NARROW ESCAPE OF GOLDSMITH'S HALL.—
This morning, about six o'clock, a fire was discovered in the establishment of Jacob Haehnlen, lithographer, in the fourth story of Goldsmith's Hall, in Library street, below Fitth. The flames originated in the steam pressroom. In the northeast corner of the apartment there is a stone upon which the ink is mixed. This stone is generally wiped off with rags saturated with benzine. Under the stone is a box, into which it has been usual to throw these rags. The ink used by lithographers and plate printers has linseed oil in it. That kind of oil is peculiarly liable to oxidation, and spontaneous combustion is the result. The fire this morning was a clear-case of spontaneous combustion. It had probably been smouldering all night. This morning, a little after 6 o'clock, the man whose duty it is to sweep out entered the establishment and discovered smoke. He made an examination, and found that the box containing the rags had been reduced to ashes: The wooden supports and round that the box containing the rags had been reduced to ashes. The wooden supports to the ink-stone were on fire, and the flames had just reached the window curtain. An alarm was given, and the Fire Department was promptly on the ground. Chief Engineer Departs and others extinguished the fire with was promptly on the ground. Once Inflated Downey and others extinguished the fire with buckets of water. The damage done was immaterial. The building made a very narrow escape. It is six stories in height, and is filled with combustible and valuable articles.

Fire Marshal Blackburn made an investiga-tion of the fire, and, as stated above, found it to be a case of spontaneous combustion. Proprietors of such establishments should be very careful and not leave the saturated rags on the premises at night. Fires often happen in that way. The fire in Lee & Walker's music printing establishment, on the 1st of January last, originated from that cause. From among the numerous cases on the records in the Fire Marshal's office we select one to show the danger to be apprehended from these rags saturated with printers ink. A fire occurred aturated with printers in s. A fire occurred at one o'clock in the morning in the establishment of Illman Brothers, plate printers, No. 703 Arch street. It originated from spontaneous combustion, and Fire Marshal Blackburn called the attention of marshai Blackburn called the attention of the firm to these dangerous rags. A woman was then employed to take away the rags every day.—On one Saturday in July she was sick and did not make her appearance. The rags were not allowed to remain, however. It was not supposed that the rags could do any harm there. The rags took fire on Sunday afternoon, heated the tin, and then the wooden sheathing but the tin, and then the wooden sheathing be-neath it was set on fire. Good Fridax.—By this time it would be superfluous to state that to-day is Good Friday. Atmospherically speaking, it is a very good Friday. Thermometers were encouraged at sunrise by the prospect of a chance to "get high." As thermometers get high the Schuylkill proportionately gets low. The promenades to-day are a continuous stream of parasols. The lady who, in a fit of absence this morning, went out with muff and furs, was taken home in a condition bordering upon liquefaction. The lady was melted. Such was the warmth of the morning that even soda water fountains began to take on enthusiasm, and to feel all that encouragement experienced and to feelall that encouragement experienced by Mr. Mould, the undertaker, when he finds that cholera has made an irruption in a fashionable quarter of the city.

To-day is a State holiday. For this reason the State courts are resting upon catfish and the act of Legislature. The Board of Brokers held no session this morning. Of the gentle-men composing it not a few are, this afternoon, in their phaetons and "buggies," enjoying the fragrance of the springing hyacinths, and the health-giving aroma of the shrubbery in Fairmount Park. by the display at half-mast of the National flag, for the honor of which he sobbed out his last sigh.

The banks, bankers' offices, insurance offices, &c., are closed to-day. The young gentlemen who do duty in adding up figures upon their ledgers are anyising themselves. Notes their ledgers are amusing themselves. Notes otherwise due to-day were legally due yester-day. That the wind blowing good to no one is a rascally kind of wind will be seen ex-pressed to-morrow evening, upon the physi-ognomies of the gentlemen who deliver to the delinquents the notes of protest.

The services in the Episcopal, Lutheran and Catholic Churches this morning were of the usual penitential character. Having described them for nearly half a century, we have only to say Ex uno disce omnes. The Bishop solemnized, at the Cathedral, the usual services, and at every Catholic Church were held up to multitud of worshipers the agonies and the attonement made upon Mt. Calvary.

