CITY BULLETIN.

-The annual review and inspection of the Police force of the city came off in Logan Square yesterday afternoon. Music was urnished by the Liberty Silver Cornet Band. Among the visitors present were Chief Justice the heads of the City Department, the Police Committee of City Councils, and eneral William B. Thomas, General J. W fmann, General W. A. Leech, Colonel Wm. radford, Colonel H. D. Welsh, Colonel Wm. Bradford, Coloner H. D. Weish, Gorder H. D. We nain avenue running east and west. At the yord of command from the Chief they opened nks, with the officers four paces to the front. reviewing party, headed by the Mayor, marched along the lines and reviewed the nen, after which they closed ranks, broke intolumns of four, and passed in review around e square. They next formed in companies nd marched around, after which they were formed in columns of four, and into line with open ranks. The Lieutenants were drawn up front, when Mayor Fox stepped forward and stroduced Mr. Henry Huhn, from the Police ommittee of Common Council. Mr. Huhm nade a short address, complimenting the men, n behalf of the municipal authorities, on their eat appearance, well executed evolutions and their efficiency as guardians of the peace. in India. Their portraits are bound with the work, and there are added Reminiscences of Dr. Scudder by his son, Henry M. Scudder, D. D. (likewise a missionary in India), and by Dr. Avdelott, an intimate friend and college associate of the subject of the memoir.

When the Prince of Wales, with wife and suite, visited the East year before last, two garrulous pens went along, those of the expressive Dr. " Bull Run" Russell, and of Hon. Mrs. William Grey, one of the ladies of the Princess. Messrs. Harper publish the journal of this tair camel-rider. Mrs. Grev writes in the easy gallop of a good lady-correspondent, and though she never pretends to inform about anything, yet she sketches pleasantly the high company and pompous receptions she met. The Journal touches upon Egypt, Constantinople, the Crimea and Greece.

Prof. Francis A. March, of Lafayette College, the philologist, publishes under Harpers' auspices a Comparative Grammar of the Anglo-Saxon Language. Its forms are illus-Anglo-Saxon Language. Its forms are illus-trated in this work by comparison with those of the Sanscrit, Greek, Latin, Gothic, Old Saxon, Old Friesic, Old Norse and Old High German dialects. To the fascinating study of comparative philology this work is a learned and safe assistant. A local advantage which Prof. March availed himself of, was the Anglo-Saxong collection of Mr. Medlicott, of Long-meadow, Mass., from which he borrowed texts not otherwise to be had for love or money. Prof. B. F. Cocker, D. D., filling the chair of moral and mental philosophy in the University of Michigan, issues through Harper & Bros. a monogram on "Christianity and Greek Philos-ophy; or, the relation between spontaneous and reflective thought in Greece and the court of or W.
