THE UNION LEAGUE

A MAGNIFICENT ENTERTAINMENT

LOYAL HOSPITALITIES BRILLIANT SUCCESS

The grand reception of the Union League, given hast evening in celebration of the fifth anniversary of the occupation of the new house on Broad street, as was to be expected, was the most magnificent affair of the kind ever given in the city. For the event great preparations were made, and the decorations and general arrangements of the house were in a cuch exceeding good taste that they could not and general arrangements of the house were in such exceeding good taste that they could not have been surpassed. The ladies' invitations were very handsomely engraved by Dreka. Three thousand of these were issued. The carriages containing the guests began to arrive a little before eight o'clock, and from that time until midnight there was a continuous stream of arrivals. For the protection of the ladies from the inclemency of the weather the steps in front of the house and the pavement in front of them were roofed over, and carpet was laid up to the door. At the entrance to the building the decorations began. The porch and vestibule were filled with specimens of palms, &c., and the door leading to the main hall was hung with evergreens, interspersed with lilacs and other flowers, in graceful testoons.—Suspended over flowers, in graceful testoons. Suspended over the door was a rustic basket laden with exqui-site flowers. On the walls of the main hall site flowers. On the walls of the main hall were displayed the portraits of various generals, and other paintings. There were also arranged in the hall various specimens of tropical plants and trees. An arch of evergreens, iliacs, &c., was in the centre of the hall, a little west of the grand stairway, and all of the doorways along the hall were festooned in a similar manner.

The balconies were covered with handsome awnings and enclosed with shrubbery, forming a very pretty feature of the decorations. The various spacious apartments of the house were profusely decorated with rare-flowers, evergreens, bunting, rich drapery and handsome mirrors. The floral decorations were by the well-known florist. James Graham, and all other decorations by W. H. Carryl & Sons ther decorations by W. H. Carryl & Sons.
The billiard-saloon was converted into a ladies' dressing room, and the basement-hall and adjoining rooms were appropriated to the gentlemen.

The pavilion for dancing, erected in the rear of the house, expressly for the occasion, was a very handsomely-arranged affair. The entire space of the large garden was floored over on a level with the rear piazza of the building, and covered by a lofty canvas pavilion, so supported as to leave the entire space free for the orchestra and the dancers. The floor was covered with linen, and was exceedingly well adapted for dancing. The walls were neatly draped with bunt-The walls were neatly draped with bunting, and the entrance was decorated with evergreens and flowers. The musicians were arranged on a platform at the west side, behind a row of evergreens. On the west wall was hung the bandsome banner of the League. At each side of the orchestra were a series of gas jets supported by bronzesoldiers in armor. Suspended in the centre of the room were four splendid chandeliers, each containing twelve burners. On the side walls there were a large number of three-light chandeliers. This great profusion of light added greatly to the brillancy of the scene during the dancing. The gas fixtures were supplied by Miskey, Merrill and Thackara, and the construction of the pavilion was the work of Mr. John Crump.

There was an abundance of music. In the pavilion there were statoned an orchestra for dancing music, under Mr. Wm. G. Dietrich, dancing music, under Mr. Wm. G. Dietrich. and a promenade band, under Mr. George Bastert. In the reading room there was a band, under Prof. H. Oberkirsch.

As before intimated, the attendance at the reception was large. The ladies, of course, predominated. All were in full dress, and the dresses were of the most elegant and costly style. During the dancing and promenading style. During the dancing and promenading the scene in the pavilion was very beautiful. Among those present were His Excellency, Governor Geary, Major-General George G. Meade, Major-General Stewart Van Vliet, General George H. Crosman, General Chas. F. Ruff, Col. C. H. Hodges, Commodore J. B. Marchand, U. S. N., Commodore Jas. M. Frailey, U. S. N., Paymaster Robert-Pettit, U. S. N., Major James Forney, U. S. M. C., and other officers of the army and navy. These other officers of the army and navy. These officers were in full uniform.

Dancing began about half-past nine o'clock this morning.

During the entire evening refreshments were supplied in the restaurant and also in the grand banquet room.

One of the rarest charms of the Union League Reception consisted in the fact that "Jenkins" cos not there. "Jenkins" is a nuisance. "Jenkins" prowls around and describes the dress of "the lovely Miss A—," and "the charming Miss C——D—," B—,"and "the charming Miss C—D—," with absurd minuteness, utterly forgetting the equal charms of "the fascinating Miss W—X—" and "the enchanting Miss Y—Z—." So Jenkins was left out in the cold, and the ladies were allowed to dress and look their prettiest, without fear of being rushed and was continued until nearly two o'clock their prettiest, without fear of being rushed into invidious print to-day.

