CITY BULLETIN. THE PRICE OF PERJURY—How THE WIRES ARE PULLED.—One of the neatest pieces of detective business recently done in this city was accomplished in the drenching rain of last night. It was done not only with extreme neatness, but with exceeding expedition. The exploit consisted in the discovery of the whereabouts of three men, for whom war-rants were issued on the charge of perjury. The search was a good deal like the search for three needles in a bale of hay. The accused are well known to the authori-ties, by whom they are regarded with any-

The accused are well known to the authori-tics, by whom they are regarded with any-thing but respect. They seem to have deceived Judge Paxson yesterday in a conspiracy to-enter straw bail for Mrs. Waite, a woman who was committed to await the charge of setting fire, some days ago, to premises No. 431 North Eighth street. The release of Mrs. Waite was accomplished by the exhibition of deeds of various parcels of real estate. The deeds are in the name of James S. Park, who in March, 1868, sold the property to one Charles Dott. What seems to all Charles is that he lent his deeds to one Henry Reichart, and Dott. What seems to all charles is that he lent his deeds to one Henry Reichart, and that Henry personated Mr. Parks, and swore himself, before Judge Paxson, to be bonafide owner of the property. The negotiation was done, it is alleged, with a character named Antoine Auer.

The swearing was done with such facility, and the deeds exhibited in such apparent good faith, that his Honor couldn't do other-wise than liberate the prisoner. The price of the job was sixty dollars. Immediately after the transaction Assistant

SPECIAL SALE OF ITALIAN MARBLE GABDEN AND MONUMENTAL STATUARY.

A collection of Italian Marble Garden and Monumental Statuary, Carden Vases, &c., imported from Italy by Messrs. VITI BROS. (late Vite Viti & Sons), will be sold at Public Sale by Mr. JAMES A. FREEMAN, at the Salesrooms, No. 422 WALNUT Street, on THURSDAY MORNING, April 7, at 10 o'clock. The collection is now arranged for examination, and Catalogues can be had of the Auctioneer or the Importers.

Immediately after the transaction Assistant District Attorney Pratt entertained misgiv-ings that something was wrong. The sight of the villainous mug of the man who thus swore away his soul inspired him with this distrust. Upon searching the records he found, as above. stated, that the property represented by the deed belonged to Dotts. He therefore put the matter into the hands of Chief Kelly. Accom-neurod by Detective Miller and ex-Detective matter into the hands of Chief Kelly. Accom-paned by Detective Miller and ex-Detective Webb, he started out to scour the city. They found Antoine Auer in a bagnio in Julianna street, kept hy a sister of Mrs. Waite. They captured keichart in a tenement in St. John street, and overhauled Dotts in Library street, early this morning. Reichart is a shoemaker. Dotts lives at 1527 Wharton street, and claims to do business in real estate at No. 138 South to do business in real estate at No. 138 Sonth Eighth street. Auer lives at 118 Dana street. Since the burning of the den called the At lantic Garden, in which he was a bar-tender he has had no visible employment. The property which Reichart (alias Parks) swore that he owned included eight lots in Styles street, fifteen building lots in Frank-ford, and seven in Melrose street, worth $7,000 in all. The deeds which he fraudulently swore to were found this morning in Dott's pocket. The prisoners were arraigned this noon be-fore Alderman Beitler at the desire of Chief Kelly, in order to avoid a rush to the Central Station. Mr. Galton went through the form deposing to the release of Mrs. Waite on the the house in Julianna street testified very the nouse in Junania street testined very straightforwardly, and gave the officers all assistance in her power. Anxious to obtain bail for her sister-in-law, she was overheard talking about it by Auer. The latter undertook to find ade-quate surety for a consideration. The woman agreed to give sixty dollars. That she could give no more, she said was because she bad'nt it to give. Auer started out, and re-turned with Reichart, to whom he introduced her. Reichert was then introduced to her. Reichert was then introduced to to Mrs. Waite's counsel, and the deeds were exhibited. With the understanding that all would be right, the swearing was then done, and the object accomplished. Auer then re-ceived, as he all mits, the sixty dollars. It was in the shape of a sight draft for $50 upon Counsellor John O'Byrne, and two five-dollar but the game 340 of it to Reichert as the bills. He gave $40 of it to Reichart as the price of his soul, $10 to Dott, five dollars to Counsellor Harner, and kept five dollars for himself. With the exception of Auer, none of the defendants asked any questions of the witnesses. They had no counsel. Auer appealed to the woman to say whether he had told her that he personally knew the proposed bail to be responsible. She answered in the negative. Auer thought it hard that, for a paltry five dollars, he should be involved with Reichart and Dott in the double charge of conspiracy and subornation of perjury. The magistrate held the trio in $5,000 ball each to answer the charge as above. In this connection we take pleasure in applauding the promptness with which Chief Kelly and his aids accomplished this arrest. A hunt for birds like the above is often as fruitless as a hunt for last year's partridges.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING.—Last night, about 10 o'clock, George Griffith, tumbled into the Delaware, at Cattell's wharf. He was rescued from drowning by officers Verrill and Morriss, of the Harbor Police, and was taken to the vessel on which he was engaged as a sailor.

