THE CONGREGATION SHALOM." "RODEF

The New Synagogue. The new synagogue of the German Hebrew Congregation "Rodef Shalom," at the corner of Broad and Mt. Vernon streets, the corner-stone of which was laid July 20, 1869, is rapidly from designs furnished by Fraser, Furness & Hewitt, architects, and both in exterior appear-ance and internal arrangements is one of the handsomest church buildings in the country. The architecture is of the Saracenic style, with moresque arches. The front on Broad street is eighty-three feet, and the depth on Mt. Vernon street is 164 feet. Tren-ton brown-stone has been used for the walls, and the singestones of the arches are alterand the ring-stones of the arches are alter-nately of Oleveland sandstone and red Sen-ecastone from the Potomac. The facade is very elaborate, and is 74 feet in height to the point of the gable. The main doorway is flanked by columns and shafts of Aberdeen ilanked by columns and shafts of Aberdeen granite, dressed and polished in Scotland, and imported expressly for this building. The capitals of the columns are of Cleveland sand-stone, richly carved; over the doorway the stone is carved in sunken designs of rich ara-besque patterns. At the northwest corner of the structure there is a turret 26 feet square and 125 feet in height, of an ornamental de-sign in keeping with the front of the building. Surmounting this tower there is to be a dome finished in blue and gold, thus presenting a handsome and novel effect. On Broad street there are three doors of entrance. The vestibule is paved with encaustic tiles laid on a solid is paved with encaustic tiles laid on a solid cement base, supported by iron joists and brick arches. At each side are the stairways lead-ing to the galleries. These are so arranged that persons descending by them do not inter-fere with those passing out from the side pas-sages. In addition to the Broad street en-trances, there is a doorway on Mt. Vernon street, and another one on the south side near street, and another one on the south side near the end of the building. In the interior of the edifice everything is fitted up in Moorish style, in polychromatic colors. The roof is a Howe truss, requir-ing no support by means of pillars from the body of the church, and the ceiling is laid out in panels, which are divided by the curved and ornamental rafters painted in crimson, blue and gold. The windows are of rich and costly stained glass set in leaden sash and set directly in the stone-work of the mullions, no wooden frames being work of the mullions, no wooden frames being used. The glass is all rolled and presents a splendid and rich appearance. The designs contain the emblems of the Twelve Tribes, the Holy Ark, Altar of Incense, Brass Altar, Golden Candlestick and other symbols, and under each window are texts of Scripture in Hebrew letters. These windows were de-Hebrew letters. These windows were de-signed and executed by a Canadian artist, Mr J.C. Spence, of Montreal, who has opened a manufactory in this city. Extending the entire length of the building, on the north and south sides, are galleries, and there is a smaller one at the front. These galleries are supported by orna-mental wooden brackets, built into the walls, and well secured by bars of iron. In the body of the church the pews will comfortably seat 1042 persons, and in the galleries 368 can be accommodated. This makes the total seating capacity 1408. The capping of the pews and the ends are all of black walnut carved and oiled The gas fixtures will be a very pretty feature in the ornamentation of the edifice, and will in the ornamentation of the edifice, and will add greatly to its beauty. They are red and blue enamel in gilt, and were made at the new factory of Baker, Arnold & Co. (late Corne-hus & Baker), at Twelfth and Brown streets. The fixtures are not up yet, but will be placed in position in a few days. There are thirty-one seven-light candelabras. Sixteen of these will be placed on the main floor. The others will be plated on the stairways. Around the walls there will be sixty-two three-light brackets. In the vestibule will hang a large eight-light chandelier. In front of the Holy Ark there will be an everlasting lantern and two golden candlesticks of eight lights each. The gas fixtures are all of entirely new de-The gas fixtures are all of entirely new de-signs, highly ornamented, and finished in the signs, highly ornamented, and finished in the best style of workmanship. The Holy Ark, pulpit and reading desks are on a raised platform, 33 by 28 feet, in a recess at the eastern end of the building. The shrine is of carved wood, elaborately ornamented, and is supported by four Italian marble posts. It is surmounted by a polished bronze done, seven-sided and perforated in oriental de-signs, supported by eight columns of the same material. This dome, which is an elegant work of art, was made by Messrs. Robert Wood & Co., of this city. The cost of the shrine was about $8,000. The Aeiched is in the rear of the Holy Ark, and the doors are beau rear of the Holy Ark, and the doors are beau-tifully carved and arranged to slide into the sides of the recess. In the rear of the Aeichad are the general meeting-room and the robing rooms for the ministers, handsomely decorated and furnished. The carpets are of American manufacture, having been made by McCal-lum, Crease & Sloan, of this city, expressly for this building. They are in patterns to agree with the other decorations of the build

RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS.—John Fischer and Wm. Smith were before Alderman Kerr, his afternoon, upon the charge of receiving theo. G. Jenne Jerome testified that the scarf had been given to her by Smith. Mrs. Fischer testified that the book had been brought to the house by a man who said he found it among the rubbish back of 503 Chestnutstreet. The defendants were held in $600 bail to answer. The parties concerned in the affair are all connected with a concert saloon at No. 503 Chestnut street.

