CITY BULLETIN. LOCAL CHOWDER.—The storm that is the usual concomitant of the present vernal equi-nox may now be considered as finished and done for. The ladies are out to-day in such numbers that parts of Chestnut street present the appearance of a parterre of flowers. The Yazoo sails on Saturday for New Orleans, from Queen street wharf. Freight is coming in very rapidly. The South is largely ordering all kinds of machinery and agricultural implements. The picker-rooms in the basements of the Manayunk manufactories are so arranged

Manayunk manufactories are so arranged that in case of freshet the whole can be raised from floor to ceiling. The color of the water in the Schuylkill this morning is about the color of the coffee served at the tables of three-dollar boarding-houses. The Delaware is suggestive of the appearance of a river of chocolate. The interment of the late Edwin Coolidge,

The interment of the late Edwin Coolidge, yesterday, was one of the largest pri-vate funerals at which we were ever present. The character and standing of the deceased were illustrated by the presence of a large number of the first merchants and bankers of Philadelphia-such citizens as Messrs. Charles Macalester, Joseph B. Myers, Samuel Bunting, Chas. B. Durbor-row, Isaac F. Baker, Robert S. Beid, E. D. Whitney and others. The officiating clergy-men were Rev. Drs. Reed and Withrow. The sidewalk thower merchants are now ex-hibiting their merchandise. The trouble is

This is more emanating the more methanism. especially the case with roses. They shoot rapidly upward, hear a few flowers, and then die from the effects of a floricultural debauch. Dependence for a succession of bloom is only to be placed upon plants whose infancy was more sedately spent. The "interviewing" of Mr. Graeff, yester-duy, by the Fitteenth Ward committee of cifizens, who want more water, was satisfac-tory to all parties. The proceedings opened with a grand tableau. The Chief looked at the committee, the committee looked at the coal-scuttle, while the coal-scuttle looked at Mr. Graeff's spotted dog, reposing under the table. Each gentleman went away with a FIRE IN THE FIFTH WARD.—Last even-ing, between 'six and seven o'clock, a fire broke out in a storehouse in the rear of No. 113 South Delaware avenue, occupied by Messrs: Koons, Brother & Co., dealers in pro-visions. Upon the place being entered, the fire was seen to be on the second floor, and before it had been checked it had spread to the third and fourth floors, destroying or greatly damaging a large stock of cheese and a number of bags of peanuts. The storehouse fronting on the avenue is chiefly occupied by the firm above named. Messrs. Isaac B. Ben-ners & Co., dealers in fruit, have the first floor. All the damage in this building was floor. All the damage in this building was to the stock by water, and the loss in both storehouses is covered by insurance. The rear building is owned by Mr. Joseph R.

PHILADELPHIAN MURDERED -Chiof Mulholland, this morning, received a letter from the authorities of Kent county, Delaware, in the authorities of Kent county, Delaware, in reference to the murder of the man supposed to be a Philadelphian, named Hogan, at Cam-den, in that county. The particulars of the affair appeared in a telegraph despatch pub-lished in the BULLETIN yesterday. The deceased had in his pocket a card of a clothing and dveing establishment, No. 632 Pino street. On the back was written "Thomas Hogan." There was also an express receipt for goods shipped for Milford, Del. Any information in regard to the deceased should be sent to W. H. Sarde, Deputy Coro-ner, Camden, Kent county, Del.

FIRE IN THE ELEVENTH WARD .- This FIRE IN THE ELEVENTH WARD.—This morning, about four o'clock, a fire broke out in the large warehouse No. 336 North Water street, occupied by Hammill & Pyle, produce commission merchants. The flames were dis-covered by Sergeant Coates, of the Fourth District Police, who notified the Vigilant Fire Company and gave the alarm. The firemen were soon on the ground, and succeeded in confining the fire to the first and second stories of the building. The stock was con-siderably injured both by fire and water.

SHOOTING BETWEEN POLICEMEN AND BUB-CLARS.— This morning, about half-past twelve o'clock, two men were seen at Tenth and Ogden street acting in a suspicious manner. They had burglar's tools with them. Police-men Clark and Kneass, of the Eighth District, started after the fellows. One of the latter stopped, drew a revolver, aimed it at Clark and nred. The shot did not take effect. Clark returned the fire, but he made a bad shot also, and the two pues successed in second and the two men succeeded in escaping.

BROUGHT TO THE CITY.-Wm. Atkinson, colored, who was arrested in New York by Detective Field, of that city, was brought to the city by that officer and reached here this afternoon. He was committed by Coroner Taylor to await his trial. He is charged with the murder of John H. Tilghman in this city. A young colored woman, named Anna Miller, charged with being an accessory to the murder, was also brought to this city, and was likewise committed.

