertise all such names and give (as at present) personal notice to all registered owners. "My DEAR SIR:
"I am delighted to learn that you have not forgotten my parting words about 'The Last Athenian,' by my young countryman, Victor Hydberg.
"Let me congratulate you, and think you for having, through your translation of this delightful work, given the American public the best and most gooind historical novel that ever was written in the Swedish Language.

"Yours, truly," FREDRIKA BREMER." " ARSTA, 8th December, 1865

Read the following opinions of the Press Read the following opinions of the Press.

"The Last Athenian is a very absorbing romance—in fact, a generously planned and conscientious study of a strange, and and most fascinating period of history.

"In many of its scenes and characters the author shows himself an artist of signal power.

"The description of the combats between the two factions of Christians, and between the imperial troops and the Donatists are fine battle pieces, painted vividly and clearly; while in other pictures the author has a charming tenderness and delicacy of touch." Attantic Monthly, "The novel of 'The Last Athenian' is certainly a remarkable one. The scene is laid in Athens, at the fine of Julian the Apostate, when Pagan philosophy was still, at least in the City of the Visitet Grown, trying to hold its own against dormatic Christianity.

"The story is in itself strongly dramatic—sometimes even melo-dramatic; and it has many striking characters, and some tenderness and pathos. It is wonderfully real and minute in its description of the details of Athenian every-day life; and some of the personages are evidently drawn with that strong and rare dramatic insight which an author must possess if he would call into apparent life the people of a far-departed age."—New York Independent.

"The Last Athenian is a novel of a high order of merit and interest. The style of the work is animated and graphic, and its pictures of Athenian life and character have a freshness and vitality that usually belong only to direct studies of the real."—Home Journal. New York, While these Clothes are elegant and beautiful, made of the best material, cut and trimmed in the choicest style, yet they were not made of the best material. The characteristic. CITY BULLETIN.

BOLD Ronnery.—Last evening, about eight o'clock, the residence of Gottlieb Buchman, 323 North Ninth street, was entered through the front second-story window, which was reached by climbing up the awning-post. Mr. Buchman was absent at the time. Mrs. Buchman went up stairs to put her children to bed, and discovered the room door locked. This was an unusual circumstance, and she went out and gave an alarm. Chief Kelly and Officer Lukens, of the detective force, happened to be standing on the corner of Wood street at the time. They went into the house, and it was necessary to burst in the bed-room door. By the time the officers had got in the thief had got out and escaped. A bureaudrawer had been forced open with a chisel, and $83 were abstracted from a small box. He also favored the provision for the establishment of banks on a gold basis, and thought these would eventually supersponding time of Johnson's reign, saved $3,500,000. In regard to the Treasury Department, General Butler showed that, taking out the estimates ordered by Congresss, with which the timates ordered by Congresss, with which the Second Secon timates ordered by Congresss, with which the Secretary has nothing to do, and the estimate for the interest which is appropriated for but paid into the sinking fund, and the estimate for detective force to catch the felons which Andrew Johnson let loose upon the country, there will be a saving of about twelve millions. In the Interior Department there were eleven millions balance to the credit of the Pension Appropriation, so that Congress only appropriated last year nineteen millions; in addition making together thirty millions; in addition making together thirty millions in addition to this year only thirty millions, in addition to pensions paid from the Naval Fund, and from prize money and that the Committee on Appropriations have reported, and the House has passed a bill for this sum, showing that Mr. Dawes's Committee did not consider this an extravagant estimate.
