THE FENIAN UPROAR.

Canada Invaded at Pigeon Hill-Do-minion Troops on the Way to Attack Them.

[Special Despatch to the N. Y. World.] RUTLAND, Vt., May 24.—Every train from the East and South which has arrived here to-day bore Fenians for the projected raid on Canada. The number which have passed alrough here is not less than five hundred, while more than double that amount passed north over the Vermont Central and Passeymant Enlicode.

sympsic Railroads.
One thousand Fenians are now at Burling. one thousand Fenians are now at Burlington, awaiting shipment to St. Albans, while nearly double that number have arrived there, and been started, armed and equipped, out on the high road to Canada. Whether they will halt or make a démonstration, is still unknown; but while it is conceded no time will be lost in delays the Fonians are now at cardwall. be lost in delays, the Fonians are not evidently willing to thrust their neeks into a halter, and will await opportune chances to strike a blow at John Bull in Canada.

The Fenians are as yet unofficered by generals commanding, though live officers are abundant, and seem to exercise commanding qualities, and are generally respected. quantes, and are generally respected.

The number of troops how present at and forthcoming to St. Albans, is not less than 2,500, to which every train from the north, south and west adds fresh recruits.

From Canada we learn that the militia and regulars are on the qui cire, and that troops are moving to a considerable number from Montreal towards St. Johns.

The latest intelligence from the front is that the Fenians have crossed the line, making a stand at Pigeon Hill, the old headquarters of 1866, where they have raised as a standard the Sunburst of Erin headed with the stars and stripes. stripes.

The Army of Invasion.

It is estimated that the total number of men now under orders to move is 25,000. Of these 5,000 will be for the east, 10,000 for the west, and the remaining 10,000 will be held in reserve until a definite course is decided on after the raid. Prominent officers in the United States army are, it is said, in sympathy with the movement, and will assume commands when the affair reaches a certain point. There are three general officers in Vermont, two of whom are Americans by birth, one in Utica, N. Y., and one in Boston, who hold commands. The Boston man and Utica one have already arrived at Malone, N. Y., under orders to report to General Spear.

Live Fentans Swarming in Northern Vermont and Rapidty Leaving for the Front.—Mosby to Command the Expedition—20,000 Stand of Arms and a Battery Ready for Them.

[From the Burlington (Vt.) Free Press, May 24.]

There was considerable excitement in the city yesterday, over rumors of an immediate Fenian raid on Canada. The stories are that Fenian raid on Canada. The stories are that the Irishmen were everywhere knocking off work, and intending to take train for the border; that they expect 1,200 men along from the South; that the noted guerilla Mosby had been through here and is to command the Fenian cavalry, and that there is to be a general move on Montreal from all along the border. How much of this is smoke and how much fire it is not easy to determine. It is a fact that thirty or forty Irishmen, employed on the city water works and in the lumber yards, &c., left their work Monday morning. It is also reliably stated that a number of farm laborers, in adjoining towns, have taken unceremonious leave of their employers, without assigning any reason, and that certain parties, in sympathy with the Fenian inovennent, were called upon Sunday night to certain parties, in sympathy with the Fenian movement, were called upon Sunday night to contribute money to active Fenians. We are informed that loaded teams were again passing through town at a late hour Friday and Saturday nights. All was rumor and uncertainty (the Fenians themselves being very reticent as to what was on Saturday fights. All was rumor and uncertainty (the Fenians themselves being very reticent as to what was on foot,) till evening, when it became plain that an expedition of some sort was in progress. The 6.20 train for the North took a car-load and a-half of Irishmen, mostly young men, from Burlington. The steamer Adirondack, on her arrival from the south, reported a large number of Fenians, set at about 300, awaiting transportation at Port Henry, N. Y. At 8 o'clock the little steamer Curlew arrived from Port Henry, bringing Capt. Monahan and a company of fifty-five men from Port Henry. These had expected to reach here in time for the 0.20 train north; they brought with them several barrels and boxes understood to contain provisions. The Curlew returned to Port Henry and will bring, it is said, all she can in the course of the night, in season to take the 4 o'clock train this morning.

We despatched a reporter to St. Albans last evening, who found the same state of excitement there, with a general expectation on the evening, who found the same state of excitement there, with a general expectation on the part of the citizens of a renewal of the scenes of the great Fenian raid of four years ago. Parties from Fairfield reported the Irishmen there all on the qui vive, and some movement evidently on foot.

The Vermont Central managers received departing from Beaton institution are patches from Boston yesterday, inquiring on what terms they would carry a thousand men from Boston over their road last night, and have also, as we hear, been notified to provide cars for an unusual number of passengers tonight.