Twenty-second and Walnut streets has so continued that this morning the chasm, in several places, was more than four feet in depth. The situation, therefore, is extremely dangerous. A culvert was recently run under the street. What now puzzles the parties in-terested is, whether the culvert is broken at the noint over which the pavement has sunk, or whether the fissure has been made at a point below. scaman upon the vessel in question. A CHANGE OF EXPRESSION.—We've seen various "companion pictures." A boy laugh-ing and a boy crying are cases in point. We yesterday saw a pair of "companion pic-tures" that were not only alive but noisy. We called upon a lady yesterday afternoon. We inquired for her son Allen, a young gen-tleman of two kite seasons. The lady was in-formed by the servant that Master Allen was on the roof of the house, indulging in the pas-time of flying his kite. This was a prohibited amusement in that household. It was pro-hibited because of the strong probability that Master Allen would tumble off the roof. The lady first rushed for an instrument of flagellady first rushed for an instrument of flagel-lation, and then up to the fourth story. She at-tempted nothing of the kind. With her most endearing smile and in her softest tones, she said: "Allen, darling child, come down and get some cake—come gently, dear; take care of the parapet. Never mind your kite." This scene is picture No. 1. Picture No. 2 shows a different expression on the face of the mother. It is a cross between relief and inshows a different expression on the face of the mother. It is a cross between relief and in-dignation. Instead of darling child, as she catches the urchin by the collar she calls him "little scoundrel." Sounds of woe and lamen-tation are now mingled with the sound of falling leather, and Master Allen descends the stairs as striped as a juvenile Zebra. The squealing of Master Allen was audible half a square distant. He now looks upon the sport in question as doubly dangerous.

in question as doubly dangerous. How A POLICEMAN Lost HIS HEAD.—Some people, when clothed with a little "brief authority" swell up very much in self-import-ance. Some not only imagine that they own everything, but that they are privileged to do pretty much as they please. Of such a class is a policeman, who made his appearance at Fifth and Chestnut streets this morning. A colored man was offering for sale a lot of calamus. Policeman took a piece and didn't make any signs that he intended paying for it. Colored man demanded pay. "I don't want any chi lip from you," was the reply he re-ceived. Colored man said that he made his living by selling calamus and he must be paid. Mr. Policeman romarked that if anything more was said about it he would lock up the calamus vender. The latter said that he night arrest him, but he thought that he bad aright to protect his own property. He was then arrested and rushed into the Central Station. There a few words passed between the turnkey and the police-man, and then the prisoner was searched. In accomplishing this the policeman acted 'very roughly, and tore the coat of the man. For some unknown reason the prisoner was not locked up. The city guardian then attempted to compromise matters by offering to pay for the calamus which he had taken, but said nothing about the damaged coat. Several gen-tlemen who witnessed the entire scene stated the case to Mayor Fox, and he promptly 're-isored the taxpayers from paying that police-man any further salary. THE SUPPOSED MURDER AT TRENTON, NEW JERSEY.

NEW JERSEY. Unravelling the Assanplük Creek Mystery. On the Alert. About five weeks ago a girl, named Esther Robinson, was found drowned in Assanpink creek, Trenton, N. J. The full particulars were published, together with the surmises of the inhabitants of the locality that the poor girl was foully dealt with. Since the sad occurrence took place facts have come to light that would seem to con-firm the worst suspicions. The neigh-bors say that the girl was on terms of inti-inacy with a man (whose name is withheld for the present) who at the same time had a wife in Europe, and that their intimacy was carried on up to the time of the wife's arrival in this country.—the day previous to the findin this country—the day previous to the find-ing of the girl's body. It seems that the wife returned again to Europe after remaining with her husband for a period of only two weeks. It is also said that the wife was subjected to very cruel treatment by her husband, which accounts for her speedy return to the Old Country. Those who were intimately acquainted with Esther Robinson state that the supposition of suicide is inadmissible, because on the very last evening when she was seen alive she ap-peared quite cheerful and talked with rather more wirest than usera. Little here here noted more vivacity than usual. Little has been said about her to the man referred to, as the authorities do not desire to evince their suspi cions against him. When questioned at first in reference to the natter he was morose and unwilling to make any statement, and what-ever information he gave was not calculated to impress one with his innocence. The case is so shrouded in mystery, however, that al-though one of the shrewdest detectives of Philodelphic expression in minimum the theory of Philadelphia expresses his opinion that a case can be made out against the suspected indi-vidual, no satisfactory evidence has yet been obtained to furnish any hope for conviction.

Facts and Figures.

The annual election in Connecticut takes place next Monday, and the vote of the two parties is so nearly equal that we urge every Republican elector now at home not to start on a journey till after voting, and every elector now away from home to make his way back to his own fireside before Saturday shall give place to Stunday. If Gov. Jewell shall be beaten, it can only be through apathy or heed-lessness on the part of those who should be his supporters: make sure that the fault—if fault there be—shall not be yours! There are just about one hundred thousand legal voters in Connecticut, and her highest vote ever cast for President was that of 1868, which stood:
