The Contest Between Cabral and Salnave ...A Desperate Battle...A Large Mun-her of Killedand Wounded...The Cap-inre of Salaave...His Trial, Sentence and Execution

By the arrival of the brig Henry and Louise, Potter, from Port au Prince in eight days, we are in possession of direct new relative to the capture of Salnaye and his subsequent execution. The same value as sequent execution. The same value of the Palace on the 19th of December, and subsequently from Fort National, he field to Petionville. with a strong force. He was soon joined by Villubin, and received large supplies of pro-visions and ammunition from Croix de Bouquet. The neighboring population were told by Sainave that they would all be massacred-by the revolutionists, which caused great con-sternation among them. Salnave moved from Petionville on the 21st, arriving at Verrettes on the 22d, his object being to reach Baraona On the 19th of December General Brice advised Cabral at St. Jean of the flight of Sal-nave, and the direction he had taken. Provisional President Saget also notified Cabral. Salnave upon attempting to leave Verrette Salpave upon attempting to leave Verrette for Baraona found a strong force opposing him and was forced back in great disorder.

On the 27th a force under General Zamor left Port-au-Prince to join the troops in pursuit of Salnave, and on the 28th General Ben jamin, Saget's Secretary of War, went out to be secretary of war, we want out to be secret take command in person, and a vigorous purstilt was ordered. Salnave had in the meantime again started for Baraona by another route, having made in vain, efforts to recruit and inspirit his force, but such was the rapidity of the movements of the revolutionary troops, that even here they were close on his heels, capturing his strag-glers and nearly all his baggage and ammu-

General Benjamin arrived at Jacmel on the General Benjamin arrived at Jacmel on the 2d of January and obtained guides who were tamilian with the country. Cabral, thinking that Salnave might reach Baraona, went to Salina to cut him off. As soon as he learned the josition of Salnave he ordered the lines of the Petit-tron to be covered.

On the 8th of January, Salnave and a few devoted followers came upon the force of Cabral at Cuaba, and attempted to cut their way through that portion of the army com-manded by Gen. Guiteau. A desperate fight ensued, lasting for five hours, resulting in the defeat and capture of Salnave and his troops, and a loss of 100 killed and a large number wounded of Salnave's men, and of Cabral's only three killed and twenty-two wounded. Salnave and his fellow prisoners were sent to Salina, when Gen. Cabral informed the Government on the 10th of January of the event and gave them up to the provisional autho-

Salnave arrived at Port au Prince on the 15th, and was immediately put upon his trial by the revolutionary tribunal, composed of Gen. P. Lorquet, President; M. de Nascre, Vice President; M. Prezean, M. Louis Aimé, and M. Darius Adam; M. Camille Nau, Pub lie Prosecutor. The trial commenced at 3 o'clock, in the presence of a large number of the civil authorities, and attended by the National Guard. The accused was introduced by the President, saying: "Sylvan Salnave, President of Hayti, aged 43, born at Cape Haytien, and living at Port au Prince." Question-Have you made a choice of some one to defend you?

Salnave—I wish to be assisted by Messrs.

Valern and Layard. M. Lavard declined to defend the accused. The President of the Council then designated M. Jair of Jacmel to act with M. Valcin. Salnave then had an interview with his counsellors, after which the Deputy Marshal read the lors, after which the Deputy Marshai read the charges to the prisoner, which occupied considerable time, the most important being that he "annulled the Constitution" and named himself "Protector of the Republic;" that "he associated himself with deprayed characters, and held on to the Government by found and force," therefore School by fraud and force:" therefore Sylvan Salnave is accused of high treason, devastapillage with arms, committing assassinations, and is now amenable for these Salnave said that he was not capable of the acts of which he is accused. His counsel made a strong appeal, and made every effort to destroy the accusation, quoting frequently the position of Jefferson Davis in the late re-bellion in the United States. After a short address from the prosecutor, one more appeal was made by Salnave's counsel, M. Valcin, and the trial was closed.

The members of the Court then adjourned for deliberation, which lasted an hour, at the expiration of which the judgment of the Court was pronounced.