There is this difference between the present movement and the former one, that now the Fenians keep their own counsel as far as possible, and that this time their arms are on the former than their arms are on the country than the country that the border before them. That there are secret lepots of Feman arms and ammunition at Fairfield and other points near the line, is no secret. We have heard the quantity set by a secret. We have neard the quantity set by a party in a position to have accurate information, as high as 20,000 stand of muskets and carbines, together with at least one battery of light artillery. On the other hand the preparations to receive them in Canada are unquestionably much more formidable than on the accession of the former with TWA Least the constitution of the former with TWA Least the constitution of the former with the least the constitution of the former with the least the constitution of the former with the least the constitution of the constitu occasion of the former raid. We learn from Canada that the militia received orders on Saturday night to hold themselves in readiness for immediate service, and they are probably under arms again before this.

An Interview with Riel's Agent in Chi-A reporter of the Chicago Republican pro-

A reporter of the Chicago Republican professes to have had a conversation with Mons. I erault, the emissary of President Riel, and to have elicited the following facts: M. Perault is about 40 years of age, and speaks English with ease. He came to Chicago at the request of General O'Nell. He said that President Riel was not afraid of Fenian designs. O'Neil proposes to strike for Bfitish Columbia after helping Riel, and having gained possession of the coast to fit out privateers to annoy British commerce, until Ireland is declared free. O'Neil and Riel have been in correspondence for eighteen months. The Fenians of California havel promised assaid, and one thousand of them are now marching to Red River. They left California and entered Montana as miners. Colonel M. C. Smith has chief command of this body. Riel, with the Fenians, will meet the Canadian expedition with two thousand five hundred men, well armed. O'Neil has promised to join him before the expedition reaches fort Garry. If the Fenians should attempt to seize the control of the Government, as suggested by the reporter, Riel, said Mr. Perault, would oburn everything, and join the British against them. Riel is not a fool."

Excitement in the Chuchmati Camp.

Excitement in the Cincinnati Camp. Their Voices Not for War—They Refuse to Subscribe for Transportation.— [From the Cincinnati Enquirer, May 23.]

From the Cincinnati Enquirer, May 23.1

A large number of Fenians and friends of Ireland assembled at Fenian Armory yesterday afternoon, in answer to a call signed, John O'Neill, President F. B." This led many to balley the General was in the city, which subsequently proved to be a mistake; for Gen. Starr says that Gen. O'Neill is now on his way to Canada, and by Thursday next will be across the border with his army. This is the information he gave at the public ment ing yesterday afternoon. Prior to the public meeting it seems the Brotherhood held a private meeting and resolved not to counte meeting it seems the Brotherhood field a private meeting and resolved not to countenance the ill-prepared movement contemplated by O'Neill. This was subsequently announced at the public meeting, which was composed, for the most part, of outsiders who called themselves friends of Ireland.

General Starr addressed the meeting. He said that the army was moving; that General O'Neill ordered him to go to the front with all the men he could take from here, and the principal object of the meeting was to collect money to send the men. No time could be lost, for by Tuesday next the fight would be a matter of public record.

To this Mr. Fitzgerald replied that he loved his native land and the destiny of her people too much to sanction any such outrageous proceedings under the name of fighting for Ireland. He warned his hearers that "this contemplated fiasco" would only end in the murder of a few good, honest, but deluded men, who imagine they are fighting for "Irish liberty." It will bring ruin and cternal disgrace, not only on those who are crazy enough to embark in the Quixotic undertaking, but on the entire Irish race. There was nothing to recommend it to the patriotism or generosity to embark in the Quixotic undertaking, but on the entire Irish race. There was nothing to recommend it to the patriotism or generosity of Irishmen, but on the contrary, every reason why it should be both privately and publicly denounced by every honest and intelligent son of Erin. He regretted making those state-ments, but they are facts that had better be known in time, ere it be too late. This is not the work of the Fenian Brotherhood, but the result of a few reckless men, determined to destroy themselves and fasten more tightly the tyrant's yoke on millions.

This announcement of Mr. Fitzgerald set several to serious reflection. Col. Moore said several to serious reflection. Col. Moore said that it was well-known Mr. Fitzgerald was the leading Fenian of the West, and, being well posted on affairs, he commended his advice to the serious consideration of those whose enthusiasm got the better of their judgment. He, too, joined Mr. Fitzgerald in discounterangles programmers. He, 100, joined Mr. Fitzgerald in discountenancing any premature movement. Others, more enthusiastic and less practical, got somewhat boisterons and displeased at this practical advice, and in an emphatic manner said, "We're going to fight anyhow, win or lose." Several of the more intelligent and prudentmen, who fought at "Ridgway," denounced in bitter terms any attempt to take good and true men from their homes under pretence of a fight, for Irish liberty. No money having tight for Irish liberty. No money having been subscribed, the meeting adjourned without having accomplished anything other than the appointment of a committee on collections.

