At the Walnut Street Theatre, this evening. Mr. W. H. Ballev will have a benefit in, Old Heads and Young Heerts. The other benefits during the week are as follows: Wednesday,
Mr. T. J. Hemphill, the business manager; Thursday, Mr. Simon Hassler, the musical director; Saturday, Mr. Lewis Morrison. —At Fox's American Theatre, to-night, a miscellaneous performance will be given.

—At the Eleventh Street Opera House, to-night, the new burlesques of Frou-Frou, The French Dancing-master, and The Streets of Philadelphia will be produced.

—At the Seventh Street Opera House, Messrs. Duprez & Benedict offer a first-class negro minstrel performance, with a number of povelties.

—The panorama representing Pilgrim's Progress will be exhibited at Concert Hall this evening. This exhibition is one of the most successful ever offered in Philadelphia.

—Signor Blitz, Jr., will give an exhibition of magic and legerdemain, at the Assembly Buildings, every evening during the week, and on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. -At the Chestnut, last night, Mrs. Oates appeared with her company in the burlesque, The Field of the Cloth of Gold. The popularity of this burlesque at the time of its last presenof this buriesque at the time of its last pleasing that in this city was very great, but it was deserved, for the performance was exceedingly amusing, and while there was an entire absence of any of the indecency and blackatsence of any of the indeeding and black-guardism which disfigured the performance of the bare and brazen blondes, there was plenty of wifty dialogue, good comic songs, and downright hearty fun, of which the burlesque bell-ringers and the Japs, were the best exponents. The piece is nearly as good as ever. Some of the jokes are ancient, and there is not a sufficient supply of hits at the fools and follies of the times, but there is a great deal of genuine humor in the dialogue and the situations. The company is not quite up to its former standard. Mrs. Oates and the other original members are charming, but some of the recruits are not competent to fill with credit the places of the actors who are missing. But we doubt not the entertainment will continue to enjoy a large measure of popularity, despite its deficiencies. The house was crowded last night (for the lirst time for many months), and the audience was disposed to be enthusiastic. The performance will be re-peated every night this week.

CITY BULLETIN.

LOCAL CHOWDER.—The weather to-day refiects credit upon the month. A few days more, and grass butter will be in market. We already see the gold of the early dandelions besprinkling the verdure of the sward.

The plan for the Delaware river bridge is The plan for the Delaware river bridge is the biggest single drawing of the kind that we have yet seen. It is twenty-eight feet in length. It is a working drawing of the highest possible finish. For the erection of the bridge charters have already been granted by the United States and the States of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. All that is now needed in the way of authority to begin work is the permission of the Secretary of War. The names of the officers of the corporation are not yet published. Mr. Jos. corporation are not yet published. Mr. Jos. W. Bullock, we understand, is its Treasurer. We further understand that ten per cent. of the two millions required to complete the structure is either guaranteed or paid in. The height of the bridge will be 130 feet, and the draw will be worked by a small engine. At such an altitude the opening of the draw will be only occasionally necessary. The operation will be performed almost instantaneously.

Many of the distinguished military visitors who came to participate in the late reunion at the Academy of Music still remain with us. Some of them have beaten their swords into theodolites and dead levels; others have entered into manufacturing pursuits, and others have returned to the books which they abandoned at the proclamation of President Lincoln. They are now profitably putting in the time by visiting our industrial establishments Among the most industrious among them is General Fitzhugh, a graduate of Bowdoin College, and a citizen who can see as far into a grindstone as any gentleman extant.

A party of gentlemen just returned from a day's trout-fishing exhibited to us unusual results. The stream they fished in was the Sau con, that empties into the Lehigh near Hel lerstown. Their luck was so capital that, after this publication, the speckled beauties will be likely to get little rest. The most successful of the party owed his game to the dexterity with which he "tripped his line." The good old times when every stream in our pineries was a stream teeming with trout have gone forever. The sawdust from the saw-mills has literally banished them.

Many a score of little hearts are beating anxiously for, the coming of Saturday. With Easter comes the Vernal six-days' holiday, and the emptying of boarding-schools for the time being:

We recently suggested to the parties interested that if they didn't fill the Curtian gulf at.
Twenty first and Walnut streets the BULLETIN might be called upon to toll their official kinell. The gentlemen appreciated the delicacy of the hint. They filled the gap. Why they have shut, down work and left the Belgian pavement piled midway in the middle of the street is what every horse that passes it is now wondering at. When Mr. Winkle's gun went of at the Pickwickian shooting party, the gamekeeper said: "I've got no family myself, and this boy's mother'll get something handsome if he's shot on Sir Goeffrey's land. Load again, sir; load again." Should some vehicle be overset by this Malakoff of granite at Twenty-first and Walnut streets, let the responsible parties pay the bills and—pile up the stone again.