In the name of the Republic, the Court finds Sylvan Salnave, aged 43, soldier and ex-President of Hayti, guilty of all the charges preferred against him, and do sentence him to be shotto death, and orders that the execution shall take place at the Perristyles of the National Palace.
Signed by the members of the Court, Jan.

Preparations were immediately made for carrying out the judgment of the Court.

The President then addressed Salnave:
You have just been condemned to the pain of death. I entreat you to be firm and courageous." Saluave replied: "I shall not fail; I only ask for time to put my affairs in order." This request was granted, and he was engaged for a quarter of an hour in writing a letter. which he sealed and placed in the hands of the President.

THE EXECUTION.

When the result of the trial had been an-When the result of the trial had been announced a rush was made to the place of execution, and a great crowd speedily filled the approaches to the ruins of the palace, where it was said the prisoner would be despatched. The revolutionists amused then selves, while waiting for the disournent, in yelling, "Vive la constitution!" and "A bas Salvare!" and there was so much crowding and violence that the troops had enough to do to keen a space the troops had enough to do to keep a space clear before the pillars. When at length the head of the column of soldiers guarding the prisoner emerged into the square from the tribunal, shouts rent the air, and the inturiated blacks swayed backwards and forwards in the violence of their anger.
It was a few minutes before sunset. The rosy

'tints of the sun slanting from the sea threw a golden radiance on the ruins and lightened the upturned faces of the bloodthirsty crowd. A. few soldiers stood by the pillars and held ropes in their hands with which to bind the the prisoner to the stake already planted for the purpose. There was no time lost by the officers having the execution in charge. Placed against the stake, with his back to the still smouldering ruins of the palace, and looking toward the sea, Salnave was speedily bound by the arms and permitted to gaze for a moment on the determined faces of the soldiery and the maddened populace. Then a detachment of infantry, thirty strong, were drawn up within twenty yards of the doomed man, and the order was given to load.

A profound silence now fell upon the place; the blacks gaped open-mouthed and with distening eyes as the soldiers rammed down the charges in their pieces and came to a carry. It was expected that Salnave would say something before it was too late, but he uttered never a word, but faced the executioners with unmoved once when the order was given to make ready, but it was evident he did not intend to sneak. The soldiers brought up their steak. speak. The soldiers brought up their pieces slowly and not all together; many of them were clearly more nervous than was Salnave and would doubtless have preferred to be shooting at some other darkey. Finally the word was given the smoke cleared away, and the wretched prisoner was seen to be pierced in caveral characteristics. over a little on his left side, as if to avoid the shot, but struggled to right himself again. When it was seen that he was not dead a howl went up from the multitude, and the officers cursed the bungling soldiers in unneasured terms. soldiers in unmeasured terms. The muskets were quickly loaded again. The order to fire was shouted by the officer in command, and a volume of smoke flew into the faces of the spectators. When it had cleared away Salnave was no more. Riddled in every part of his body by the bullets of the soldiers, his head dropped on his breast, his shattered arms hung listlessly by his side, and the warm blood flowed from his numerous wounds in copious away, and then some soldiers came up with a mart, drawn by two donkeys, and threw the mangled body into it. Half an hour later all that was mortal of the unfortunate Salnave was thrown carelessly into a hole dug for its reception, in an open space about three-quarters of a mile outside and north of the ity of Port au Prince. The court had assembled at 3 o'clock P. M. and at twenty minutes past 6 Salnave, the ex President of Hayti, was a corpse.

CITY BULLETIN.

THE YOUNG MAINNERCHOR'S BAL MASQUE —This affair, for which so much preparation had been made, came off last night at the Academy of Music, and the committee of arrangements was most successful in carrying out the purpose of making a very fine display, the result being one of the grandest spectacles ever seen within the walls of the beautiful edifice. The vestibule of the building was tastefully festooned with evergreens, and in several places were large terra cotta urns, con taining large bouquets neatly arranged. From the time the doors opened until after ten o'clock, the guests poured in in a continuous stream, and before the opening ceremonies every seat in the house, including those in the upper tiers, was occupied, and almost all of the available standing room was taken possession of. Such a large number of people sel-dom gathers in the Academy. Most of those dom gathers in the Academy. Most of those who were seated in the parquette circle and balcony circle were masked or wore fancy costumes, and the great variety of dresses made up a very pretty scene. Mayor Fox, Major-General George G. Meade and Major-General St. Clair A. Mulholland occupied places in the centre of the balcony. The two orchestras were selected from the best musicians of the city, and were under the direction of Mr. Wm. G. Dietrich and Mr. George Bastert. There were no decorations of the interior of the building, but in front of the curtain gas jets blazed out, in large letters, the words "Young Mannerchor."

The German carnivals always begin with a grand tableau representing the reception of Prince Carnival and a procession of grotesque figures of all kinds. The committee having charge of the matter last night seems to have taken great care to have the procession so arranged as to make it both imposing and exceedingly funny in appearance. The programme said: "Before the curtain rises Our" Union Pacific Bailroid will convey our guests from Alaska across the stage." About half past nine o'clock there was a flourish of trumpets, and a big clown with a huge dinner-bell jumped from under the curtain. He was followed by a rall Chinamen carrying a placard— "Look out for the Pacific R. R." Then came two small juveniles drawing a diminutive train of cars. Around the stage went this party, the bell ringing and a whistle blowing. This scene created great merriment among the

The curtain then rolled up and disclosed a garden scene, lighted with five chandeliers, and a view of Paris in the background. Flora, Goddess of Flowers (M'lle De Rosa), was seen recting Prince Carnival with the tribute of bouquet. After this ceremony she danced the shadow dance. Then the procession com-menced to move, led off by Comus, God of Fools, with a bodyguard. Then came a tall Yankee carrying a banner, having on it the head of a fox and the word "guard," meaning "Fox's Guard." Beside him was a miniature representation of Rawlings, late of the Reserve Corps, better known as "the Infant," and following them were a party of small boys dressed as policemen. Then came the band, dressed as Hartz miners, and followed by the Committee of Arrangements continued. by the Committee of Arrangements, costumed as Mercury; Reception Committee dressed as Knights, and the Floor Committee clad as Italian Brigands. At their head was the magnificent satin banner of the Society. After the Committees, Flora was drawn in a chariot by six peasant boys. Women of the period, with huge chignons and outlandish Greeian-bends, were next. Prince Carnival (H.G. Runkel), perched on a velocipede, which was mounted on a big car drawn by two very small imitation horses, and surrounded by Harlequins, Pierrots, Colombines, &c., made quite a laughable picture. The procession then contained characters representing the Whisky Ring, the Fifteenth Amendment, the Pope and the Oconomical Council, the opening of the Suez Canal, the caging of Rochefort and "the funeral of our ancestor's carnival"—a delegation dressed in mourning-brought up the rear.

After the Grand March the master of ceremonies, Mr. Joseph Grimm, started the dancing music, and the "gay and festive" maskers whirled off in a lively waltz. Of course this made a great mixture of characters. Prince Carnival went off with a very ancient Prince Carnival went off with a very ancient looking, humped-back lady; General Grant had his arm around a pretty peasant girl; a black bear hugged the Queen of the night; a stern looking Priest took up with a ballet girl; Prince Napoleon danced with a fat Dutch woman, and a tall, lean, lank Yankee had an Indian squaw for a parter. Until the marks were removed at a partner. Until the masks were removed at midnight this incongruity continued. The dancing was kept up until a late hour, and seemed to be greatly enjoyed by all who participated.

Supper was served in the foyer by Mr. John Misch, Superintendent of the Young Männerchor Hall. The bal masque was a complete success in every particular. The gentlemen who had the management of it were as follows:

Committee of Arrangements-F. Decker, O. Kaiser, A. Rothe. Auser, A. Rothe.

Decoration Committee—A. Kientzle, E. Walenta, A. Reichard, H. G. Runkel.

Reception Committee—A. Schada, A. Beinhauer, W. Braun, O. Sussman, H. Grossholtz, G. Becker.

