SATERDAY, Aug. 27.-In view of the present war and the stirring events now going on in Europe the money markets of this country are kept in a constant flutter of excitement, and gold and Government Securities oscil-late too and ir o with every despatch, which reaches us through the cable. The Government market exhibited the general fea-tures which have characterized all the markets outside of that for gold. The transactions have been coulined to a few sales at the Boards, the intermediate dealings being unusually light, showing a luil in the speculative movement. At the same time there is no pressure to sell on the part of domestic holders, while orders on foreign account are quietly consummated. The market abroad has been less firm to-day, and prices at the close in London were "off," owing rather to the approach of "softling day" than to any new influences arising out of the war sit-uation.

By the American Press Association.] THE WAR. The March to Paris.

DON, Aug. 27 .- [Cable to New York vening Post.]-Thursday evening the Prusian army advanced and reached a point midway between Chalons and Epernay. The march on Paris is to be conducted leisurely as no further opposition is anticipated.

There is authority for saying that the fortifications of Paris, unless manned by at least 300,000 men, are worthless. According to French reports, Luneville is so filled with the Prussian wounded that 3,000 are left un sheltered on the streets.

Paris "papers still assume a confident air. and claim that the Prussians have suffered severe reverses. They say the Prussians under Von Steinmetz have been separated from Prince Frederick Charles and driven back northward.

Army of Frederic Charles The army of Prince Frederick Charles is said to have been severely checked near Mederes.

Absurd Rumor. There is a startling rumor in Paris that whole Prussian corps has been drowned near Metz.

The March to Paris--- A Junction. BERLIN, Aug. 27 .- A portion of the army under King William, which has been detached from the investment of Metz, effected a junction with the army of the Crown-Prince-at-Bar-le-Duc. Accounts from all quarters, relative to the movements of the Crown Prince, agree that the Crown Prince is now marching directly on Paris.

Destruction of a Railroad The French are reported to have destroyed portions of the railway between Montmedy and Mezieres.

Movements of MacWahon. LONDON, August 27.-[Special to the Post

A Paris telegram states that MacMahon has decidedly abandoned tho Valley of the Marne to the Prussian Prince Royal, and only guard the Aisine by his extreme right.

He has carried his centre towards Ardennes and his left extends from the Meuse to the frontier of Luxemburg; thus supporting himself upon neutral territory with the exception of 60,000 Garde Mobile cantoned above Rheims, whose military trains are yet very imperfect.

His forces do not exceed 135,000, but he has numerous artillery. Bazaine has about 90,000 men at Metz. The two armies united may bring back fortune to our banners, but we are not sure of their junction.

The Ministry is informed that their union is a fact, and the apparent inactivity of Bazaine at Metz is a matter of strategic calculation; but intelligence from other quarters states that their junction is not accomplished, and besides, it is neither desirable or necessary

Montmedy.

LONDON, Aug. 27 .-- [Special to New York Herald.]-It is reported that the northern movement of Marshal MacMahon is now fully confirmed, and that there was a fight yesterday near Montmedy, between advanced cavalry detachments of the French and Prussian armies, and that the latter were repulsed.

French Reinforcements, Large reinforcements have been sent from Paris by the Northern Railroad for MacMa hon's army.

The Tactics of MacMahon appear to be to gather up the broken corps and to sweep along the borders of Belgium, avoiding an encounter with the Prussians likely to

If successful, MacMahon will, it is thought strike the Prussian line at St. Avold. This is believed to be the strategy which Count Palikao hinted at some days ago in a commu nication to the Corps Legislatif.

In a speech at Kingston, last Monday, he ex-pressed the opinion that if peace prevails in all our borders, and all classes and conditions of our people are normitted to any their of our people are permitted to enjoy their rights and exercise their privileges without molestation there will be no reconstruction; but if, as had surely been the case in the past any portion or class of our citizens should he deterred from exercising all the rights of free-men by domestic violence, he gives, as his deperate opinion, that future will evidently follo Andy Johnson not to be a Congressional It is declared by the Greenville Union that Ex-President Johnson will not, under any insideration, be a candidate for Congress from this district. CURTAIN MATERIALS.