Retail business to-day is moving with a rush, of which the condition of things on the walks of wholesale trade is the direct opposite

A Touching Incident .- Parties representing themselves to be soldiers are frequently seen about the streets soliciting alms, and one of the favorite modes adopted for raking in small change is organ-grinding. Many of these soldiers, however, are looked upon as impostors. A few evenings ago a very touching incident occurred at a well-known saloon in the neighborhood of Broad and Chestuut streets. A man entered and asked for assist-ance to enable him to reach his home in Pittsburgh. Very little attention was paid to him until he drew out an honorable discharge from the army. The paper was passed around among a number of gentlemen until it reached one who had been a captain in the army. His name was appended to the document. He looked up and recognized the man before him as one who had been a member of his company—a faithful, brave and obedient soldier—one who had passed through many trials, hardships and dangers during the war. The recognition was mutual. The two men grasped hands, and tears came into their eyes. The meeting was very affecting. The noble-hearted Captain is well-off in this world's goods, and he rejoiced that it was in his power to extend assistance to his old comrade, who had been such a faithful defender of his country. He said to his companions:—"That man deserves all that we can do for him. I will merely relate one event which occurred during our career together. At Spotsylvania, during our career together. At Spotsylvania, the color-bearer of the regiment was shot down after entering the first line of entrenchments. This man seized the colors, and advanced with them under a galling fire. Soon a ball pierced his left arm. The flag fell to the ground and the men wavered. This brave fellow again took up the flag with his right hand. He shouted defiance at the enemy, thereby encouraging his com-rades to renewed exertions, and what was alrades to renewed exertions, and, what was almost a defeat was speedily turned into victory. Upon the spot he was promoted by his brigade commander, and received the hearty congratulations of many prominent officers." After this little speech, only a few seconds clapsed before that soldier had sufficient funds, not only to carry him to Pittsburgh, but to turnish him with a good suit of clothing.

THE GOOD TEMPLARS. - The thirty-ninth Lodge of Good Templars, of this city, was organized last evening at Rev. Dr. Stryker's church Broad and Green streets, under the most favorable auspices. There were over sixty charter members. Heidelburg Lodge, as well as members from other lodges, were present in regalia, and presented an imposing appearance. Hon. S. B. Chase, G. W. C. T., oresided. in the chair.

Mr. Thomas U. Walter, Chairman of the Committee on Plans and Architecture, stated that the meeting was called to consider certain bills. The bills are all in, and the total amount is $1,654 50. There is an unexpended balance of appropriation of $1,489 03, leaving a deficiency of $215 47. It is proposed to ask City Councils to make an appropriation to pay this deficiency. pay this deficiency.

After some discussion it was agreed that the bills shall be paid when approved by the auditing committee, and that the President of the Commission ask City Councils for an appropriation to pay the deficiency.

Mr. Pugh offered a resolution providing that when this Commission adjourns sine die the books, papers, and other property be placed in charge of the Commissioner of City Property for safe-keeping.

Mr. Spering said that this Commission is not going to adjourn sine die. It exists by lawful authority, and the only way to get rid of it is to repeal the ordinance which created it. It is probable that another meeting will not be held for a long time. When the new Commission comes into power, if the Governor signs the bill, this Commission will promptly transfer the papers to it.

signs the bill, this Commission will promptly transfer the papers to it.

The resolution was withdrawn.

Mr. Walter moved that an additional compensation of $500 be given to Mr. McArthur, making the deficiency in the amount of the appropriation $715, instead of $215. He said that he made this motion because Mr. McArthur, making the deficiency in the amount of the appropriation $715, instead of $215. thur had been subjected to heavy expenses. The revision of the plan actually cost him $1,076 20, because he was compelled to force the matter up, to be ready for exhibition by the 1st of January. His office was used for upwards of three mouths, involving a suspension of his other business in order to accomplish

That plan had been revised, and Mr. McArthur had been awarded the first premium for the best plan. had been paid $500 for doing it, while others who presented equally good plans, offered to change them to suit the views of the Commission without extra compensation.

Mr. J. V. Watson favored the payment of Mr. Billington coincided with the views of Mr. Dickinson, and seconded the call for the eas and nays. Mr. Lovegrove said that there was not a quorum present, and moved to adjourn.

The motion was agreed to. Adjourned.

Local Chowder.—The zest of a New England chowder is the diminutive piece of bacon, from which it takes its soupcon of fleshy flavor. Broad and Cherry streets still remain, a hideous deformity to the street and an eyesore to the pedestrian. The decomposing flour under the debris emits a stench that literally poisons the surrounding atmosphere. The market people are rejoicing this afternoon. Many a family will indulge on Sunday in a luxurious meal who for weeks past have been robbing the doctors by the practice of attention to dietary regimen that will render them independent of drug stores for the entire balance of the season. The markets to-merrow will be full of life and bustle. The fraternity of butchers will come out, as usual, with their snowiest aprons and brightest miles.

