THE NEW DEMOCRATIC GOSPEL Mr. John Campbell joins hands with a few other enlightened Democrats in this city and appeals to his party to come up bravely to the ulvanced requirements of the time; to bury dead issues, and to start afresh in the race with whatever advantages can be secured by acceptance of the fixed consequences of reconstruction. There can be no doubt that the only hope of the Democratic party lies in adaptation to its own use of the new material wholly unable to understand how this argucandid admission of its past errors, and its supplied by Republican legislation. It would eem impossible that any negro voter should ever give his support to the party which kept his race in slavery, which fought a bloody war to perpetuate that bondage, which opposed every measure that aimed to give negroes the rights of freemen, and which, for years, has ridiculed, maligned and insulted the race. But experience in the South has proved that large numbers of negroes have been foolish enough to listen to the entreaties of their enemies and to cast their votes with the faction that oppressed and | its charge, so that there is yet an open field of degraded them. It is not that the Democrats are ashamed to cajole where they have ridiculed, or to praise where they have strong endorsements given to it by our best nsed insult and libel; it is that they are pigheaded and obstinate, and that they cannot overcome their foolish prejudice against the row policy which desires to drive a business negro even when it is manifestly to their ad- out of Philadelphia because its headquarters vantage to do so. But Mr. Lovegrove, as we are informed, does not ordinarily inspect boilers himself, and some of his assistante, at least, are persons who were rejected by the Board which appointed him. The inspectors of the Hartford Company are carefully selected and thoroughly competent men.

Their system of inspection goes further than the city inspection, for it examines every boiler that can be so examined, both inside and outside, and the periodical inspections are made with great regularity. That the work of the lartford Company is not only well done, but best done, is testified by the fact that eight hundred boilers, including the establishments of very many of the largest and most enlightened manufacturers of Philadelphia, have been

But how does this weaken the security ( human life? Unless we are to adopt the exclusive system, which has been exploded, even n China, and build a wall around Philadelphia o keep our money in, and our neighbors out; unless we banish all the foreign insurance ompanies, all the commission houses who sell New England goods, everybody doing busiiess here, whose headquarters are anywhere lse; this argument will not avail to destroy e privileges of this Hartford Company.

Third: Making money and saving life are ncompatible principles. This is relied upon as the great argument against the Hartford inspection. It is not only an inspection company; it is likewise an insurance company. It nspects boilers, and then it insures machinery, buildings, goods, against damage by boiler exolosions. So far from this system being incompatible with a due regard for human life, t atfords the greatest additional security to numan life. If the City Inspector, moved by a regard for his salary and perquisites, will make a careful and proper inspection of boilers, how much more a company which has thousands of dollars at stake, in every beiler under its charge. The protection of machinery, buildings and goods certainly implies and involves the protection of human life, and we are ment can be used except to the highest advantage of the Hartford Company.

The Ledger further says that the Hartford In one sense, that of the same sort of competition which the Ledger and every other business establishment depends upon for its success, this is true, but in no other. According to Mr. Lovegrove's last report, there are fifteen hundred or two thousand boilers in this city which he has never inspected. Of these, the Hartford Company has eight hundred under

They propose that the ar shall be thrown open to the pupils of the common schools and other educational establishments of the country, at competitive examinastated intervals. The passage of a law to this effect will preclude the possibility of a traffic in these appointments such as that which has recently been exposed; and it would be likely to secure the best men in the country for the military service. Positions in the two acadamies are sought for eagerly by youths of all classes, and they are regarded as prizes worthy of most ambitious effort. The New York Money Market. From the Herald of to-day.] SUNDAY, March 6.—Wall street has within the pa week afforded ample topics for reflective mir ds. The sudden dash towards specie payments which our flau ces have taken furnishes a spectacle calculated to ma the American valupiorious of his country and instit tiona. In addition to the causes which have produce the decline of sold to 1026 there is any which has n tions. In addition to the causes which have produce the decline of gold to 1234 there is one which has no been prominently noticed, but which has been none in less operative, and that is the important position which our country has taken among the mation of the globe. We are no longer a little france of civiliza-tion on the edge of the Atlantic, but a people of vac-wealth and strength. It is only sluce the war the Europe has come to regard us as other than a sort colony, energetic and enterprising, but without stabilit wealth and ströngth. It is only since the war it wealth and ströngth. It is only since the war it colory, energetic and enterprising, but without stabil or stamma. But the cable, the press and the steams! have nevelation:col these ideas of us, and Europe wealth is turning townrds us for inverse ment. The ocean telegraph in particul has brought the people on both sides the Atlantic into a community of finances, and the site is not far distant when New York, London, Paris at Frankfort will be as closely united as now are New Yor Bostow. Philadelphis and Chicago. The metropolis date of the worly years New York will be the centre of e change, as Lendon now is. The cole, in making connection between our money centres and thesin the tribution of capital just as the operations of New Yor is been at the states that of the strenge of the worl is brought the business of the change of the state in the business of the change of the strength in the distribution of capital just as the operations of New Yor is because that for eight on the business of the civilized world it is because a knowledge of us is becoming energing for one setting inverties. But the other of comportant is not a uniformity in the other in abroad that foreign capital is coming here or setting investment in our government or corporante securities. The objection to us heretofore was that we were a new people, without the maturity and experience of European countries. But the intree grad agreences of the press, steam and tolograph are making our institutions familiar everywhere. Hence on fluance a divery people with that of other countries. The process of redemption by the country banks has either been con-cluded or suspended, the slut of national notes not being so remerkable of late.
