The demand for national securities was again very ac-tive, and constituted the feature of the day next to the excited dealings in railway shares. The buyers were incouraged by the firm tone and advance in gold, and the more cantious classes of speculators, who are loth to take the risks of violont fluctuations in the railway list, were large purchasers. The various banking and moneyed institutions have also bought very heavily, in anticipation of an unnanally easy money market during the balance of the sprinz and summer, the Government list affording a more secure investment at six per cent. thas is situationable otherwise. The 1803s, leading the market, louched 1432. The rate on call again reflected the abundance of money now prevailing in the city.
