WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The President has ust issued a proclamation, of which the fol-Just issued a proclamation, of which the fol-lowing is a synopsis: Whereas, A state of war unhappily exists between France and the North German Con-federation and its allies; and whereas, the United States are on terms of friendship and amity with all the European powers and with the persons inhabiting their several domains; and whereas, great numbers of citizens of the United States reside within the territories or dominions of each of the said chizens of the United States reside within the territories or dominions of each of the said belligerents, and carry on commerce, trade and other business pursuits therein protected by faith of treaties, and whereas great num-bers of subjects, citizens of each of the said belligerents reside within the territory and jurisdiction of the United States, carry-ing on commerce, trade and other business ursuits thereon; and whereas the laws of the United States, without interfering with the free expression of opinion and sympathy, or with the open manufacture and sale of arms munitions of war, nevertheless impo upon all persons who may be within their ter-ritory and jurisdiction, the duty of impartial neutrality during the existence of that contest. Now, therefore, I. Ulysses S. Grant, Presi-dent of the United States, in order to preserve the neutrality of the United States and their citizens and persons within their territory and jurisdiction and toe nforce their laws, and in order that all persons, being warned of the general tenor of the laws and treaties of the United States in this behalf and of the law of nations, may thus be prevented from unintentional violation of the same, do hereby declare and proclaim that by the act passed on the 20th day of May, 1818, commonly known at 20th day of May, 1818, commonly known s the Neutrality laws.