Dr. Spear, from the committee appointed to revise the report of the Regonstruction Committee, presented the following report:

As to the reorganization of Presbyteries and fixing their future boundaries, the Assembly are of the opinion that this work, if done by the several Synods, will be more likely to be effected to the satisfaction of all parties concerned, than if done by this Assembly. Accordingly this specific work is remitted to the Synods as defined by this Assembly; and for the purpose of securing uniformity of action on the part of the Synods throughout the entire Church, the Assembly recommend that each synological provided, should reorganize the Presbyteries existing within its boundaries by geographical lines, or with respect to convonient lines of truvel.

2. That each several Presbytery, with the Ministers and Churches within its limits, be defined as to boundaries by geographical lines, or with respect to convonient lines of truvel.

2. That Presbyteries be enlarged, and the formation of small ones to be discouraged; none formed hereafter to consist of less than five Ministers, the quorum for business remaining as heretofore.

3. That in the formation or arrangement of Presbyteries by the respective Synods it be recommended that no Iro- bytery consist of less than in ministers, except in outlying, frontier and missionary districts, and then be constituted as large aspossible.

6. That the Presbyteries and Synods h-retofore existing, which shall lose their present organization by consolidation under these arrangements hall be considered and designated as continuing their encession in that Synod now defined, or that Presbytery be constituted, which includes the largest pertion, counting both ministers and churches of said body as existing May 19, 1870, to preserve its records, and attend, as may be found necessary, to its business and interests.

The Commissioners of the Presbyteries within the bounds of each Synod saked by this Assembly are hereby respectively appointed a committee to designate the day, not latter then July 18, 1870, when, and the place to the condition of the Presbyteries within its bounds, to nominate some one to preach the opening a rmon, and preside until the Synod shall be organized by the choice of a Moderator, and report the same to this Assembly for its action, and for the transaction of any other business that may come before them.

construction was then taken up. The Clerk read as follows:
The next general subject is that of Representation in the General Assembly, and a proper ratio for the the Goneral Assembly, and a proper ratio for the same.

Your Committee, after full and repeated consideration of this important and difficult subject, are of the opinion that a change to Synodical representation is necessary, in order to bring the numbers in the Assembly within due limits, and secure equal rights to all parts of the thurch. But so far as we do an discover, the Church generally is not yet prepared for such a change; and the committee desire to avoid all occasion of discord in our United Church, or needless discussions on this subject in this General. Assembly. Therefore, no change from Presbyterial representation is proposed; but only a change in the ratio and form of representation, that the same great object may be secured, to a good degree.

By order of the Presbytery.

J. A PRIEST, Moderator.

Answer—1. That your committee are unable to onter apon the consideration of the case prese tod, since it is manifestly connected with a case of discipline, to adjudicate upon which lies outside the province of the Board of Foreign Missions or of this committee.

2. That in respect to the general attitude of the Board of Foreign Missions in relation to the practice specified in this overture, there is no occasion for criticism on the part of this committee.

3. That it be therefore recommended to the Assembly that the overture, with the accompanying papers, be sent to the Presbytery of Missouri Liver for its consideration, and for action thereupon if necessary.

Whereas, It has been represented to us that the American Baptist Publication Society, waiving all rights and claims which they might have under the enabling act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed March 11th, 1870, are at the same time prepared to-consummate the union proposed with this society on the basis of the union adopted by both societies in Boston last May; therefore,

Resolved, That waiving all questions as to the adoption on our part, we do hereby consent to a union with said society, on the basis of union simply, and will proceed to carry out as soon as practicable, said union, provided the Publication Society agree to and consummate the same.

Resolved, That some difference of opinion has been entertained in regard to the meaning and intent of item 6th of said basis of union. The same would be rendered more definite and certain by an explanatory parenthefical chause as follows: "We, on our part, as one of the parties to said basis of union, do agree that it shall be so amended as to read: 6th. TRAGEDY IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Murder of an Ex-Senator.

A despatch from Pelham, North Carolina, says that one of the most mysterious and terrible tragedies that ever occurred in that State was discovered on Sunday morning. On Saturday evening J. W. Stevens, an ex-Senator, who had that durattended a public meeting who had that day attended a public meeting in the town, was missed by his family. Search was made Saturday night all over the place, was made Saturday night all over the place, but without success. On Sunday morning the search was resumed, and after looking everywhere else the court-house was searched. The keys to all the private and jury rooms were found except one, and that room was locked. The door was burst open, and Mr. Stevens was found, dead, dangling from a beam, with a rope around his neck and his clothing saturated with blood. A deep gash in his breast showed that he had been stabbed to the heart, and another wound showed that the assassin's dagger, had poneshowed that the assassin's dagger had pone-trated the unfortunate victim's throat. It is supposed that he was inveigled into the room by his assassins on the plea of business, and then foully murdered. No clue to the perpetrators of the bloody deed has yet been ob-
