FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. Philadelphia Money Market. SATURDAY, June 11, 1870.—Money matters, like concretal business generally, continue very inactive, w mercial business generally, centinue very inactive, with scarcely sufficient doing to day to guide us in quoting the market. We cannot say that there is any augmentation of supplies, either at the banks or in private hands—probably there is a slight failing off in this respect—but the supply continues largely in excess of the demand, and rates are almost nominal. The closing of the Stock Exchange to day has put a temporary stop to the demand for call loans, whilst the general business depression affords few openings—for the employment of the large surplus funds in the hands of londers.

The members of the Stock Exchange hold no session to day, having gone on an excursion to the Fish House, and our usual record of Stock sales is therefore omitted. Gold is again dull and steady, with the range at 113% overnments are quiet and prices about the same as Jesucrusy, Among the sales at the outside board we notice 300 chares Reading Railread at 53%; 100 shares Lehigh Navigation ut 35 and $1,000 Schuylkill Navigation 58, 1852, at 77.

volves a largely increased expense, as it raises the present female force employed to twelve hundred dollar clerks, while the House substi-tute simply places females and males on a per-fect equality, and opens the field to compe-tition Mr. Rodgers was opposed to the practice of employing female clerks in the departments.
It grew out of the necessities of the war, and should now be discontinued. It was demoralizing, and the labor performed was not com-Bill to Ald the Union Pacific Railroad mensurate with the salaries paid.

Mr. Holman advocated the Senate amendment, and would vote for it as it stood.

Mr. Hear favored better salaries for females.

He submitted an amendment to Mr. Derreals. franking privilege, in order to take up the bill Union Pacific Railroad through Kansas, so substitute, providing that hereafter the compensation of all female clerks and employes who may be appointed shall be the same as that paid to makes of the same class. Adopted that that road can be connected with the main road at the one-hundredth meridian

The prospect for passing the bill is considered very good.
