Homicide—A Man Killed in a Dancemouse.—Again are we called upon to record
the sudden taking off of a human being by violence. Again are we called upon to record one of those peculiar cases of homicide for which the perpetrator but rarely, if ever, suffers. Again are we called upon to chronicle
a deed of crime, man taking the life of man, and all through the damning influence of the demonical spirit called rum. The miseries wrought by this alcoholic preparation can neither be told nor foretold; since its origination, through its effects thousands have been ushered into eternity unprepared, and thousands, unknown, have met their deaths in ways that will never be explained until the last great day, when all the nations of the earth shall be gathered together and the deeds of every individual soul ever created shall be read off by the Great Bookeeper above.

Last night there assembled in a low dancehouse on Water street, above Callowhill, No.
402, kept by the somewhat notorious Dan.
McCarty, a number of characters, male and female, the latter members of the lowest order
of the demi monde.

As a matter of course each female had her

of the demi monde.

As a matter of course each female had her particular friend, or as it is vulgarly termed, "man." Amongst the gathering were a number of verdant, unsophisticated countrymen, who being absent from home had seized the opportunity to enjoy a "frolic." To the music produced from a creaking violin the parties male and female, walked, danced and whilled around the room reckless of deceney. whirled around the room reckless of decency, morality or other Christian virtue. All went well, and the sundry drinks of the 'vile stuff called whisky only served to keep up the excitement. About 12.30 A. M., however, some of the "friends" of the lewd women becoming-tired, resolved to cut the performance short, and as the "green-horns" were to be ultimately "fleeced," they to hasten matters determined upon a row. Amongst the crowd was one Charles Carrigan, a native of Manchester, Ocean county, N. J., by-occupation afterman on the Southern New Jersey Railrond. Selecting Mr. C. from the crowd one of the roughs approached him and snæthed off his hat. What followed will, in detail, be recorded below. Suffice here to say that Carrigan was assaulted and brutally beaten. whirled around the room reckless of decency corded below. Suffice here to say that Carrigan was assaulted and brutally beaten.

Whilst his assailants were at their work he begged and prayed that they would desist, and that he would sooner forfeit $25 than be so treated. But their deed was to be accomplished, and heedless, of his entreaties, they continued until one struck him a blow, which sent him reeling to the floor. In his descent the unfortunate man fell against a rough bench arranged along one of the walls of the smuted room, and tumbling heavily therefrom, sustained injuries of such a character that he died in about twenty minutes thereafter. Deceased was represented to be a quiet and inoffensive man. He leaves a young wife, to whom he had been married but about one year.

At half-past one o'clock Coroner Taylor held an inquest in the case at the Seventh Dis-trict Station House, at which facts were developed which correspond materially with those reported above. The names of the guilty parties were known to us at an early hour, but, to enable the officers of the law to perform their work, we, at their request, withheld

We have room only for the evidence offered

We have room only for the evidence offered by Dr. Shapleigh. The crowded condition of our columns prevent insertion of the rest.

Dr. Shapleigh, sworn—I have made a post marren examination of the body; I found a bruise on the front of the left ear, and an abrasion over the right cheek bone; there was a bruise on the back of the head; this the bruise was about one inch in diameter; the external bruises were slight. I found a great congestion of the brain, and a large amount of cfused blood about the base of the brain. Deceased came to his death from the compression and congestion of the brain, caused by vio lence, either from blows or a fall. Deceased came to his death from violent blows on the head, received at the hands of Patrick Callahan and Reddy Mullin, at No. 182-North Waterstreet, on the night of Sept. 16, 1870.

The parties have not been arrested.

DESPERATE FELLOWS. — Last night, at Front and Pine streets, Lawrence Tobin, assisted by three other men, made a furious assistance of the contract of sault upon a man, in which the individual was thrown violently to the ground, and had his eye kicked out by Tobin. Officer Brown arriving, Tobin was arrested, and while being taken to the station house a number of the friends of the latter assaulted the officer and beat him quite seriously. Two brother officers coming to the rescue, arrested Morgan Joyce, one of the assailants. The pair of worthies were taken before Alderman Carpenter, who held Tobin in $1,000 and Joyce in $500 bail for their arrestment of their arrestment. their appearance at court.

