THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CON-VENTION.

This Morning's Proceedings. The Convention re-assembled at 10 o'clock. The church was moderately filled. Upon the communion table glistened the chastely beautiful sacramental vessels. Beside it knell the Bishop and three clergymen, while the morning prayer was read by Rev. Dr. W. F. Paddock and Kev. Alfred W. Abel.

In the gallery was a double quartette, made up entirely of male voices. Its execution of the chants was especially fine. The selections for the lessons were Psalm 5th and the fourth chapter of Timothy. The Te Deum and Creed were read by Rev. Geo. W. Shinn. The first psalm was the 50th. The female voices thenceforth participated in the music.

The commandments were read by Rev.

The commandments were read by Rev. Doctor Howe.

The hymn beginning "I love thy church, O Lord" was then sung.

The sermon was preached by Rev. H. A. Warriner, of Montrose, from John 16th, 12th and 13th verses: "I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot hear them now.

"Howbeit, when he, the spirit of truth is come, he will guide you into all truth; for he shall not speak of himself, but what soever he shall hear, that shall he speak, and he will show you. hear, that shall he speak, and he will show you things to come."

The exercises closed by the administration by the Bishop of holy communion.
The actual business of the convention begins at 5 P. M to-day. The important part of the proceedings will be a renewal of last year's discussion relative to the division of the diocese of Pennsylvania. The convention will sit between the hours of 10 and 12 A. M., and 5 and 7 P. M.

PENNSYLVANIA SEAMEN'S FRIEND SOCIETY.

The twenty-sixth annual report of this society has been received. It says: "There is in this city a refuge for the tem-

"There is in this city a refuge for the tempest-tossed and weary seamen, called the Sailor's Home, established at 422 South Front street, about twenty-four years ago. During these many years it has given a 'home' to more than 18,000 men. The object of this establishment is to give a Christian home to the wandering sons of the ocean as long as they are in this port, where they may find friends and books and prayer and the songs of praise; where no intoxicating drink is furnished, and no drunkenness or profanity is allowed; where there is daily family worship; where a weekly temperance meeting and a weekly meeting for temperance meeting and a weekly meeting for religious worship are held; where the seaman is encouraged to save his money, by placing it in the hands of the Superintendent; where he is kindly used when sick; where he has the means of rational enjoyment, when well, and where he is free from the temptations which beset the sailor in the large city, and is made to feel that there is one place on the face of the

"The importance of totally abstraining from intoxicating drinks has been earnestly presented at these weekly meetings, and pledges have been signed by seamen to the number of 290; we feel assured they seemed to have been in earnest; true, temptation may overcome them, but, before this takes place, their moral convictious must be assailed as well as the force of promises overborne; pursuing this course, a good-foundation is frequently laid, upon which, if not now, in the future a good super-

"The worthy Superintendent of the House, Capt. J. F. To estimate the value of the House and its management, it is necessary to

House and its management, it is necessary to be a daily observer of its operations.

"The report of the Superintendent enumerates some interesting cases of reformations and conversions as its results, through Divine-influence. The amount of money deposited with him for safe keeping was $3,714, and the number of Sailors at the "Home" is 584.

"One hundred and eighty-one merchant and United States vessels have been supplied with Libraries during the year just ending. This important work of the Society consists in supplying substantial and sound reading, placed

These Libraries must be regarded as so many missionaries now floating on these sca-going vessels, to all parts of the world, numbering in total 859 Libraries, both in our Merchant and our Naval service. both in our Merchant and our Naval service.

"As usual, we have been liberally furnished with Bibles and Testaments from the Philadelphia Bible Societies; with 120 Bibles and 1,229 Testaments, total, 1,349. It is the practice of the Pennsylvania Seamen's Friend Society to place in each of the library cases destined for the vessels leaving the port of Philadelphia, one or mor volumes of the sacred Scriptures, and in addition to this, the Acting Corresponding Secretion to this, the Acting Corresponding Secre-tary, who has been superintending this work

"Besides placing libraries on board of vessels, and supplying the crews of different languages with the Sacred Scriptures, the Acting Secretary has been attending to monthly distri-bution of tracts and other valuable reading mat-ter along the wharves and on board of merchant vessels, steamers, canal and oyster boats; leaving this port. Providence has been smiling upon these efforts, and our earnest prayers lave been going up to Heaven, that the converting power of God may follow in answer to our supplications. 41,860 pages of tracts during the year have found their way among this class of our fellow-men."

