RAILBOAD CONVENTION.

The Hospitalities of Philadelphia. The Third Annual Convention of the Rail road Master Mechanics of the United States commences its sessions in this city, at the Assembly Buildings, to-morrow. About two hundred delegates, representing all the prin-cipal railroads in America, will be present, and a considerable number of these have aland a considerable number of these have al-ready arrived in the city. The master mechanics of Philadelphia have made arrangements for the reception and entertainment of these gentlemen, upon the scale of liberal hospitality which is the rule of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia. On to-morrow, Wednesday evening, the members of the Convention will visit the Walnut Street Theatre, to witness a repre-sentation by Edwin Forrest, of "Richelieu." After this entertainment, they will be sere-naded, at 11 o'clock, at the Continental Hotel. On Thursday afternoon the delagates will naueu, at 11 o'clock, at the Continental Hotel. On Thursday afternoon the delegates will enjoy a drive and collation at Fairmount Park, by the Committee of Reception, leaving the Continental Hotel at four o'clock.

On Friday evening a grand banquet will be tendered to the Convention at the Continental

Hotel. On Saturday morning there will be an ex-cursion on the Delaware River, in the steamer Twilight, upon the conclusion of which the guests will be landed at Camden, and take a provide train for a same hore the more than the star special train for a sea shore excursion to Cape May. The arrangements for the whole affair are in the hands of gentlemen who well know how to dispense the hospitalities of Philadelphia, and while the members of the Convention will be afforded ample time for the trans-action of the various details of business which will engage their attention, they will have a most favorable opportunity of witnessing the growth of Philadelphia, and of realizing her growth of Philadelphia, and of realizing her peculiar faculty for making the sojourn of strangers attractive and agreeable to them. The elegant series of invitations for this course of entertainments reflect great credit on the taste and skill of Mr. Jacob Haehnlen, the well-known lithographer.—Each is headed-with an appropriate and beautifully-executed vignette; while the letter-press has all the delicacy of fine steel engraving.