At 11 o'clock last night, a sailor, belonging to the schooner Amelia Jenning, walked into the Delaware, at Arch street wharf. Officers the Delaware, at Arch street what. Oncers Verill and Morriss, of the Harbor Police, heard the splash, and went promptly to the assistance of the man. Verill jumped into the river and reached the drowning man just as he had become insensible He seized him and swam to the dock. Here he had considerable trouble. The what log was very slippery and he lost his hold every time he attempted to get out. Finally Officer Morris succeeded in getting out the insensible man, and then helped Offi-cer Verrill. The former was taken to the vessel on which he belonged and was properly cared for.

OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULT. John McCrea went to the house of Mary Pierce, on Sergeant street, east of Frankford road, yesterday. He rang the bell and asked Miss Pierce for a eap. She replied that she had no cap to give him. He stepped into the street, picked up a paving-stone, and thraw it at Miss Pierce. The mis-sile struck her in the head and knocked her down. He hurled another stone at her. This missed its mark, but struck the door. Me-Crea was arrested. Upon the charge of as-sault and battery he was arraigned before Alderman Heins, and was held in $1,000 bail. OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULT .-- John McCrea went

THE HOLY LAND.

Effect of the Famine in Jerusalem. A letter has been received in London from he Anglican Bishop of Jerusalem, which corroborates the statement, made on this nainfu subject, by Sir Moses Montefiore. The Bishop, in his letter, says: A small donkey's load of water costs 6d. to

A small donkey's load of water costs out of the poor Jews, whose family income is 1s. 1d. per week. Many Moslems and nominal Chris-tians are in the same position. What is most dreadful to contemplate is the fact that the springs near Jerusalem are drying up. But there is another more terrible calamity still. The locusts are spread over the mountains of The locusts are spread over the mountains of Judah and Samaria, in the valley of Jordan, and in the plain of Sharon and Galilee, having come to lay their eggs, which will be hatched before the harvest; and as the Arabs say that each couple lays two hundred eggs, countless millions will appear, eating every green thing, poisoning the ground, and thus preventing grass growing for the cattle

CITY NOTICES. GREAT FLOWER AND MILLINERY EMPO-"Opening Day" smong the millhors The day was auxpicious, and the attendance general. We were struck with one remarkable fact in the events of the day that is worth repeating. The celebrated old house of Messrs. Thomas Kennedy & Brothers, No. 729 Chestnut street-the loading importers of fine flowers and French millinery in America-did not publicly an-nounce their opening at all; and yet their imnucleus of bonnet-wearing humanity that we have ever seen. Other establishments were thronged, but there was possibility of ingress. At Kennedy's we plead guilty of having remained an outside spectator because we could not get in. We had not the course to attempt it. The day following, however, we responded to their reception card, when we easily discovered the ason for the rush on the previous day. Their stock f elegant French Bonnets and Huts seemed illimitable and the picturesque manner in which the store was decorated with flowers, aquariums, avaries, and terneries for the occasion, rendered the scene as fairy-like as anything terrestrial could well be. Tog great praise could not possibly be given to their exhibition. End eas variety and exquisite tasts were everywhere apparent, not only in their superb lines of made Bonnets and Bonnets but is their suberb lines of made Bonnets and Hats, but in their richly stocked cases of French Fictures (in which the Kennedys rival any market in he world), trimmings of every description and numberces classes and styles of Millinery Materials. This firm, we may state, makes it a point to import a certain number of bonnets every month during the season, in addition to which they visit all the millinery houses of note in New York and Boston, with a view to improving upon any and all bonnets and hats that the best American markets afford. By this means they have achieved, not only the reputation of presenting the largest and most attractive assoriment, but also of sell-ing the choicest things at considerably less prices than goods of similar grade are usually sold at. We have already taken occusion to speak of the advantages which Philadelphia presents to purchasers of millingry goods over other cities, and incidentally of those which the house of Kennedy & Brothers possess over younger and less extensive establishments; but in nothing that these contlemen have ever attempted have they so completely semicus involver attempted have they so completely vindicated their title to the pre-eminence as in their Spring Opening of 1870.

The Board of Trustees takes occasion to congratulate the members of the Company upon the continued growth and presperity which have marked the past year, con-cluding a quarter-century of the Company's existence. Notwithstanding the general depression of business throughout the country, and the uncrampled pressure of competition, the new business of 1869 shows an in-crease over the provious very successful year of 1858, as follows: ollows:

holders in dividends, and yet the assens exhibit an in-crease during that period of over the hard a haif million dollars. The significant facts furnished by the preceding fig-ures. The receipts for interest, premiums on sold, &c., were, as in the previous year, more than sufficient to inter the sum paid for losses, this excess being due to the low rate of mertality (proof of a highly indicious se-lection of risks), and the carsful and succes-lection of risks, and the carsful and succes-lection of risks. Such a result is seldom achieved by any company. The very large-moust of dividends disbursed during the year, amounting to one million, fore hundred and thirty-five thousand like hundred and nicty-ninedolars, should especially be noticed. After setting side for re-insurance and other liabilities $11,657,170 01 (nearly two and a half millions in excess of the previous year), a divisible surplus remains of $1,670,760 72. The very chores and is the contribution to surplus," Divideds not used in settlement of premium will be added to the policy. The board presents there facts in the full confidence of their acceptability to policy-holders, believing them to be the and present surplus of of a still and fieldity with which the affairs of the Company have been con-ducted of its present soundness, and of the jutness.
