Hash in November has to the beach of Hospital. The large sum of money then raised, together with certain other sums added to it, has been appropriated to the purchase of the Hahnemann College building and those of the Hahnemann College building and the H situated in the rear and facing on Cuthbert street for hospital uses.

From plans submitted by Mr. Betts, the architect a contract was made, and on the 2d inst. work was commenced, and at our present writing the buildings on Cuthbert street are nearly leveled to the ground, preparatory to laying the foundation of the new building.

aying the foundation of the new building.

The main building is to front on Cuthbert street, and run back 72 feet, and connect with a wing running parallel to the rear of the college building, 35 feet. It is to be four stories high above the basement.

In the basement are the kitchen, marro's and the content of the content are the street or the street of the stree parlor, dining-room, &c. The first story contains the receiving ward, offices, resident physician's rooms, etc.

In the second-story are to be two private wards and one public ward, the latter of which is to be 72 feet in length, with two rows of beds. The third-story to be the same as the second. The fourth-story is to be used for laundry, drying-room, store-rooms, &c.

A suitable number of bath-rooms and water-closets, will be furnished to each story.

closets will be furnished to each story. dumb waiter will connect each floor with the kitchen, and there will also be an elevator, which is considered of paramount importance to the welfare and comtort of the patient. The floors will be 10 feet between joists, and each floor will communicate with the college building.

The college building is having extensive rerate contege building is having extensive top pairs, the centre of the building having set-tled somewhat. A new and spacious amphi-theatre is also being put in, suitable for the ac-commodation of 550 students. The friends of this system of practice will, of course, rejoice to know that such excellent facilities are to be afforded by this combination of a hospital.

The following named gentlemen are the Trustees of the Hospital, and are pushing it to an early completion: J.W. Sexton, Treasurer; D. T. Pratt, Secretary; Rev. Howard Malcom.

SUPPOSED BURGLARS CAPTURED. Yesterday afternoon Special Officer Parkhill, stationed at Girard Park, observed four men lounging about in a suspicious manner. One of then had a big satquel. When the men left, Park hill followed them to the Girard avenue passenger railroad depot. There he accosted the fellow with the valise, and insisted on examining it. Upon opening the satchel, an alpaca coat was found. This, it was declared. was all that was in the bag. Parkhill was not satisfied, and pushed his hand farther down. Then he found two jimmies, three or four skeleton keys, some nippers, and other bur-glarious instruments. At this time one of the men put his hand in his pocket and got a pistol partly out. The officer quickly drew a revolver, pointing it at the fellow, and threat ened to shoot him if he didn't take his hand out of his pocket empty. The hand was so taken out. Two of the men were then arrested. They gave their names as Andrew Hess and James Gibson, and are at the Central Station, awaiting a hearing

A SHOCKING TRAGEDY.

Durder of an Entire Family at Bara-dere---the Assassins Not Arrested.

The following account of a fearful tragedy comes to us in a recent issue of the Buenos Avres Standard:

"The city was startled yesterday morning by the announcement of a fearful murder that has been committed at Baradero; in this province. The victims comprise all the memprovince. The victims comprise all the members of a family, consisting of the husband-wife and two young children. In the burried details to hand only the slightest motive can be discerned for this awful orime, and up to the present no trace of the perpetrators has been found.

This Baradero murder exceeds in atrooity any of the numerous crimes that have for some time past shocked society in this country, and fully equal in mystery and horror the worst ebullitions of moral depravity that so frequently break forth in the overcrowded centres of Europe or the States. It is unnecessary to remind the Government, that some-extraordingry effort on its part for the appresent contractions. extraordinary effort on its part for the appre-tension and punishment of the frightful deed is imperatively called for. Should the Baradero assassins go undetected and unpunshed the consequence will be most serious, as the rural population will become convinced that murder through private revenge or other motives may at any time be their portion. Abroad, the effect will be still worse; for the eyes of Europe have been attracted toward us of late by the frequency of an impunity for assassination among us; and we may be said to be on our trial. We are happy to notice that the Justice of Peace and local authorities that the Justice of Peace and local authorities have done whatever lay in their power toward tracking the criminals, the former at once offering a reward of $10,000 for their apprehension. The following are the only particulars of the crime as yet known, and are contained in a etter addressed by a lady to a friend in town, and which was published yesterday morning by the Tribune. We translate it verbatim:

it verbatim:

"BARADERO, May 15, 1870.—My Dew——:
I write you this in a dreadful state of mind.
The Pantin tragedy has been reproduced in this partido. Last night Don Fidel Diaz and all his family were assassinated. To enable all his family were assissmated. To enable you to understand the horror of the picture, I will give you the details that have reached me. The Diaz family comprised four persons, the husband, an excellent man, still young, because of any and the property of any and the property of the picture. ing only thirty-two years of age, and much liked by every one who knew him; the wife, twenty-five, nec. Camana, her family being rich proprietors in this partido. The latter in then proprietors in this particular latest accept a few days would have been a mother. A child of seven and another of three made up the household. The family occupied a good position; the enjoyments and necessities of high society were unknown to them, but they lived happy and contented. To-day this is all at an end, and their house is tenanted by five corpses. Every one of them had their throats cut, and, in addition, the body of the husband exhibits no fewer than eighteen dagger thrusts, and that of the poor wife four. The assassins are not as yet known, but they are believed to be persons who were intimate with the domestic affairs of the family, which probably induced them to kill the little boy. that their names might not transpire They broke open two boxes containing plate and cash; both were emptied. The motive for the crime is supposed to have been the acquisition of money, for it was known that Diaz had lately sold a flock of sheep; but the murderers were disappointed, as the money had for the acquisition or that not been paid over, and a 'pagare' for it was found in a desk. The crime must have been committed shortly after sundown, for all the victims were dressed—even the children—and it was apparent that they had not supped, for the country people hereabouts sup at 6, and are in bed at 7 o'clock. The wife's sisters, who five three squares off, say that a little after stindown they heard the dogs at their sister's house barking violently, and thinking she had been taken in labor, went out with the intertion of going to her, but they were afraid to go alone, and their brother had not returned from the town. If they went they would also have been killed. An infant child of their sister's only a year old, was saved through being sent with them, as it had been hen with the many the mother's sent to be out of the way during the mother's confinement. Diaz could not defend humself, for he broke one of his legs four months ago, and was on crutches, and his right arm was in a sling. There was no peon kept by the family. shift. The was not provided the state of the shift a boy who went every morning to let out sheep, was astonished on going as usual the following day to find nobody about. On entering the horrible picture met his gaze, and he rushed out terrified to give the alarm. The impression produced by the deed is terrible. The shops remained shut till yesterday evening at sundown, and many families have came into town panie-stricken. I give you these details in order to show the necessity of executing the assassins if caught, for we who live in the country where there is no Police will otherwise be at the mercy of the murderers. It will not be difficult to catch the criminals for they took away a waisteest the criminals, for they took away a waistcoat with gold buttons belonging to Diaz, and the httle boy's boots, which they tore from his feet. The father, mother, and eldest child were murdered on the threshold of the first room, which is filled with blood. The assassive alread the bodies large on their forces for room, which is filled with blood. The assassins placed the bodies lying on their faces, for there is a superstition among the peasantry that if a murdered corpse be left on its back the assassins will be discovered. The little hoy evidently tried to run away, but they caught him at the door leading into the next room and despatched him. Such are the de-tails of this fearful crime, and it is the duty of our colleagues to keep it before the public and the authorities day by day or until the per-petrators are hunted down."

The greater part of the road is already completed, and the carnings from the fulshed portion are already more than deficient to pay operating expenses and interest on the bonds. The balance of the work is progressing rapidly, in time for the movement of the coming, grain-crops, which, it is estimated, will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this line, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great state of lows, togother with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors as, in every respect, an undoubted security. These bonds have 50 years to run, are consertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the Company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sitcking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at no distant day to command a market price considerably above pur, hesides paying about 5 per cent, currency, interest in the meanwhile.