The latest dodge to work off old stock is to rent the store of a bankrupt retailer of dry goods, and tumble into it every procurable variety of textile refuse. The idea is a variation from the idea of "great bargains in wet dry goods"—dry goods sprinkled each evening with a watering pot, to be ready for the sales of the following day.

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT.-George B. Thatcher was before Alderman Beitler this morning upon the charge of embezzle ment. He was employed as a clerk in the office of Col. Forbes, pension agent, and during the absence of Mr. Owen Sheridan, Jr., the chief clerk, acted in his place. It is all leged that in paying pensions he would mark on the books $200 when he paid out only $200; When Mr. Sheridan returned and examined the books there was a deficiency of about $1,800, for which Thatcher was unable to account. The accused was held in $2,000 ball to answer at Court.

THE INDIANS.

Important Letter from William Welsh, Esq., Formerly Chairman of the Indian

Commission. To the Editor of the Chronicle: At your solicitation the indersigned gives the following particulars of " the bill to promote the civilization of Indians, and to prepare them for citizenship? that passed the Senate by a unanimous vote, but is temporarily detained by a motion to reconsider, made by Senator Stewart, of Nevada. The President of the United States and the Secretary of the Interior strongly commended the unpaid special Indian Commission appointed last year, although, from their other occupations, they were not able to give their entire time to the work.

This body of philanthropic men can still give valuable sid in effecting the much-needed reform in Indian affairs by supplementing the labors of those who are in the regular service, as was done by the Sonitary and Christian Commissions of the late war. The success of this experiment and the absolute necessity for a further movement induced intelligent and experienced friends of the Indians and of the Government to prepare the bill under consideration. The movers are mon who want neither office, profit nor patronage.

Their design is to lift Indian affairs out of over-changing partisan political control, and to intrust all that the Government does for the peaceable Indians to a pormanent board of inspectors, comprising the Secretary of the Interior, for the titue being, as President, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and live men of high character, to be effected by the Prosident of the United States with content of the Senate These, inspectors will have the regular service, as was done by the Soultary and Chris-some salary as the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and will continue in office until removed for cause by the President, with the concurrence of the Senato. The Secretary of the Interior and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs are now too much occupied with the dotails of their offices to visit the Indians and to grapple successfully with the complicated and difficult problem of their civilization. The lack of permanency in these officers is also a great hindrance to perfecting and carrying out a system that should be continued through many years and adapted to tribes shows a dissimilar as the African and Chinese. Men who will make this a life work, and whose reputation are at stake, can alone conduct Indian affairs to a satisfactoy conclusion. From the President's deep interest in the Indian and his firm belief in the possibility of their civilization under proper suspices, he will, undoubtedly get the best mon that will work in full accord with the Secretary of the Interior, who is equally the friend of the Indian.

chinery, while it will supervise, and, if need de, restrain abuses of money and other appropriations for the bone-fit of Indians.

These inspectors are also obliged:

First—To visit the Indians and report on the qualifications and conduct of all persons employed by the Government, with authority to suspend temporarily any person when they deem it necessary.

Second—To ascertain if the treaty stipulations and laws are faithfully observed and executed, reporting thereon to the President.

Third—To negotiate with the Indians for she modification or abrogation of existing treaties when authorized to do so.

Fourthi—To supervise the purchase of goods, to be present at the payment of annutities, and to compare the goods when distributed with the invoices of samples.

Fifth—To examine books and teachers, and also schools, farms, nills, &c., reporting on their condition and prospects.

Secondi—To acamine all claims for or against Indians, on the reservation when practicable, and no claim to be allowed until it has been examined by the inspectors.

Secondi—To act as the Indians 'friends by listening to their complaints, and to have assistance from the nearest military post in ejecting from the reservation any one not a member of the tribe who is corrupting the morals of Indians.

Eighth—To aid in locating Indians on farms and to incite them to self support by discriminating as far as may be in faver of the moral and industrious.

Ninth—To administer oaths and affirmations, and to secree permanent codes of laws for the various tribes of Indians.

The Ditails authorizes the President of the United

of Indians.

The bit also authorizes the President of the United States to discontinue any superintendency, and to cause the agents to report directly to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs; that the Board of Inspection may have all accounts under its supervision. Much of the good order of the militury department is owing to the faithfulness of army inspectors.

