CITY BULLETIN.

ALLEGED REVENUE FRAUD.—Gottleib Manz vas this morning before U. S. Commissioner Hibler. The charge was that he used a second time, at his lager beer brewery, some cancelled stamps. His brewery is on Sixth street, above Clearfield avenue. The case seems to show the great advantage that would accrue if the Commissioner could hear evidence on both sides of the question in cases where but a single witness appears for the prosecution. The defendant was represented by Counsellor Charles M. Neal. The testimony was this: Henry Pabst, No. 332 Brown street, testified that he had pasted old stamps on the kegs in Manz's brewery. Mr. Manz, he said, had di-rected him to do this. Witness had worked. for him less than three weeks, and some time ago. He testified that he used them nearly ago. He testine that they were furnished by Manz. Witness was not a driver; he worked inside the brewery. He first worked in the cellar, and was then promoted to the raul As such he received the stamps for the casks; sometimes the witness sent the stamps to a man in the cellar to put them on. They were 12½c., 35c., and 50c. stamps. Any one can tell a stamp once used, because it has paste on the a stamp once used, because it has passe of the upper side. The cancelled stamps were mixed with the genuine ones. The witness spoke so little English as to be a tedious customer to the Commissioner. Counsellor Neal cross-examined him. He went to work without stipulated wages. For the time that he was there Mr. Manz paid him $20. The drivers leave word each day how mucl beer they have sold for the next day's delivery. In this case the stamps are prepared for them early in the morning. Manz never handed him direct a single stamp. Sometimes Manz wasn't there at all. About seven such cancelled stamps were used every day. He never got any stamps from Mrs. Manz. He left Manz because he couldn't get along with the coopers. He entered the complaint against Manz on the next day. He never said that he was drunk when he made the complaint, and that he was sorry for it. He denied that he had offered to leave the city if Manz would pay him $50. Adjourned till noon to-morrow. LOCAL CHOWDER .- No one is permitted to see the alleged murderer of little Mary Mohrmann now in the pentientiary. That he shall not follow the example of Twitchell and die by poison, the District Attorney and Prison Inspectors are determined. With the exception of counsel, no outsider will be permitted to visit his cell. The miscrable man married his present wife at the age of thirteen years. His so-called confession is no confession at all. The chain of evidence that is to hang him was discovered, link by link, by Private Detectives Taggart and Smith, and by City Detective Tryon. Mr. Smith spent nineteen consecutive days in the murderer's cell. The extent of the labor involved in illustrating that "murder will out" is realized by few. A couple of weeks ago the main street of Atlantic City was as bare of people as a ball-alley. At this moment almost every house there is being prepared for summer business. During the past winter the sea has been cutting in deeply in the vicinity of the light-The Canutes who kept the hotels are more than ever puzzled.

The new building for William C. Baker, Esq., at the junction of Brown, Twelfth and Ohve streets, will be one of the finest manufacturing establishments in the city. For the manufacturing of chandeliers abundant light is as indispensable as good digestion is to cheerfulness. This spacious building will front on three streets. It will have light from four sides. The workmen are operating elbow to elbow. The intention is to render the work a credit to the industrial interests of Philadelphia.

THE MISTO TUNES OF A POLICEMAN. FOR some time past James Morrow has been sepal rated from his wife. Last night he went to the house where she is residing, on Titon street, above Sixteenth, and asked to see her. She refused to have anything to do with him. He then attempted to follow her up stairs. She screamed for assistance. The cries attracted the attention of Policeman Hunter. He ran to the house. He seized Morrow, and the two men clinched. They got out into the yard and fell against the grape-arbor. The arbor was not sufficiently strong to bear the weight against it, and came down. Then there was quite a mixture of men, grape vine and lum-ber. Morrow disentangled himself and drew out the policeman's club. With this he banged Hunter on the head several times, causing severe injuries, and making the assistance of a surgeon necessary. Hunter stuck to his man, however, and succeeded in getting him to the station-house. After a hearing before Ald. Dallas, Morrow went to prison.

Another Revenue Case.—Merino Merino was this morning before United States Commissioner C. P. Clarke. He was charged with violating section 89 of the Revenue act passed 20th July, 1868, by removing cigars without being stamped and packed in boxes.

Col. Peter Sides testified that on Thursday morning he found a book in the room of Emanuel Seuza. He found that Merino Marino had purchased cigars from Souza. He had told witness that he had advanced money to make the cigars and took them in bundles in payment. He acknowleged the address to be in his handwriting.

payment. He acknowleged the address to be in his handwriting.

Mrs. Anna Souza recognized Merino Merino as a man who sometimes took cigars in bundles from her husband's house; she had seen him writing in the account-book produced by Colonel Sides.

The Commissioner held defendant to bail in the sum of $1,000.

How A Thier was Carriered.—A panel in he door of the house of Samuel Sellers, No. he door of the liouse of Samuel Sellers, No. 316 Callowhill street, was kicked in at an arly hour yesterday morning. Mr. Sellers heard the noise, got up, and upon raising an alarm a fellow ran away, dropping his cap in his flight. Mr. Sellers picked up the cap and gave it to Policeman McGarry. The officer looked around, and after daylight sawa man wearing a straw hat. He accosted him with, "Lost your cap?" The response was "Yes." Policeman said, "I will get it for you," and in a few minutes produced the missing cap." "That is it," remarked the other, and then the policeman said, "I want you." The prisoner gave his name as Barney Cannon, and was held in $600 bail by Ald. Massey.

FATAL ACCIDENTS.—John Smith, a laborer, employed on the railroad between Holmesburg and Bustleton, fell from a hand-car, vesterday, and struck against a trestle-work. He was instantly killed. He was thirty-eight years of age, married, and resided at Holmesburg.