Tathem, in Fifth street, above Prune. The walking hear is pairted works. walking-beam is painted green. It suggests the idea of a Titanic grasshopper doing up a teeter on a fence-rail. / Not even the engine in teeter on a tence-rail. Not even the engine in the Mint moves with less noise than this re-markable piece of mechanism. It is as unex-citable as the patent lever that ticks in the watch-pocket of Deacon Henry Tathem. It is as safe from mischief as a worn-out wash-tub.

Things will be lively on Wednesday at the West Philadelphia droveyards. Gentlemen who deal in horned cattle are now laying pipe for doubling, henceforth, the business of the season that winds up on Saturday night.

THE ODD FELLOWS.—The annual election for officers of the Grand Lodge, I. O. of O. F., is now being held in the different Lodges of this State, and causes considerable excitement. The prominent candidates are:

For M. W. G. Master-John B. Springer, of No. 127. For R. W. D. G. Master—Alfred Slack, of No.

For R. W. G. Warden—Isaac A. Sheppard, of

For R. W. G. Secretary—James B. Nicholson, of No. 100.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY .- James Doudell, alias Butcher, alias Reddy, was arrested last night at Thirteenth and Callowhill by Police man McGarry, upon the charge of having been concerned in the robbery of the house of Mrs. McDonald, on North Thirteenth street, in February last. A young man named Hackett, charged with the same offence, has been convicted and sent to prison. Doudell has been keeping out of the way since the robbers but we are the same of the way since the robbery, but was met by Policeman McGarry last night and taken into custody. He will have a hearing at the Central Station this ALLEGED WIFE BEATING.—Henry Kelly lives on Abigail street, below Trenton avenue. Yesterday he got drunk. He went home and began to smash the crockery ware. His wife ventured to remonstrate against such conduct. Kelly then pitched into her. He was ar-rested. Alderman Heins heard the case and held the alleged assailant in $500 bail for trial. STILL ALIVE.—Thomas Prosser, who was stabbed late on Saturday night, is still alive. His condition was slightly improved this morning, though extremely critical.

A VETERAN REMOVED.—Mr. George Calla-uan, a veteran detective officer, was removed this morning, and Wm. P. Campbell was appointed in his place. Mr. Callanan is, per-haps, the oldest and most experienced detechaps, the oldest and most experienced detective in the country. He is a native of Philadelphia, but in early life he removed to West Chester. There, in 1831, he commenced the police business, and frequently worked in connection with John McLean and Samuel Garrigues, High Constables of this city. He was found to be an intelligent, active and shrewd officer. His merit was recognized, and he was appointed an officer of this city by Mayor Swift. Since that time he has had a centinuous connection with the detective continuous connection with the defective force. He has been engaged in many important police operations, and was familiar with the countenances and manner of working of different classes of thieves. Several working of different classes of thieves. Several detective officers who now enjoy high reputations were trained by him. The bankers and brokers on Third street will greatly miss Mr. Callanan. His presence in the vicinity of Third and Chestaut streets has kept this city comparatively free from "bond robberies." The successor of Mr. Callanan has been Lieutenant Camybell, of the Fifth Police District. His knowledge of police business is very limited. James Flaherty succeeds Campbell as Lieutenant of the Fifth Police District.

THE CONDITION OF SOUTH BROAD STREET.

—At the stated meeting of the Board of Health, held this day, the following was adopted:

Whereas. The Grand Jury for the March term of the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in their final presentment to Judge Poirce on April 2d, called attention to the just cause of complaint on the part of owners of property on South Broad street, and the contractors who are endeavoring to cleane the streets of our city find it quite impossible, in the present condition of that thorough fare, to do the work required. Therefore

Resolved, That this Board declare said street, in the present condition of its pavement, and also Washington avenue, a nuisance, and ask Councils to take immediate action in having the abandoned railway tracks and the entire roadway put into proper order, so that it may be kept clean and the health of the citizens no longer endangered.

STREET CLEANING.—The Board of Health held a stated meeting to-day. The street-cleaning reports show that a majority of the districts have been well cleaned. Some of the warrants which were held under advisement at the last meeting were passed to-day. The Second and Third districts, from which there were complaints, were visited by a special committee of the Board. The condition of the streets was not satisfactory, and an extra force of men was at once set to work. The expense of this extra force is to be deducted from the warrants of the contractors. The Board has determined to pursue this course with all delinquent contractors. Between January 1 and April 1, 72,230 loads of dirt have been removed from the streets.

Brovests to Public Institutions.—The will of John Cunningham, manufacturer, admitted to probate to-day, contains the following bequests:—College of St. Thomas of Villa Nova, Delaware county, $2,000; St. John's Orphans' Asylum, of Philadelphia, $500; Roman Catholic Society of St. Joseph, for educating and maintaining poor orphan children, Philadelphia, $2,000; House of the Good Shepherd, $500.