Mr. Hammond, of Germantown. In the convention to-day perhaps one-half are not only moustached but bearded also. Upon the face of Rev. Mr. Warriner, of Montrose, who preached the annual sermon, no razor is placed. The once derisive song entitled "The Chimpauzee" is forever shelved. The Americanization of the moustaches took place simultaneously with the

— Messrs. James Kilpatrick and A. L. Williams made a raid yesterday upon the callmuzzlers in Norristown. They are agents of the S. F. T. P. O. C. to A. They testified before Alderman Thomas that on Thursday last they counted thirty calves, belonging to John Kennedy, all muzzled to prevent them from sucking. This is done in order to make buyers sucking. This is done in order to make buyers believe their mothers to be "good milkers." From a fine of $10 in each case—amounting to rom a nne of $10 in each case—amounting to $300 in all—the owner appealed to court. He entered bail in $300 to answer.

—A gold locket containing the portrait of a preacher is at the West Philadelphia (Sixteenth) station-house, awaiting an owner. The name "Julia" is engraved upon it. It was picked upon on Bridge street.

A ROUGH FELLOW.—Samuel H. Silver, co'ored, went into the shop of Francis Quinlan, No. 618 Plum street, last evening. His conduct was not in accordance with the strict rules of propriety. Mr. Quinlan took him by the arm and attempted to run him out of the place. Filver turned upon Quinlan and banged him on the head pretty severely. He was then arrested. The assailant was held in $500 bail by Ald. Delaney.

WHAT THEY BRING.—Blood, as we have often said, never fails to "tell." If marks the high custe in cattle, as it does in men and lorses. Into either the existence of a depre lorses. Into either the existence of a depreciating crop is certain to tell in a disappointing way. It tells as palpably in the case of a supposed-to-be pure Alderney as it teld in the case of Benedict Arnold. Probst or William B. Reed. For this reason our agriculturists are paying increased attention to blooded cartle. At no sime-has a thoroughbred Alderney here more valuable than it is now. An undoubted Alderney, of the male persuasion, is never rated below par. The cows are small, but as graceful and as clean of limb as an equal number of deer. Their pasterns are as delicate as those of an Arabian, while their milk surpasses in richness even the croam yielded by the milk of the wiry hair breeds.

He got a "squirrel-colored" beauty of undoubted pedigree, only three years old, for $350. Mr. William Sellers got he next for $345. The next was purchased by k obert Steel. She was younger The price notert steel. She was younger The price paid was $280. A beautifully marked creature was next shown. She was buff and fawn colored, with a buff nose. Light other Alderneys were sold at about the same prices. The buyers were: James Moore, John Yewdell, F. Comly, D. B. Ervien and Charles Friebel, of Philadelphia.

THE ODD FELLOWS .- The session of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. of Pennsylvania was continued, this morning, at the Hall at Sixth and Cresson streets. The first business transacted was the reception of representatives and the admission of The remainder of the session was taken up with the consideration of the new Constitution until this afternoon at three o'clock. The following is a list of the officers elected:

Assaulting A Policeman.-Garret Cutter. ASAULTING A POLICEMAN.—Garret Cutter, a resident of Frankford, was at Nineteenth and Hamilton streets on 'Sunday night,' becausing in a disorderly manner. Policeman-McDonald remonstrated with him without effect, and after arresting him was obliged to club him before he could get him to the Station-house. Last right Cutter made his appearance at the same place. His conduct was similar to that of Sunday night.—Policeman imilar to that of Sunday night. Policeman McDonald was again on duty. He told Cut-ter that he had better go away. Cutter didn't follow the advice, but managed to trip Mo-Donald and severely bite his leg. He was then arrested. This morning Ald. Pancoast held him in $500 bail for assault and battery.

A GAY PARTY.—Three Norwegian sailors got on a spree last night. This morning, about two o'clock, they stopped at Fourth and Callowhill streets and began to sing Norwegian songs. This was considered a breach of the songs. This was considered a breach of the peace, and the sallors were arrested and locked up. This morning they were arrested and before Alderman Toland. As they didn't understand English, they were unable to comprehend the proceedings. The magistrate, however, managed to make them understand that it was necessary to fork over a five-dollar bill, and it was accordingly handed over. The prisoners were then discharged from custody.

A BAD MISTAKE.—This morning, about two o'clock, Officers Barry and Cahill, of the Schuylkill Harbor Police, discovered a horse attached to a wagon in a fair way of walking into the Schuylkill, from Locust street wharf. The horse was stopped, and then a man was found in the wagon. He was about half asleep, and when aroused, he said that he thought the was about to pass over the Market Street Bridge. He is from Darby.

