RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Middle States, 32 in the South, 64 on the Pa-cific Coast, and 1,177 in the interior (ten States), more than one-third. Of the 300,362 members, 189,859 are in New England, 74,642 in the in-terior, 110,574 out of New England. Of the 144 churches organized last year, 10 were in New England, 90 in the interior, nearly two-thirds, 18 in the South, 19 in the Middle States, and 7 in the Pacific States. A COMMUNICATION published by Mr. J. G. Furey, Protestant Episcopal City Missionary at the Almshouse, contains the following: "It may be interesting to state that the service is - attended usually by about one-fourth of the whole number of the inmates of the insane hole number of the inmates of the insan department. The number in attendance varies from one hundred and fifty to two hun dred persons, of which about two-thirds are fcmales. They are remarkably quiet and er-erly in their deportment while in attendance n these services." Among the many charitable societies with which our city is blessed, the St. Vincent d which our city is blessed, the St. Vincent de Paul Society stands among the foremost. As each Catholic church in the city has a regu-larly-organized branch of the Society, the amount of good done is almost incalculable. Committees are appointed, to whom are as-signed districts, and poor families thus regu-larly visited and relieved. We the other day saw the last annual report of M. A. Quinn, Esq., Secretary of the Conference at St. Joseph's Church, and taking this as a criterion, the Conference deserves the warmest thanks

Conference deserves the warmest thank MR. ISAAC MARTIN, Junior Missionary MR. ISAAC MARTIN, Junior Antsolutry of the Episcopal Seamen's Bethel, this city, re ports that during the past four months 250 ships, 30 boarding-houses and 13 shipping firms were visited on behalf of seamen, and ment showed the fact that the Institute had produced its talent for the occasion. The debate, in which several of the younger men-bers participated, was a spirited and highly interesting one. An essay, written for the occasion and delivered by M.I.J. Griffin, I.S.G., was pronounced the best literary treat of the sevening. In their new quarters, the I hilopatrians seem more sanguine of success than ever before, and will perhaps yot be num-hered among the prominent religious institu-icon of the land. The Rev. Thomas Power; of St. Mary's, is President.
