The Rumored Cabinet Change—Secretary
Fish Not to Resign.

Washington, July 11.—To settle all doubt that may exist in the public mind, Secretary Fish authorizes the statement to be made in these despatches that he has not tendered his resignation to the President to take effect either next September or at any other time.

"The President has desired me to remain in the Cabinet," said Mr. Fish to-day, "and as I am pleased to comply with his request, I have no intention of resigning, so long as he thinks I can be of service to the content of the county of Phila.

way of the week the situation was reported has like, and the tendency of gold to decline was assisted by the parage of the Currency bill, which contracts the real money of the country between fifty and sixty millions. Indeed, were it not for the anxiety an suspense in the Gold Room cencerning the foreign news the passage of the currency bill would have red to a sharp and sudden fall ingold, and the priwould doubtless have gone to between 108 and 110. As was, the two influences checked each other. On the in 500 29731 57% 100 sh Read R b00 05 rn 57% 100 sh do 45 vn 118 209 sh do 1172% 100 sh do 30 day of the week the foreign. news came more exciting and gold slowly advanced to 112%. Should an immediate peaceful settlement of the present European complications be suddenly reached gold would tumble all the more rapidly for the efforts which are now being made to advance it. It is certainly flatering to our national pride and a compliment to our national pride and a compliment to our national pride and a compliment to our national credit that gold should make as trifling an upward movement on new which a year rate ago would have put it up one or two percent, at a nump and intoxicated the Gold Room with joy. The "bulls" in the precious metal should seriously ponder the possibility that a grand war in Europe would bring this country to specie payments. It was peace in Europe while we were at war that sent gold value. But one while we were at war all Europe was bong making and selling us goods. When Europe goes to war, we shall be the producers, and her armies and na vies be consumers for all that we can send.

In this connection a curious problemija about to be solved concerning our government securities. Should Europe go to war we shall doubtless have testimony from impartial witnesses as to the standing of our attended the standing of our activities. The instruction a curious problemija about to be solved concerning the propose of the shall destroad, or a comparatively trifing reshipment of them. It is significant of the extent this movement will take that with a sharp decline in rentes and consols our securities have been comparatively steady in London, Paris and Frank-tire, but the decline would have been less had not the Currency bill been regarded as prejudicial to higher prices, for the reason that it was generally expected that the Secretary of the Treasury would be compelled to a top his bond purchases in order to redeem the tree per cents. Monday, July 11, 1870.—There is nothing new or of interest in the loan market, but a semi-panic exists in the New York Gold Room this morning, owing to the cable reports from Europe announcing the rupture between France and Prussia as more imminent than ever. We place no reliance in these rumors, but they afford a fine chance for speculators to operate in gold and Government bonds, and for a few days at least there will be a species of mania for making a rapid fortune out of the excitement.

THE SCHOEPPE CASE. I. E. WALRAVEN, there was any error. The judgment of the Court of Oyer and Terminer was of course at firmed. Thus the case passed into final judgment for the affirmance; being by the flighest court in the State, there could be not writ of error to it. This judgment being rendered, the record was remitted to the court below on the 14th day of February, 1870.

On the 15th of February, 1870, a law was passed allowing write of error in cases of mur-on the loth of February, 1810, a law was passed allowing writs of error in cases of murder and voluntary manslaughter as a matter of right, without a special application under the act of 1860. The case of Paul Scheeppe having been decided before the passage of the act, he has obtained a second writ of error from the Prothunotary claiming it as a matter from the Prothonotary, claiming it as a matter of right under the late act, and this writ is now before us. The Commonwealth, relying on the judgment of affirmance under the former writ, has pleaded that judgment in bar of this writ. The act of 1870 applies only bar of this writ. The act of 1870 applies only to future writs of error and to those pending in this court when the law was passed. Final judgment having been rendered, and the record remitted on the 14th of February, the case was not pending before us the 15th, when the law was passed. The plea in bar must therefore prevail. The defendant's counsel, perceiving this unavoidable result, has moved us fore prevail. The defendant's counsel, per-ceiving this unavoidable result, has moved us to open the judgment of affirmance, given in the former writ of error, in the hope that we may, on opening it, treat the case as a writ pending at the passage of the law, intending then to apply to it the provisions of the act of 1870. This motion is also before us, and in-future prospects. To accomplish this, it is thought Napoleon will percept war with Prussia, assigning as cause the action of Spain.

The fact that we act as a court of review to correct the errors of the lower courts does not seem to justify a revision of our own final judgments.

The English authorities are against the power, and there appears to be no good reason for its exercise in this State that does not exist elsewhere. The power being admitted after the first term has passed, there is no limitation of time, and the doors of prisons and penitentiaries may be opened at any time before sentence is finally executed. This clearly would be an infringement of the par-doning power in our case as much as it could be affirmed of the judges of the inferior courts. Judicial discretion is not the pleasure of the court, nor the arbitrary result of our will, but is governed by sound judgment founded on good reason and controlled by a conscientious conviction of right. In this case there has been no mistake made, no error which o sense of justice calls upon us to correct, cannot be pretended that our judgment on t former writ of error was incorrect. Having no ground of error or mistake in our we are compelled to decline opening it.

It is not improper before doing so to say a few words in reference to the act of 1870; to draw attention to some of its defects and to too late. It is another evidence that laws which are the offspring of feeling are seldom he ingredients to constitute murder in the the ingredients to constitute murder in the first degree were proved to exist, and yet in forgetfulness of the former law it provides no means to take, preserve and bring up the evidence. This, the first attempt to act under it, proves its inefficiency, the judge below returning our certiorari that he was not able to make the return. He is not bound by law to take the testimony or to certify to it. A bill of exception brings up only so much of the point of law contained in the bill.

The effects of this law seem not to have exghany county, delayed by dilatory motions, where the prison doors were opened by unknown means and the prisoners escaped for time or condition, whether in prison under sentence or stepping upon the trap of the gallows, with cause or without it, and suspend his case until the next term of the Supreme death warrant not preventing, he should wait till the term of the Supreme Court be passed, and then take out this writ of error to delay the execution of his sentence for a whole the writ for cause, is repealed. To us as judges it makes no difference, for to us it is immateral whether we have civil or criminal cases.

Indeed, it is more easy to decide on the merit of the evidence in a criminal case than upon a difficult and abstruse question of law in a com plicated civil case.

The motion to open the judgment in the former writ of error is refused, and this writ of our own judgment is given for the Com-monwealth on the plea of former judgment,

Sunday, July 10.—The influences which affected the course of values in Wall street during the week were the final passage of the Currency bill and the prospect of a way in Europe. The market opened dull and steady after the Fourth of July Holiday, but were soon disturbed by the revival of the Currency bill. The steek market, which had made considerable progress the week befers, on the first disagreement of the Conference Committee became heavy, and prices after the passage of the bill fell off one to two per cent, not so much through any pressure of speculative sales as through a postponement of the general movement for higher prices, which had been commenced in anticipation of a failure of all the financia measures this session. But when the Currency bill went through despite the original predictions that the two Houses could not agree, the street became discouraged and determined to await the adjournment of Congress, especially as the Funding bill is again agitate and may reach passage just as unexpectedly as did the From the New York Herald of to-day.