SHOT HIMSELF .- This morning, about four o'clock, a German named George Müller, aged fifty years, residing in Sabula place, Mackinaw street, Tenth Ward, shot himself with a double-barreled gun. One jaw was entirely blown off. The wounded man was taken to the Penusylvania Hospital, where he died during the morning. He has been laboring under temporary fits of insanity recently.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.—The thirty-seventh annual report of the Philadelphia Board of Trade, prepared for the Executive Council by A. J. Perkins, Secretary, and presented to the Association February 7, 1870, has just been published in pamphlet form. It contains much information of interest and value to the lustness community. ALMOST DROWNED .- A German, named

Rupp, tumbled into the Delaware, between the Kensington Water Works dock and the wreck of the schooner Amanda Flanigan. He sinck fast with his feet up, and his face just under water. He was nearly sufficeated when he was rescued by the Harbor Police. DELEGATE FROM AFRICA.—Rev. James M Priest, who went to Africa thirty-four years ago, and became Vice President of the Republic of Liberia, arrived in this city ay, as a delegate to the Presbyterian General Assembly. BAPTIST HISTORICAL SOCIETY.—The National Baptist Anniversaries will commence next Monday evening with an annual address before the Historical Society by Rev. Dr. Osborn at the Beth-Eden Church, Broad and Spruce streets. Corner Loungers.—The Tenth District Police, last evening, arrested ten young men, for corner-lounging. The prisoners were taken before Alderman Eggleton and were

eld to bail to keep the peace. ACCIDENT .- Daniel Gorman, aged 27 years, residing at Conshohocken, had a leg fractured by a cask falling on him at Falton's foundry this morning. He was admitted to the this morning. He was Pennsylvania Ho-pital.

FOUND OPEN.—During last uight thirteen houses in the Eleventh Police District, and six houses in the Tenth District were found open. Several stores in the lower part of the city were also found unfastened. CORONER'S CASE.—The Coroner was summoned to No. 629 Alaska attent, to hold an inquest-of-the body of Edward Bennett who was found dead about half-past five o'clock this morning. REAL ESTATE.—The May number of the mouthly catalogue of real estate for sale-by D niel M. Fox & Son, No. 549 North Fifth stret, has just been issued. It contains descriptions of a large number of properties in different sections of the city for sale and to rout, and numerous eligible farms in the su rounding counties which are to be dis

THE YO-SEMITE VALLEY, CALIFORNIA.—It is a very remarkable fact that the graudest cluster of wild and sublime scenery on the globe should have been almost entirely unknown to the world till within a score of years. But few of our clizens have had the rare pleasure of gazing upon the marvels of this famous valley of the Sierra Nevada, but we are glad to know that, as the next best thing, they will enjoy the privilege on Monday evening next of hearing one of the ablest scholars and men of science in the country, viz., Prof. Silliman, of Yale College, tell what he saw there, and present, with the aid of the he saw there, and present, with the aid of the magic lantern, some of the most remarkable features of that grand and pictures que spot.

THE PILGRIM-INVITATIONS TO CLERGY-MEN.—The clergy of the Episcopal Church of this Diocese, now in session in this city, are invited to visit the Pilgrim this evening. Concert Hall will be filled with large numbers of the clergy and laity connected with this denomination.

Base Ball.—This afternoon the return game between the Athletics and Unions will be played on the grounds at Seventeenth and Columbia avenue. The game will, no doubt, be well contested.

THE EXTRAORDINARY singing quality of the new Hallet, Davis & Co.'s Pianos is more like an organ than a piano.

COURTS.

THE FORCE HOMICIDE

Vergict of Guilty of Murder in the Second Degree --- Sentence of 12 Years.

OYER AND TERMINER—Judges Allison and Peirce.—The case of George W. Stinsman, charged with the murder of John Force, Jr., occupied the attention of the Court, yesterday, until eight o'clock in the evening. The facts, as developed by the testimony, were, that on the afternoon of January 1st last, Mr. Force went into a tavern, corner of Front and Tasker, to get a drink, taking with him a child, of about five years of age. The boy had a toy drum, and Mr. Force placed him on the bar, in order to allow him to beat the instrument. The present was in the bar-room at the time, but not in conversation with Mr Force. About the same time a crowd of young men came up the street, and, entering the tavern, commenced pushing about those who were inside. In the course of the scuill the grandfather of Stinsman either fell o was knocked to the floor. At the same time the little boy dropped his drumstick, and Mr. Force stooped to pick it up, whereupon the prisoner advanced to him and accused him of being the party, who had knocked down his grand-father, and plunged a knife into his stomach. Death resulted in two days afterwards. This morning, Mr. Hagert announced that the Commonwealth would not submit any other testimony for the present. Mr. Kneass.

homicide were explained to the jury by the Court, and its sanction that a verdict of murder of second degree should be rendered.