After the payment of certain specified bequests to his relatives, the deceased bequeaths the remainder of his estate to the Societies named, in proportions set forth in the will.

Another Death.—Within the past three weeks four persons have died in the house No. 628 Alaska street. Last evening about seven o'clock a man was found dead in the cellar of the house. It is said that a contagious fever was introduced into the house by an inmate of the Almshouse who made his home there a few weeks ago. The police have reported the place to the Board of Health.

Suspicion of Larceny.—Michael Duffy aged 18 years, was arrested yesterday upon suspicion of the larceny of $130, the property of Rose McCaully, the proprietress of a stall in South Eleventh street market. He was aken before Alderman Bonsall, and was com-

Assault and Battery.—Henry Young, colored, attacked and beat a white man, named Morton, at Seventh and South streets, ing before Alderman Bonsall, was held in $800 bail to answer at Court.

LARCENY OF A WATCH. John McGeary is charged with having robbed a man of a watch in Acorn alley a few nights ago. Last night he was arrested by a Sixth District Policeman, nd will be arraigned at the Central Station this afternoon.

THE FINE ARTS.-An error occurred in Saturday's report of the picture sale at No. 1125 Chestnut street, doubtless due to the haste with which the bids were necessarily marked down by Mr Scett or his clerk. No. 54, by E. Moran, "Heavy Laden; Scene on the Delaware" is noted, in the marked catalogue first sent us, as having been sold at $700; this the trivial of parties of the property of the state of the picture. is the price of another canvass; Mr. Moran's picture, a small one, was sold lower. This line is daily becoming more popular with the business community. With constantly increasing facilities, prompt, efficient and reliable operators, and very moderate rates, the addition to the business of the company has recently been quite large. The name would lead to the impression that the line is exclusively for bankers and brokers. line is exclusively for bankers and brokers. Such an impression is decidedly wrong. Everybody is accommodated. Merchants, manufacturers and others who have frequent occasions to send telegraphic despatches, use the B. & B. line, as they feel sure of being well and faithfully served. The arrangements made between the employes and the Couppany to have the lines conducted on the co-operative principle, will prove advantageous to the public, as operators, clerks, &c., are all interested in having the business go on in the best possible manner. The conditions of the agreement require that the line shall be kept in the most perfect repair, which is an additional guarantee that there will be no unnecessary guarantee that there will be no unnecessary delay in the transmission of despatches. The principal office is now situated at No. 310 Chestnut street, opposite the First National Bank. Offices are also located at No. 105 Chestnut street, No. 127 Walnut street, No. 37 South Third street, No. 6 North Delaware avenue, and at Merchants' Exchange Reading Room, all on direct wires. TEABERRY TOOTH WASH.-Among the most popular articles used in cleansing the teeth is Trego's Teaberry Tooth Wash. The ingrediregos Teanerry 100th wash. The ingredients of which it is composed are not of an injurious charactero This dentifrice not only preserves and whitens the teeth, but it purifies and perfumes the breath. All druggists have a ready sale for it. A. M. Wilson, at Ninth and Filbert streets, is the proprietor of this excellent tooth wash.

THE GOURTS.

QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Paxson.—This morning, before the regular business began, Assistant District-Attorney Pratt called the attention of the Court to one Robert H. Stewart, who was under arrest for contempt of Court. Mr. Pratt said there seemed to be an idea in the community that the process of this Court could be disregarded with impunity.

Officer Kritzer testified that on Saturday he served a subpoena upon Robert H. Stewart, to appear before the grand jury on Monday. Stewart said that he would not go, and said that the officer should call upon his counsel if he had any business to transact, as he (Stewart said that the officer should call upon his counsel if he had any business to transact, as he (Stewart said the had any business to transact, as art) did not wish to prosecute the case in which he was summoned. Subsequently Mr. Kritzer took an attachment for Mr. Stewart for disobeying the subpoena, and he was re-sisted, and was obliged to use force to bring the witness. Mr. Stewart explained that no subpoena was served, but a notice; that when the attachment was served, Mr. Kritzer refused to read it to him until after he had seized him and Mr. Kritzer denied that he used violence

Mr. Kritzer denied that he used violence before Mr. Stewart refused to go, and he did read both the subpœna and attachment.

The counsel for Mr. Stewart was in Court, and stated that he advised Mr. Stewart to abandon the prosecution; but not to resist the process of the Court.

Judge Paxson said Mr. Stewart had been continued in contents.

A considerable portion of the morning was consumed with the trial of a little boy of about ten years of age, charged with malicious mischief, in breaking a ten-cent pane of glass. The jury retired after hearing the case for the prosecution, the dispute evidently being as to who should pay the costs if a verdict of not guilty were rendered.