THE HORTICULTURAL EXHIBITION.—The autumnal exhibition of the Pennsylvania Hor-ticultural Society was opened this afternoon at Horticultural Hall, on Broad street. During the past summer the walls and ceilings of the hall have been freecoed. The exhibition which commences to-day is a very fine one, and the hall presents a handsome appearance. The stage has been arranged to represent a tropical scene, and contains various flowers and plants from that section of the globe. In the centre of the hall there is a fountain neatly decorated with evergreen. Extending from this fountain towards the door are four tables. These are filled with collections of ornamental These are niled with collections of ornamental foliage plants, variegated foliage plants, caladiums, orchids, lycopodiums and selagi-nellas and China asters. These plants are the contributions of Mrs. M. W. Baldwin, Hugh-Graham, H. Pratt McKean and A. Cummings. On each side of the doorway are tables con-taining similar plants from the nurseries of Thomas J. Mackenzie and David Ferguson. Thomas J. Mackenzie and David Ferguson. SECOND CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.—At 112 o'clock, this A. M., the delegates to the Con-vention, elected for the purpose of choosing a Congressional candidate for the Republican party, in the Second District, in response to mount Park is visited thaily by thousands of persons. The Park Commissioners are not stantly engaged in making improvements and beautifying the grounds. In some instances the changes have been so rapid that the visi-tor of to-day would scarcely know the spot which he had stood upon a week or two ago. In a newspaper article it would be almost im-possible to describe the extensive work which has been done during the past season. Lans-downe drive has been greatly improved, and the new Wissahickon drive, starting at the Breen street entrance and passing up in the rear of the Rialto House, is progressing ra-pidly. Mr. H. G. Schwarzman, a 'talented young engineer who planned and carried into execution many of the improvements in the West Park, has just completed a most beauti-ful plan for adorning the East Park, between the water-works and Lemon Hill. In this Park the band still performs on Tuesdays and the instructions of the sub-committee of the State Central Committee, re-assembled in the Assembly Buildings. Joshua Russell, of the Twenty-sixth Ward, was called to the chair. J. Ridgway Moore and W. C. Whiteman were chosen secretaries. Messrs. IMPORTANT DECISION BY THE SUPREME COURT OF PUBLIC OPINION. BY THE SOURCE of COURT OF PUBLIC OPINION. Fine Ultiling' rs. Low Prices.—A case to prove that it is impos-sible to purchase a superior article of ready-made clothing at the low price commonly paid for inferior garments. The most important evidence in the case was that of the regular customers of Oak Hall, who testified that they habitually-bought the very best of clothing at fabulously low rates. The court decided that the thing is possible, and that it is done daily (as nowhere else) at the great Oak Hall, and recommended all parties in any way "nonsuited" to carry their case to Wanamaker & Brown.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT UPON A WOMAN.— Stephen Bonfield and William Funk had a hearing before Alderman Randall, of West Philadelphia, last evening, upon the charge of having committed a violent assault and battery naving committed a violent skalut and batted upon a Mrs. O'Hara, a resident of Kelleyville. On Friday afternoon last, about four o'clock, Mrs. O'Hara, with her baby in her arms, started for her home. As she did not have sufficient money, she could not go in the cars. She started to walk out Baltimore avenue. The sufficient money, she could not go in the cars. She started to walk out Baltimore avenue. The defendants, who are oystermen, came along in a cart drawn by a mule. They wanted Miss. O'Hara to get into the cart, saying that they were going to Kolleyville. The invitation was accepted. When the team got as far as May-landville creek the men pretended that some-thing was broken, and Mrs. O'Hara alighted from the cart. Notwithstanding the babe in her arms, she was roughly seized by the men, who attempted to take improper liberties with her. She made a vigorous resistance, where-upon, it is alleged, Bonfield struck her in the eye and knocked her down. The babe fell on the ground some distance away. Mrs. O'Hara screamed and struggled, and her clothing, with the exception of a small rem-nant of her dress, was entirely stripped from her person. She fought energetically, and suc-cessfully prevented the accomplishment of the purpose for which the assault was evidently made. The scoundrels became frightened by the screams of their victimt and got into the made. The scoundrels became frightened by the screams of their victimt and got into the cart and drove off. Mrs. O'Hara was found by Policeman Kelly and taken to the Six-teenth District Police Station. She there pre-sented a frightful appearance. Her face was much swollen, and covered with blood. One eye was entirely closed and the other was nearly so. Lieutenant Leech had her properly attended to, and, after obtaining a description of her assailants sent been need not properly accorded to, and, area obtaining a description of her assailants, sent her home in the train. The description was given to all the policemen in the district on the same evening. Vesterday morning Officer McDonald, who is stationed at Chestnut street bridge, observed two men who answered the description passing over the bridge with a load of oysters. He arrested these men, and took them to the station-house. Mrs. O'Hara was sent for, and identified both prisoners. The accused were committed in default of $3,000 hail to answer at Court.

Structure.—Francis W. Franklin, aged 40 years, residing at Nineteenth and Norris streets, committed suicide, yesterday after-noon; about three o'clock. While upon the piazza of the house, he had some words with his wife. He pulled out a revolver. AMERICAN ENTERPRISE IN THE EAST .-

AMERICAN ENTERPRISE IN THE EAST.--We were recently shown a letter from a traveler in the lioy Land to friends in America, from which we make the following extract, thinking it may not prove unit-toresting to our readers. He says.--"We met with cases of Pratt's Oil, not only in the hazarra in Jerusalem, and in Damaseus and Alexandria-but in nearly every mountain village of the Lebanon range, and we were told that we should find it burning beneath the tents of the Arabs, in the plain which stretches away towards the valley of the Euplrates. We were told that two pligrims took as an offering to Mecca, two cases of this oil, and a German Student Lamp, which so pleased the custodians of the shring that the Hadjees were, on their return, entrusted with an order for a further supply, and now we believe that Mahomat's tomb is seen and kissed by the light of Pratt's New York Oil." We are ourselves using Pratt's Astral Oil, and, from actual trial, can recommend it to our readors as the best we ever used. More than all, it is perfectly safe. The Astral Oil is for sale at wholesaies and rotailby Z. Locke & Co., 1010 Market street. Sole agents for Phila-delphia. ROACHES, ANTS, FLIES, MOSQUITOES AND
