And if sounded very sweet in the soft rich language e time is short, and the weather is hot, and the idea of fever cannot be wholly gotten rid of, there is something in the political and spiritnal atmosphere of the place that has a very depressing effect. It is the centre of one of since leaving home. Dr. Van Nest spoke very the most arbitrary governments in the world. feelingly of the great dearth they met with I was much amused, as we rode along in of children's books of a religious character, in watching the operations of two priests in the carrying on their work here. He expressed same car with us. One was a stout old man, the other a thin young one. As soon as they were seated, the old man took out his missal series to which it belonged. I asked what it and began to cross himself and "patter prayers." The exercise was long, the day was one such volume. He said the translation continues for months, as in the present inwarm, and by and by he got to nodding over his devotions. Every now and then he would rouse himself, take a pinch of snuff, and go at I told him I would be responsible for that it again. The young fellow took a wiser amount, and he said he would have the work course. He settled himself at once for a good begun at once. I thought our Sunday school long sleep. Then he woke up and went to would like to do a work like this; or, at any work with his book, seeming quite fresh and rate, I should esteem it a privilege cheaply vigorous, while the poor old man was having a hard time of it with his book and his beads, to set the "Rills from the Kountain of Life" his nods and his snuff. It took them several hours to get through. They certainly adopt the opposite principle | if not in person, of telling to the little ones | can stand it as long as anybody, and when the to that on which old Dr. — is said to have something at least of "the old, old story of crash comes we'll all go down together, and acted. of cabin passengers on board. When they had been out a day or two, another clergyman on board said to Dr. - : "Dr., as there are two clergymen here and so many passengers, don't you think it would be well to have worship in the evening ?" "Don't say a word about it," said the Dr., " let's sink the shop while we are abroad." FLORENCE, Monday Evening, May 30th.-Wehad hardly been in the hotel fifteen minutes last He has executed the model for the great monnight, had just washed our faces and taken our seats at the tea-table, when the Rev. Dr. Van Nest, of New York, who has charge of the American Union Chapel in this place, came in and introduced himself. He said he had heard of our arrival, and called to see if he guished artists who contended with him for the hogs and goats are doomed to follow; and could get some help on the morrow. It ended the residual to the hogs and goats are doomed to follow; and could get some help on the morrow. It ended the prize. All the leading medical authorities recognize the value of diffusive stimulants. Numerous eminent physicians and surgeons might be named who have advocated their ment in the treatment of a large class of dis them. They are prescribed in all public and private pitals, and administered by all bedside practitioners Alcoholic Liquors Pure.

The pungent aroma of the fusel oil and biting acids present in all of them can be scented as the glass is raised to the lips. The nauseous flavor of these active. poisons is perceptible to the palate, and a burning sennoxious draught has gone down. Paralysis, idiocy, in anity and death are the pernicious fruits of such pota tions.

Medical science asks for a pure stimulant to use as a specific, which, while it diffuses itself through the sys em more rapidly than any other known agent, is brought into direct and active contact with the seat of disease. It is the property of the stimulant to diffuse and by the aid of its peculiar nutritious component parts to invigorate, regulate, counterate and restore, and it is by the happy union of the principle of activity with the principles of invigoration and restoration that enables a PURE WHISKY

The Spanish question still causes much suneasiness, though the feeling this morning is somewhat more assuring than last The Constitutionnel, the Imperial organ, announces to-day that Señor Olozaga, the Spanish Minister to France, has received instructions from Spain to give official notice to the French government of the candidature of Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern. The Constitutionnel adds that when France becomes convinced of the persistence of Spain in this matter, she will terminate diplomatic relations with her. No definite intelligence has been received from Prussia, but France will not rest content with the evasive declaration of Count von Bismarck. Prussia ought, in the interest of the peace of Europe, to withhold her con-sent for Prince Hohenzollern to sit upon the throne of Spain. From various semi-official journals, this morning, are gathered the following details touching the condition of the candidature of Prince of Hohenzollern : Gen. Prim meant hostility when the Spanish Government notified the great Powers of Europe of Prince Hohen vollern's candidature. On the 3d of July General Prim advised Senor Olozaga, the Spanish Minister here, that he (General Prim) chosen Prince Leopold; that the Spanish Min-