Wittmann. CLOSING EXERCISES.—Last evening the closing exercises of the Northwest Institute for Young Ladies took place at the residence of Alex. Moore, Esq., No. 1423 North Broad street, and were of the most interesting character. They were opened with prayer by the Rev. H. W. Monro, after which there were chants and readings by the pupils, which were very creditable to the Misses Ivins, Snyder and Albertson, the young ladies having the Institute in charge. Among the young ladies who distinguished themselves upon the occasion were Miss M. Bradbury, Miss J. Ridgway, Miss E. Bailey, Miss N. Miller and others. The usual awards of merit were given at the close of the proceedings, and the very large audience which had assembled separated

LYLE MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.—Last evening the regular monthly meeting of this Association was held at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department Twenty-five companies were represented, and Jos. R. Lyndall, the President, occupied the chair. Reports from the various committees chair. Reports from the various committees were received, and it was announced that everything was progressing favorably for a celet ration, which will take place on Washington's birthday, February 22d. The statue will be unveiled precisely at 3 o'clook P. M., in the Old Oaks Cemetery, where the cornerstone was laid some time since. There will be a parade of the Department, fully equipped, and companies from other cities and States will be present to take part in the delication. Win. F. McCully, of the Hibernia Fire Company, was unanimously elected Chief Marshal.

Dogs in the Park.—Dogs are not admitted to Fairmount Park. There is a law imposing a penalty of $5 upon persons who take such animals into the Park, but as that fact is not generally known, scarcely a day passes with-out the members of the Park Guard being compelled to notify visitors that they cannot take canines with them. Yesterday an indi-vidual made his appearance in company with a big blood hound, and appeared quite indig-nant when informed that if he desired to enter the Park he would have to be separated from his companion.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT .- James Neil, aged 12 years, was ascending to the third story of Hartman's bakery, on Penn street, below Pine, about nine o'clock tals morning. He rine, about nine o'clock this morning. He was upon the elevator, and when it reached the second story the reached the second story, the rope broke. ## Spanish Givil War.

The London Economist fears that affairs in Spain are drifting fast towards civil war. Prim cannot come back to office as mere Minister, for that would be merely to continue interregnum-without its search for a foreign king—which, after this last rebuff, it will be nearly impossible to continue. On the other hand, if he comes back as Dictator under any title, the Republicans will inse: while if he comes back as President of a Republic, he will be resisted by the Monarchist section of the army, much of which has adhered to him because he promised to renew the Spanish monarchy, and, if released from his influence, would probably proclaim Serrano regent, and the Prince of the Asturias king. The latest intelligence shows that parties in Spain are well aware of the danger to which the country is exposed, and proposed to meet it by a temporary creation of a dictatorship. But will that meet it? The Cabinet with its main that thee it? The Caonet with its ina-jority in the Cortes is virtually absolute now, and to create the dictatorship is only to dis-pense with a certain amount of legal support. There is no doubt, for example, that Serrano, if made dictator, will advocate the cause of the Prince of the Asturias, but his new postthe Prince of the Asturias, but his new posi-tion will not prevent Marshal Prim from carrying out his pledge that there shall be no more Bourbon kings. If Ser-rano and Prim could agree on that nomination, no doubt something might be ac-complished, for it would appear a natural one to the majority of the people; but even then there would be the Republican party to sub-due once more. The situation in fact seems to be one from which extrication is impossi-ble until one of the three parties has been deble until one of the three parties has been de feated, a defeat which can be accomplished only by an armed struggle almost sure to as-sume the dimensions of a civil war.

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD.

Payable May and November in New York and London,

Free of Government Tax.

FIRST MORTGAGE CONVERTIBLE SINKING FUND BONDS AT 95.

ISSUED BY THE Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railroad Company.

Yielding about 10 per cent. currency; principal fifty years to run, payable in gold. Secured by the railroad, branches, depot grounds, rolling stock, equipment and franchises of the company.

These bonds are only issued upon each section of the road as fast as the same is completed and in successful operation. Two and a half millions of dollars bave been xpended on this road. Eighty-three miles are nearly ompleted and equipped, and slready show large caraings, and the remainder of the line is rapidly progressing in construction.

This Loan has been selected by our firm after a thor-Anis Loan has been selected by our firm after a thereough and careful investigation, consequently we have no healtation in recommending it to our friends as a perfectly safe, profitable and first-class security. Our opinion is fully confirmed by the following strong letter from the experienced and eminently successful me of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company :

PENNSYLVANIA BAILROAD COMPANY.

