Twenty-five years ago, at least, an American—a Philadelphia-scientific man—obtained a deserved reputation by directing the attention of Europe and America to this very subject which M. Le Maout has been remarking. Professor James P. Espy,the famous meteorologist, made a close and profound study of the phenomena of clouds and storms. Professor Espy attracted much attention at the time, especially in Europe. He visited Paris, and was warmly welcomed by the scientific celebrities of that day;

This nece of Furniture is in the form of a handsome PARLOR SOFA, yet in one minute it can be extended into a beautiful FRENOH BEDSTEAD, with springs, hair mattresses complete. It has every convenience for holding the bed clothes, is easily managed, and it is impossible for it to get out of order. The use of props or hinged feet to support the mattress when extended, or ropes to regulate it, are entirely done away with, as they are all very unsafe and liable to get out of repair. The BEDSTEAD is formed by simply turning out the ends, or closing them when the SOFA is wanted. They are, in comfort, convenience and appearance, far superior to and cost no more than a good Lounge. St. Avold, Metz and Bitche, state that the army has commenced to move toward the frontier. The Imperial Guard has already started, and it is now regarded as certain that the Emperor designs closing in on the Prussians between Thionville and Welssenburg, throwing the army under General McMahon on the German side of the Rhine.

This army is composed of three corps, commanded by Generals Forey, Douay, and McMahon.

A force of 8,000 marines, under command of Gen. De Vassaigne, accompany the Baltic fleet, and an attack is to be made on Stralsund, immediately north of Berlin. France denies the authenticity of the secret treaty said to have been offered to Prussia.

London, July 26.—A despatch from Paris announces that the Emperor leaves to-night for the front.

The environs of Cologne have been cleared of their inhabitants and buildings, and the trees will be leveled, in preparation for a siege. The Pall Mall Gazette, now that the real designs of the French Emperor are revealed, counsels England to make every preparation for war.