This elegant reception will long be remembered by all who participated in it. In every respect it was a brilliant and delightful affair. The complete success of this grand entertainment was the themeof universal congratution among the brilliant company of ladies and gentlemen who participated in it. The management of a reception-which could not have numbered less than three thousand persons, was no easy matter, and great praise is have numbered less than three thousand persons, was no easy matter, and great praise is due to the various Committees of gentlemen to whom were entrusted the several departments of the entertainment. These Committees were organized as follows: Floral Decorations—Chairman, Mr. Alfred Devereux; General Decorations—Chairman, Mr. Wm. E. Littleton; House—Chairman, Mr. Edward Samuel; Music—Chairman, Mr. F. W. Fotterall; Order—Chairman, Mr. H. C. Kennedy; Refreshments—Chairman, Mr. J. E. Addicks: Finance—Chairman, Mr. Charles K. Ide: Invitations—Chairman, Mr. Charles K. Ide: Invitations—Chairman, Mr. Mr. J. E. Addicks: Finance—Chairman, Mr. Charles K. Ide; Invitations—Chairman, Mr. Lewis Waln Smith. These gentlemen, with their respective colleagues, labored most assiduously, under the general direction of Mr. Samuel B. Thomas, Chairman of the Executive Committee, and the result was a most quiet, harmonious and satisfactory working of the whole complicated machinery of the occasion. There was neither, grayding configuration. sion. There was neither erowding, confusion nor discomfort of any kind. Every arrangement was well planued and admirably carried nent was well planned and admirably carried out. The cloak-rooms, the refreshment-rooms, the entrance and, exit, of the guests frequently such sources of difficulty and dissatisfaction, were managed with the most complete success, and as the large company legan to disperse, there was everywhere heard the expressions of pleasant surprise and cordial commendation over the excellent conduct of an entertainment which could scarcely duct of an entertainment which could scarcely have been expected to pass off without some drawbacks. Everything was in good taste, everything was liberally and bountifully defriced, everything was con iderately and careully carried into successful effect; and the righest praise belongs to all who were in any way connected with the preparation and prosecution of the most superh fete that has been given in Philadelphia since the Moschianza Ball.

In order that the public may have an opportunity to view the banksome decertion.

he Union League will be open to visitors to-lay and to morrow, until 10 o'clock, P. M. A line band of music will be present during the

THE CADETS OF HONOR AND TEMPER-ANCE.

Their Annual Parade. Once a year the army of lads who constitute this Order of Cadets turn out in grand parade. We are glad to be able to say that the numbers of the Order are considerably increasing. The annual duty of reporting the particulars of the display is among the most pleasant duties we are called upon to perform. As the Christmas tree of a twelve-year-old child is decorated with the accumulations of previous years the processions of these youngsters are years, the processions of these youngsters are now enriched by the banners and decorations now enriched by the banners and decorations presented to them on former occasions. The consequence is that the procession of to-day was brilliant beyond any of its predecessors, and that in all respects it reflected credit upon the enemies to whisky under whose superintendence it was devised and gotten up.

Had the day been made especially for the occasion it couldn't have better provided itself with sunshine and blue sky. That the streets were not in equally good condition was compensated for by the state of matters and things overhead. Employers of youngsters generally overhead. Employers of youngsters generally applied the purposes of this society. They do it even though personally dealing in whisky. For this reason every cadet to-day has a holiday, and is making of it one of the best of uses.

The line formed at 10½ o'clock, in Broad street, with the right resting on Spring Garden. It moved promptly at the moment indicated. Its Chief Marshal was the Grand Governor of the Order, William S. Stiles. His aids were R. C. Dothard, H. B. Potter, P. Moore, G. Gabel, R. Maris, James Pollock, Jr., S. S. Ketchum and R. Rang.

The material of the line was thus arranged in order: best of uses.

The little fellows as they trudged along appeared to have the good will and good speed of everybody. That the idewalks were margined with admiring mothers and sisters was as graceful as it was natural. That an occasional Miss darted to the live to pleas in the land of some inverted. the line to place in the hand of some juvenile admirer an appreciative demonstration of re-gard in the shape of a bouquet, was alike in-

The procession was headed by a platoon of colicemen. The young pioneers looked specially well. They wore the customary red there is the customary red tharnel shirts and suspenderless pantaloons. The music was also good. The movement of the Second Division was enlivened by a band of colored musiciaus. In the centre of Peace Section was the ambulance of the Harmony Fire Company. It was occupied by little girls, attired in white. The Athletic Cornet Band accompanied the Fredonias. In the line of Washington Section, that brought up the rear, was carried a handsome oil portrait of the hero of the cherry tree and hatchet.