BAD BOYS.—Last night five boys, whose ages are in the vicinity of fourteen years, went into a cigar store at No. 927 South Twelfth street, an old lady being in charge of the store. The boys began skylarking, and distracted the attention of the old lady that her eyes were withdrawn temporarily from the cigar case. During this brief interval the case was plundered of quite a number of cigars takens. dered of quite a number of cigars, tobacco, pipes, &c. The lads then left, and information of the theft being given to some policementhe young rascals were pursued and three of them captured. They gave the names of Latta Lama, John Lama and Wm. Egenswiler. Ald. Bousall committed them. sall committed them.

SUPPOSED LARCENY OF A HORSE AND WAGON.—A colored man, named John Williams, placed in a stable on South street, below Second, a few days ago, a horse and wagon which he has been endeavoring to dispose o for $150. From several unguarded expressions dropped by the negro he is supposed to have stolen them from Frankford, and ac cordingly Lieutenant Haggerty yesterday proceeded to the stable and arrested Williams who is at present locked up in the station house. The owner of the horse and wagon has not yet been discovered.

Foregry—John Muldoon, residing at No. 1226 South street, yesterday forged a due bif for $5, to which he attached the name of Goo. Ritchie, the proprietor of a feed store at Passyunk road and Eighth street. Muldoon then sold the bill to another man, who, on the presentation of the bill to Mr. Ritchie, was informed by that gentleman that it was a forgery. Muldoon was arrested, and Ald. Bonsall sent him to prison.

The appearance coincides with the description of a lad named George Boykholmer lightest No. 616 St. John George Borkheimer, living at No. 616 St. John street, who disappeared from his home on Wednesday last. He is supposed to have fallen overboard while fishing.

CORRECTION.—As it has been generally au-nounced that there was but a trifling in-surance on the fire at the Lehigh Crane Iron Company's Works, at Catasauqua, we are glad to be able to state that the insurance on the property burned fully covers the loss, and a much finer building will be immediately AWAY, DOWN EAST, in the town of Berwick, Maine, lives an old lady, Mrs. Briggs, the inventor of the celebrated Berwick Sponge Cake. Twenty and seven years has she made it, until all New England is filled with the fame thereof. A day or two since our friend, G. Byron Morse, sent us a few boxes of this beautiful cake, and informed us that he had secured the services of a number of Mrs. secured the services of a number of Mrs. Briggs's family to come to Philadelphia and manufacture it for him, and truly we must say the like of it we never tasted before.

DELICATE AND NUTRITIOUS CONFECTIONS AND CHOCOLATE.—The confections and chocolate manufactured by Stephen F. Whitman & Son, S. Hence it is that Mr. Whitman's confections. and chocolate are sought after at all times and casons by those who appreciate superb preparations of this kind.

THE LATEST FASHIONABLE BEYERAGE.—A furnishing store in this city advertises a new style of rawn as "the latest fashion for the threat." This may be the latest style for the outside of that organ, but a fashion for the inside has just come up which is twice as popular. Somebody has found out that Schiedam Schrabps improve soda water, and everybody acquiesces in the arrangement. Although somewhat conservative by nature, we are not opposed to progress, and conceiving it our solemn duty, as a public journalist, to ascertain whether Schnapps Soid Water was a proper thing to recommend to our subscribus, was tried it. Mrs. R. Judd, of New Britain, Cohn., upset and broke a lighted lamp, the other night, is cattering the contents over her person and on the carpet. The lamp was filled with Pratt's 'Astra' 'Oil. She says. "I wish to add my testimony to the good qualities of the Astral Oil. The other night, as I was passing from the sitting-room to the kitchen, with a lighted lamp (the lamp holding a pint of oil), my sleeve caught on the doorlatch, the lamp fell to the floor and was broken—the contents scattered on the carpet, my dress and shoos, but did not ignite. I picked up the wick, still burning, and extinguished it without causing any damage. I consider the Astral Oil perfectly safe. So do we. The probability is, had Mrs. Judd been using any other oil, she would have been seriously fined fatally burned. We burn the Astral Oil, and advise aur readers to do the same. All dealers soil it.
