Philadelphia Money Market Philadelphia Money Market. Monpar. March 28.—There is no material alteration in the local money market, either in the demand for loans or in the tono of lenders. Borrowers on call are freely supplied at 50 per cent. where dovernment or other ehoice collaterals are presented. The market is dull. In commercial paper there is very little doing, the offer-ings being exceedingly small for this season of the year. Most business people seem to be sailing under closely reeifed carvas, and keep a sharp lookout on the move-ments in Congress on all financial matters. The demand for money is consequently light, and rates easy to good borrowers. The banks appear alaumed at the heavy business failures in New York, during last week, and scratinize closely all paper presented.