SWATARA FALLS COAL COMPANY.—The tockholders of this company held a meeting at the office, No. 208 South Fourth street, this afternoon, to take into consideration the present condition of the company, in view of the seizure by the Sheriff of Schuylkill county of the property of the company in that county, under an execution issued upon a produced against the company by county, under an execution issued upon a judgment entered against the company by Charles T. Yerkes, Jr., upon a bond of $85,000. The property is advertised to be sold on the 18th instant. General Hector Tyndale presided at the meeting, and Mr. C. C. Rhoades acted as Secretary. After considerable discussion, resolutions offered by Mr. H. W. Gray, and providing for the appointment of a committee of five to confer with Mr. Yerkes and providing the preparation of the property of proceedings on his judg. mittee of five to confer with Mr. Yerkes and to request a stay of proceedings on his judgment, and to make an examination of the books and papers of the company, with general powers to act on behalf of the interests of the stockholders, and to employ counsel for an injunction to prevent the sale of the procenty pending investigation and negotiation, were adopted? The following committee was pointed: H. W. Gray, Byron Woodward, John E. Meehan, Rowland Kilpatrick and T. B. Beck.

JOTTINGS.—The relief in the shape of sunhine this morning, after four days of atmopherical pouting, has brought out a multitude i ladies. The storekeepers are to-day getting he kink taken out of their spinal columns and he puckers out of their foreheads.
In the markets we every spring used to buy talle bunches of the Lily of the Valley. We taven't this season seen a single specimen.
Whether this is because we don't rise sufficiently early, or because they are no longer brought to the city, is more than we know.
The meadows below Penrose ferry bridge are in a very swampy condition. The campagna thereabouts is extremely uninviting.
To catch the ague and fever a week's residence ought to be a sure recipe.
The police force are out in new felt hats on the top of their heads. With the brogue that issues so sweetly beneath so many of their noses these new hats are not precisely en rapport.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT—We are palmed to heaver a serious accident which happened yesterday afternoon to James Morrell, Esq., the venerable and highly-respected Secretary of the Philadelphia and Trenton-Railroad-Company. As he was going up-stairs at his residence, on Marshall street, he fell over the balantride a distance of twive or diston for the ustrade, a distance of twelve or fitteen feet, to instrade, a distance of tweive or lifteen feet, to the floor, breaking his hip, leg and arm. His sufferings are very great, and his extreme ago, being in his eighty-fourth year, causes great, anxiety among his family and friends.

SKRIOUS ASSAULT.—James Carroll got into a fight with Charles Chatting at a tavern, at Sixth and Lombard streets, last night. It is alleged that Carroll picked up a heavy tumber, and with it struck Chatting was taken to his home at Fifth and Buckley streets, and Carroll was arrested. The latter had a hearing this morning before Ald. Carpenter, and was committed to await the result of the injuries inflicted. juries inflicted. ...

Found Drowned.—The body of an unknown man was found in the Schuylkill, near Eastwick Park, yesterday afternoon.

This morning the body of an unknown white man was found in the Delaware, opposite Market street. It had evidently been in the water for a long time. The deceased was about 35 years of age,5 feet 7 inches in height, and wore dark coat and vest and plaid pants.

KNOCKED DOWN.-William Cornmack was arrested at Seventh and South streets for assault and battery on Patrick Leonard. The latter was knocked down and kicked in the abdomen. Cornmack was taken before Alderman Delancy, and was held in $1,000 bail to answer at Court.

POLICEMAN ASSAULTED .- Policeman Mc-Cullough was attacked and pretty roughly handled at Seventh and Baker streets. John Whalen and John Mooney, two of the alleged assailants, were arrested. They were committed by Ald. Bonsall.

CRICKET.—The match between the first elevens of the Germantown and Young America Clubs will be commenced on the Germantown ground, near Wayne station, on Friday, the 13th inst., at 2.30. Game to be continued on Saturday at 9.30 A. M. INCENDIARISM .- The ruins of Pollock's mill, at Twenty-fourth and Spruce streets, were set on fire at an early hour, this morning. The flames were discovered and were speedily extinguished by Policemen Lynch and Duffy. MAD Dog.—A mad dog was shot at Broad and Walnut streets by telegraph operator Cromwell, of the Fifth District, yesterday afternoon.

ALLEGED WIFE BEATER.—John Hurst, residing on Essex street, above Christian, has been held in $600 bail, by Alderman Bonsall, on the charge of beating his wife.

CHANGE OF TIME.-The Camden and At-CHANGE OF TIME.—The Camden and Atlantic Railroad Company for the better accommodation of the public, has made an alteration in its time-table. The morning mail-train leaves Vine street ferry for Atlantic City at 8 o'clock, and returning leaves Atlantic at 4 P. M. The company has put, on an extra train, which leaves at 9.15 A. M., and returning leaves Atlantic City at 11.45 A. M. The accommodation train leaves at 3.45 P. M., and returns at 6.14 A. M. It will be seen that three trains daily now run to that celebrated three trains daily now run to that celebrated watering-place, and persons can spend six hours on the sea-shore and return on the same train in which they started. This company does everything in its power for the accom-modation of travelers. This new arrangement goes into operation on Monday next.