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE,
PHILADELPHIA, May II, 1869.
Messrs: HENRY CLEWE & CO., 32 Wall street.
Gentlemen: In answer to your request of the 7th dit., for our apinion as to the condition and prospects of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Ballway, the character of the country through which it passes, and the probable success of the enterprise, we would state, that before accepting the trust imposed upon us by the First Mortgage Bonds of this Company, we had fully satisfied ourselves as to the practicability of the enterprise.

The Road starts at one of the most flourishing cities on the Northern Mississippi river, and runs in a Northon the Northern Mississippi river, and runs in a North-westerly direction upthe great rich Cedar Valley, con-necting at prominent points along the line with, six dif-ferent Railroads, now in active operation, nearly all of which must be, more orders, tributary or feeders to this

This enterprise is destined to become, in connection with others now in operation or being constructed, one of the great trunk lines from Lake Superior, via St. Paul, Cedar Hapids and Burlington, to St. Louis, and to the East, over the Toledo, Peoria, and Warsaw. and the Pennsylvania Baliroads, which we present, and warraw, and the Pennsylvania Baliroads, which we present.

Buffsside from this, the populous condition of the country along the line of this road, its great productive. ness and wealth, give sufficient guaranty of a good local business, which, for any road, is the best reliance or success.

A good index of the prosperity and wealth of the country through which this road passes may be found in the fact that the Company report overs million and a quarter dollars subscribed and expended by individuals residing along the line in pushing on one hundred and sixty miles of the work, and it also a strong proof of the local opularity and necossi

Yours respectfully. J. EDGAR THOMSON, President of the Penn a R. R. Co. Trustoos. CHARLES L. FROST, Pres't Toledo, Pecria & Warsaw R. R. Co.

As an evidence of the resources and immense traffic of the section of country through which this road runs we present the following oppicial statement of the SURPLIE AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS SHIPPED FROM THE STATE OF IOWA by the different railroads therein, during the year ending April 30, 1869, Just issued by ecretary of State : Number of horses.... Number of cattle.....

Number of cattle 80.237 Number of hogs 513.357 Number of sheep..... 52,733 .. 7.5%2.579 ... 9,195,643 Corn, bushels .... . 2.210.303 Other grains, the Other grams, bushels. .. 1,503,047 Other agricultural products, lbs ..27 508 707 Flour, and other agricultural products, ibs...... 32,703 Animal products not otherwise specified, ibs...... 10.93,110 The preceding official statement is made up almost exclusively of the shipments Eastward, and does not in-clude the amount of Produce shipped Eastward from Dubuque or McGregor; which would swell the totals materially. If the shipments Westward by the railroads were given, they would swell immensely this surprising exhibit of surplus products. THIS ROAD ALSO RUNS THROUGH THE BIOH AND GROWING STATE OF MINNESOTA. Reference to the map of the United States will show that THIS ROAD PASSES THROUGH THE MOST EN-TERPRISING AND GROWING PORTION OF THE WEST AND FORMS ONE OF THE GREAT TRUNK LINES IN DIRECT COMMUNICATION WITH NEW YORK, CHICAGO and ST. LOUIS, being to the Inter city 90 miles nearer from Northern Iowa, and all portions of the fitate of Minnesota, than by any other road now built or projected, and also the nearest route from Central and Southern Iowa. This road is required by the wants of that section where a large and increasing traffic is waiting for it, and needs railroad communication. THE BUYER OF THESE BONDS IS THEREFORE GUARAN-TEED BY A GREAT BUSINESS ALREADY IN EXISTENCE, AND HAS NOT TO RUN ANY OF THE CONTINGENCIES WHICH ALWAYS AT TEND UPON THE OPENING OF ROADS INTO NEW AND UNSETTLED COUNTRY.

We offer these bonds for the present at 95 and accrued interest. WE RECOMMEND THEM TO INVESTORS AND OFFICERS OF FINANCIAL IN-YESTURS AND OFFICERS OF FINANCIAL IN-STITUTIONS, WHO DESIRE TO CHANGE THEIR HIGH-PRICED INVESTMENTS FOR A SECURITY WHICH PRESENTS EVERY RLE-MENT OF SAFETY, AND AT THE SAME TIME YIELDS A MUCH HIGHER RATE OF INTE-