The bill was carefully propared by experienced experts; then it was put in shape and introduced into the Senate by Gen. Wilson, the chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, acting with the cordial concurrence of Senator Morrill, the Chairman of the Committee on Finance. It was then referred to the Committee on a Senate by Gen. Wilson, the chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, acting with the cordual concurrence of Senator Morrill, the Chairman of the Committee on Finance. It was then referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs, and by it thoroughly considered in full committee, amended, and then approved unanimously. Senator Harlan sent it to the Secretary of the Interior for examination, and received a letter of approval, saying: "I am satisfied we can work smoothly under such a system. and that it may be of very greatuse and advantage to the Indian service." The bilt was then slightly amended in the Senate by consent of the committee. It will no doubt pass the Senato as soon as it is reached, and the House is not likely to delay its passage, as it is known that the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations of the House, as well as of the Senate, deem the passage of this bill necessary to save Indian appropriations from misuse or spollation. If Indians can be assured of a parmanent body of sympathizing friends, they will generally prefer such control to that of the military, to whom they will be transferred if the tribe cannot, or will not, control or punish its lawless members. In the minds of many, there is a misapprehension of the experiment that the Society of Friends is making unier authority of the President of the United States. The society termed Orthodox nominates and supervises the superintendent and agents for Kansas and a portion of the contiguous territory. The other Society of Friends has like control over Indians in Nebraska, This experiment is limited to these two superintendencies. It gives the promise of success, but the ability of non-resistants to coatrol savages when somarting under real or supposed wrongs by the Government or its agents is, in the minds of some real friends of the Indians, an experiment of doubtful issue.

Unless some system is soon adopted that will give food and contidence to Indians who are not allowed to roam at will in search of game, it is feared by some of the b

THE UNDERSIGNED

OFFER FOR SALE $2,000,000

Pennsylvania Central Railroad Co. General Mortgage SIX PER CENT. BONDS At 92 1-2 and Interest added to date of purchase. All free from State Tax, and issued in sums of $1,000. These Bonds are Coupon and Registered, interest on the former payable January and July 1, on the latter April and October.

The bonds secured by this mortgage are issued to WISTAR MORRIS and JOSIAH BACON, Trustees, who cannot, under its provisions, deliver to the Comrang, at any time, an amount of bonds exceeding the full-paid capital stock of the Company-limited to $35-

Enough of these bonds are withheld to pay off all ex isting liens upon the property of the Company, to meet which at maturity it now holds ample means independently of the bonds to be reserved by the Trustees for that purpose, making the bonds practically a FIRST MORTGAGE upon all its rallways, their equipment,

The gross revenue of the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1869 was $17,220,511, or nearly twenty-eight per cent. of the capital and debts of the Company at the end of that Since 1867 the dividends to the Stockholders have averaged nearly eleven and one-half per cent, per annum after paying interest on its honds and making sonnalls a large amount to the credit of construction account.

The security upon which the bonds are based is, therefore, of the most ample character, and places them on a par with the very best national securities.

These Bonds are payable, principal and interest, in oin, at New York or London; the interest being pay able in May and November. They are convertible into stock, and are, protected by a liberal Sinking Fund. They are issued upon the several sections of the road only as the same are completed and in successful opera-

They are guaranteed not only by a first lien upon the ntire property and franchises of the Company, but also by now current earnings, and an ample commerce on the route of the road, and have not to depend for their security upon a traffic which the road itself is expected to Create.
Over Three Million Dollars have already been ex pended on the road.

Eighty-three miles of road are already completed and equipped, and show large carnings; and the romaindo of the line is progressing rapidly toward completion.

The State of Iowa, through which this road funs, is one of the richest agricultural sections of America. Its large and extending population, and its immense yield of agricultural products, create a pressing demand for the construction of this road.

The road also runs through the fertile and growing State of Minnesota. It traverses the most enterprising and growing portion of the West, and forms the shortest of the great trunk lines in direct communication with New York, Chicago and St. Louis. Having thoroughly investigated all the conditions af-fecting the security of these Bonds, we feel justified in giving them an unqualified indorsement as a first-class and thoroughly safe investment, as secure as a Government Bond can possibly be, and paying nearly 50 per cent. more interest than Five-Twenties. All marketable securities at their full price, free of commission and express charges, received in payment Pamphlets and maps furnished on application.