ALLEGED MAIL ROBBERY.—Before U. S. Commissioner Biddle, this afternoon, William S. McClellan was charged with obtaining let-ters from the Post-Office by fraud. The evi-dence showed that early this week the ac-cused presented a ticket at the Post-Office window, and was given letters addressed to Davis & Elverson, publishers. Afterwards he said he had lost the ticket. He was told to get an order from the firm, and a new ticket would be given him. A note purporting to would be given him. A note purporting to have been written by Mr. Davis, requesting the issue of another ticket, was then presented by a boy, who was recog-nized, by the box-window clerk, and the re-quest was complied with. Letters have since hear missed by the firm and restrdar Mc(ilel. been missed by the firm and yesterday McClel-lan was arrested by the Post Office authorities while at the window. He was held in $3,000 bail for trial.

Dall for trial. ROBBERY.—The store of Lippincott & Trot-ter, No. 21 North Water street, was entered some time during last night and was robbed of seven bags of coffee, one box of navy tobacco, and four and a half chests of tea. The stolen property is valued at $500. The thieves are supposed to have been secreted in the store before it was closed but with the store before it was closed last night.

SERIOUS BURNING.—This morning John Wehl, aged forty-five years, was badly burned by his clothing taking fire from the furnace in the brass foundry of Austin & Mousley, No. 1241 Howard street. He was taken to his home, No. 1249 Howard street.

THE SECOND CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT,-A second meeting of the sub-committee of the Republican State Central Committee was held his morning at the National Union Club House. No quorum was present, however, and the meeting was adjourned over to Tuesday next.

HELD TO BAIL .- Before Ald. Kerr this afterhaving cut with a razor Samuel C. Woodyard, colored, sometime ago, had a further hearing, and was held in $1,000 bail for trial.

CORNER LOUNGING .-- The Twelfth District Police made a raid on corner loungers last evening. Twenty-one young men were cap-tured. They were all held to bail to keep the peace.

FATAL RESULT .- John Stevens, residing at No. 309 Girard avenue, died at the Episcopal Hospital, this morning, from the effects of scalds received by falling into a vat at a brewery.

No PAX.-At the meeting of the Board of Health, to-day, it was decided to withhold the warrants of all of the street-cleaning contractors until they have more fully complied with the terms of their contracts.

SLIGHT FIRE.—This morning, about three o'clock, Sternman's iron foundry, at Second street and Germantown road, was slightly damaged by fire.

CITY NOTICES.

INTERESTING TO THE PUBLIC.-For months we have been busy in getting up our immense Fall stock of clothing. We commenced by cutting, fitting and balancing, by taking a little off this point and adding a little to that; for a gament that does not bal-ance merely hangs. And this balancing system is what has made Rockhill & Wilson's clothing so popular. They now balance like a top and sit as gracefully on the form as a swan on the surface of a smooth lake. In fact they are as much superior to the generality of ready made clothing in style and make as a surloin steak is to one cut from the bullock's neck. Many people say they can tell garments from Rockhill & Wilson's, when they Steamer Rattlesnake (iron), Willett, at Boston, of and from Philadelphia, with 525 tons coal on board, was dis-covered to be leaking at the wharf morning of 31st. Two pumps were put into. service, but the water roses with. The tide; and at bigh water she was submerged to within about three feet of ther taffrill, and the water flowed through the scuppers across the deck. Capt Willett's theory of the accident is that the obt ide let the hull of the steamer down on a rock, staving a hole through her bottom. The consignees (J O Little & Go), however, say that alongside their wharf are two berths, separated by a bar of hard mud, the inner being designed for small resels and the outer for large ones, by extending their sterns out beyond the pier. Capt Willett, without in structions, they say, brought his ship into the smaller berth, with her storn extending over the bank of bard mud (she is 200 feet long), upon which she rosted when the tide went down, and the strain sprung a leak. Capt Willett is now awaiting orders from the owners relative to the discharge of his cargo, which must uow be at tended with considerable extra expense. The vessel is made in water-tight compartments, and the coal can only be got out at low tide.