The verdict was accordingly rendered.

District-Attorney Sheppard said that as the counsel for the prisoner had taken no exception during the trial, and as there was no reason for delay, he moved that the judgment of the Court be now pronounced.

Judge Allison addressed the prisoner, saying the verdict just rendered had met the an probation of the judges, although under the circumstances of the case, if a verdict in the first degree had been proven, they would no have felt at liberty to set it aside. The offence was a grave one; a human life having been was a grave one; a human life having beer taken without provocation, and a wife had been deprived of her husband, and protector. The case was one calling for the full punishment allowed by the law; and while it would hear hard upon the prisoner, it was not so hard as that visited upon his victim, who wa-dead, while the defendant was alive. The prisoner was then sentenced to twelve year. imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary.

A PLEASANT RESIDENCE.

Wild Animals in India. Every year, it is estimated, about ten thou sand people in India die from snake-bites The deaths from wild beasts may not be so numerous, but they spread more terror. The man-eating tiger is the special object of dread. The taste for human flesh once acquired, grows stronger by indulgence. There was an old tigress of Kurnool, which carried off sixty-four persons in nine months. Her average allowance was a man every three days; she broke up the post-routes, and scared away the laborers from the public works. A tigress in Chindwarrah slew 150 people in three years, causing the abandonment of the villages, and throwing 250 square miles out of cultivation. In one district of Lower Bengal, 1,434 people were killed in six years, and in Bengal proper there were 13,401 deaths by wild beasts in the same period. During this time it has cost the government £6,500 in rewards, to secure the killing of 18,196 wild beasts.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

Was it Discovered by Asiatics?

The old theory of an early discovery and settlement of this coast by Asiatics may possibly receive some confirmation from the receive some Confirmation from the receive of Professor-Davidson, of the United carcles of Professor Davidson, of the United states Coast Survey, in the data referring to Pacific Ocean currents. In the report of Professor Davidson on the Alaska Coast Survey appears a record of such well-authenticated ascs of Japanese vessels being wrecked on his side the Pacific. As affeady known Japanese junks have been wrecked on the onst of Oregon and Washington, on of which was lost as late as 1833, at Cape Flattery; and in 1816, according to the above authority, a Japanese junk was discovered by the brig Forester, 350 miles south of Point the brig Forester, 350 miles south of Poin Conception, with three men on board, having been at sea seventeen months; also the Japanese junk wrecked near Sitka, in Baranof's time, about 1805. The facts adduced prove the existence of a strong current setting across the Pacific from Japan. The old theory was that the Asiatics crossed Behring's Straits of the American Continent. There will be rec to the American Continent. There will be no need hereafter for ethnologists and antiquari ans to bring the ancient explorers through the Polar regions; they drifted across in the warm apan currents.

Byron's Grave. Attention is directed, by a rather strongly worded letter addressed to an English paper to Byron's burial place. He was interred in to Byron's burial place. He was interred in the church of Hucknall Torkard, which the writer describes as a miserable, poverty stricken village, standing near a wide sandy tract of unreclaimed ground, with stunter bushes and blackened furze, which Robin bushes and blackened furze, which Robin Hood would certainly not recognize as a portion of Sherwood Forest. Byron, his daughter and their nucestors lie in the vault of the mean but ancient edifice, which dates from the eleventh century. The only memorial to the poet is a plain white tablet, without ornament of outline or inscription, placed there by Mrs. Leigh. She, after alt, it seems, of the admirers so loud-mouthed in their praise, was and is the only one who, out of her seems.

admirers so loud-mouthed in their praise, was and is the only one who, out of her scanty means, had more than words to offer as a tribute to his deathless fame.

The Dean and Chapter of Westminster steadily refused to permit Lord Byron to be buried in the Abbey, and the recent discussions in regard to his life are not likely to make Dean Stanley willing to move in the matter so late in the day. Lord Byron has, however, a wealthy sou-in-law, Lord Povelace, and two very well-to-do grandchildren, Lord Wentworth and Lady Ann Bluut, living, and these might find funds to put the church and these might find funds to put the church in good order; the more so that the wife of the first and mother of the last also lie buried
