THE LICENSE SWINDLE.

According to the latest official reports, 3849 tavern licenses have been issued by the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions for the present year. These licenses produce less than two ndred thousand dollars, or an average of fifty dollars apiece, while there are between four and five thousand taverns in the city that take out no licenses, and, of course, pay nothing sarily high rates for lash discomfort who will not submit to the dirt and discomfort systematic swindlers paid at the rate of the minority, the annual revenue would be nearly four hundred and fifty thousand dollars. But the law provides a graduated license according to the amount of sales. The sale of $10,000, or more, requires license of $500. Between $8000 and $10,000, the license is $250; between $6,000 and $$,000, it is $100, and when under $4,000 it is $50. When it is considered that there are single establishments whose sales exceed $100,000 annualy, and very many that reach $50,000, it is a very reasonable calculation that the average grade of the whole eight thousand taverns of Philadelphia is, at least, of the gregate of eight hundred thousand dollars per annum, four times the amount actually ro ceived by the State. It must require a large amount of perjury on the part of tavern-keep ers, and a large amount of ignorance or indif. ference on the part of the officials concerned, he, fore the whole line of the liquor sales of this city can be put down at less than $4,000 for each dealer. If there were not so many other similar illustrations of the way Philadelphia permits her-ing down the track, and having done with it, self to be swindled and imposed upon, to have her ordinances set at nought, and to set pre-miums upon all kinds of official dishonesty and incompetence, this might be a cause of amazeincompetence, this might be a cause of amaze-out of its way, and inflicting great discomfort ment. To "keep a hotel" has passed into a proverb signifying the capability of doing any difficult thing well, and the proverb is wisely stated; for it is an extremely difficult thing to "keep a hotel" and make money out of it and satisfy lieve that it is impossible to establish a class of houses accommodating one, two or three hundred people, in which there shall be no expen-diture for show, either in furniture or bills of fare, where comfortable rooms, clean beds, civil servants, plain but well-cooked meals of TEENTH and TIOGA streets. simple variety, but of sufficient quantity, can be furnished profitably for much lower rates than now prevail. cems to have been destined to be a nuisance the eyes of the public from its inception to s completion. This road, whose legislative history is still offensively fresh in the minds of the people, has been sold out, as was doubtless the original intention of the "Ring" that got the bill through the Legislature, to the companies running immediately parallel with it, and taken possession of by the new owners for the uppose of constructing the nuiseness which the people and the press of Philadelphia so earnestly and so vainly protested.

PRUSSIA. Address to the King.

BERLIN, July 21. The Parliament of the North German State has voted an address to the throne, declaring that they do not hesitate to trust their King to conduct, at the eve of life, a struggle in which he joined when alyouth—a struggle that is now likely to terminate forever the attempts of France to shatter the German nation, which now on the field of battle will attain a unity never enjoyed before. Europe is congratu-lated that at last the Continent is delivered from the Bonapartist lust of power and the evil ambition which ever directed the Napoleonic aspirations, and that a healthy check will now has voted an address to the throne, declaring aspirations, and that a healthy check will now be given to the vanity of the French nation. The address was voted amid the wildest enthusiasm, and the North German Union seems at this moment a unit for the war.

The rate on call has been steadily advancing under the swelling proportion of the gold speculation and through a nore widespread operation of that feeling which is vensitive to financial disturbance, and with-draws capital from speculative regions whenever danger appears. The marking up of gold to '123 has created a deman for many millions of money, and the demand increasing as the lenders' confidence demanes, there is a twofold reason for higher 'rates'. No Battle yet Fought

LONDON, July 21.-There is no news yet of a attle. although a collision is momentarily expected. The picket guards on the frontier exchange shots occasionally, which have been reported as skirmishes, but beyond this nothing like a fight has occurred. The First Battle will take place on the Moselle, near the frontier of France and Prussia proper, a few miles north of Metz, which place is the present headquarters of a portion of the French army. The battle will be waged, on the side of France, by what is termed the army of the Moselle, composed of the second, third, and fourth-corps, and-commanded-by-Marshal-Bazaine.

It will be met by the Prussian forces unde command of the Crown Prince in person. The supposition here is that it will be a most lisastrous conflict, as both sides will fight with desperation, and maintain their stand almost to the last man, knowing as they do that much of the prestige of the war will depend on the first engagement.

ENGLAND. The London Press on the Situation LONDON, July 21.-The London papers this morning are less detiant and belligerent in their tone than at first. They have studied the profit that a strict neutrality will produce. One of the lesser journals even hints that Belgium may go to the dogs before England will interfere. The supremacy of France is acknowledged by Prussia, and no naval engagements of any magnitude are expected to take place.

The German Steamers on this side are all locked up in neutral ports where they will probably remain until they can legally venture out under the flag of some other nation. More Troops A cross the Frontier.....

Skirmish. LONDON, July 21.-A detachment of 200 French soldiers crossed the frontier into Prussia, on Tuesday, for a reconnissance, and had a skirmish with a small Prussian force. The Frenchmen were finally surrounded by the German soldiers and all made prisoners. None vere killed and only a few wounded.

An Unfounded Bumor. There was great excitement in Berlin, yes terday, over a report that Russia had declared war against France, but the rumor was not confirmed. 1. 11 1.

FBANCE. rotection to American Merchan French Waters. PARIS. 2 P. M.-The French Governmen has issued a notice that merchantmen sailing under the enemy's flag, now in French ports. shall be allowed thirty days to leave. A safe conduct shall be given to vessels bound to France with cargoes on French account, or laden for neutral ports, or which left the enemy's port before the declaration of war was proclaimed. These vessels are exempt from -capture-and-can-disembark-their-cargoes-ata French port and receive a safe conduct for their return.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Report of the Agricultural Departm (Special Despatch to the Phila: Evening Bulletin:) WASHINGTON, July 21 .- The monthly report of the Agricultural Department for July is just out this afternoon. The great wheat growing districts all show a reduction in the ondition, and the crop will be materially less than last year. The increase in the breadth of corn is greater than the increase in the acreage. The wheat crop will be above the average. There is excellent promise for the cotton crop, and the increase in the amount is about twelve per cent. (By the American Press Association.

An accident caused entirely by the culpabl An acculate classed entries by by the curpation ignorance of a switchman occurred upon the Morris and Essex Railroad on Wednesday evening. The engine Montrose, while running as extra with two empty cars and at a speed of thirty miles an hour, was just passing Washington station when the switchnan turned his switch so as to run the train over the embankment, and he did so just as the engineer was upon it, so no time was given to the employee to stop the train. The engineer and fireman jumped and escaped with severe bruises, but the conduc-tor, Morford, was less fortunate, as, in jump-ing, he severely dislocated his right leg, and ustained several severe bruises. The engine was badly broken up, but the train escaped with but little injury. The

had been set right by the switch-tender just before the accident, but hearing a train approaching he seems to have supposed it was vrong, and so altered it. Regatta. Schooners and sloops of the New York

Brooklyn and Atlantic Yacht Clubs convened in force to day near the club-house, off Clifton Staten Island, under command of Commo-dores Stebbins, Kidd and Voorhees. The gathering was in anticipation of the coming of the Dauntless and Cambria, and the perfecof the Dauntless and Cambria, and the perfec-tion of arrangements for their reception. They made a fine display passing down the Narrows in triple column. A salute was fired from a brass cannon on the pier off the Club "House as they sailed, and the club flag was run up a pole on the roof of the house. A majority of the yachts sighted the light ship off Sandy Hook, while one or two ambitious ones solid ground these and into the broad Atlansailed around these and into the broad Atla
