THE ROGUE'S GALLERY.—For several years past there has existed, in connection with the Detective Department of the Police Department, a picture gallery, known as as the "Rogue's Gallery." It was the custom in former years, when a burglar, or important criminal of any kind was captured, to have him photographed immediately after his arrest, and his picture was framed and hung up in the gallery.—Likenesses of rogues arrested in other cities were also received in exchange, and about 500 pictures have accumulated at the Central Station. The object of this picture-taking was to aid police business. In case a person had his pocket picked, he was taken into the Rogue's Gallery and told to look around. If he discovered the "phiz" of any individual who was near him at the time of his loss the Detectives managed to get the THE ROGUE'S GALLERY .- For several year individual who was near him at the time of his loss the Detectives managed to get the right thief. The same course was pursued in the case of burglaries and robberies. Sometime ago the practice of taking pictures, for some reason, ceased, and therefore many noted thieves are not among the collection. The Rogue's Gallery seems to have become more of a curiosity, than a useful institution, and has had frequent visitors daily. It is not to be open for the inspection of the armies anymore. The pictures have all been taken down from the walls. They are to be copied in carte de visite style, and placed to be copied in carte de visite style, and placed in albums. An album is to be placed in each Police Station in addition to the one to be kept at the Central Station. An arrangement has also been made to hereafter photograph all thieves captured in the city, and the "Rogue's Album" will, in course of time, be-come a useful adjunct to the Police Department.

Some of these dwellings are occupied, and others are awaiting purchasers, or tenants. Yesterday an individual, upon pretence of a desire to reut, obtained the keys of one of the unoccupied houses. Going up to the roof, he passed along, and managed to gain an entrance to some of the occupied dwellings. The upper parts were ransacked, but operations were cut short by discovery, and the fellow escaped in the way in which he had entered. He got nothing for his very dangerous trip.

REATEN.-Last night, about 11 o'clock, Addis Hayes got into a quarrel with three men, in a tavern, at Broad and Olive streets, and was badly beaten. His assailants were not arrested.

Woven Wire Mattress—Improvements are the order of the day, and any which give additional comfort in sleeping arrangements are always very acceptable. The woven wire mattress—recently-introduced into this city-by. Mr. Amos Hillborn, No. 24 North Tenth street, is therefore, beginning to attract considerable attention. It consists of a strong and curious fabric of fine wire, coiled and woven double by machinery, and when stretched on a frame of the proper size, combines all the advantages and uses of a perfect spring-bed and the usual under mattress in one article. It is a complete bed, requiring only a very thin covering to make it a perfect one article. It is a community of the only a very thin covering to make it a perfect cleening arrangement. With a flexibility, sleeping arrangement. With a flexibility, much like that of rubber cloth, it adapts itself to the form of the body in a marked degree, and prevents that feeling of weariness which so often attends sleep on the best of ordinary beds. The durability of the wire mattress described in the state of the wire mattress described in the wire mattress descr pends on the elastic power in thirty square feet of long wire-springs. Each horizontal spring, and there are three hundred of them, is coiled and doubly interwoven into those adjoining, producing this fabric which cannot wear out, and on which nearly half a ton of wire, remaining for five days. wear out, and on which nearly half a ton of wire, remaining for five days, made no impression. For hospitals and all public institutions, where cleanliness and comfort are desired, this mattress is peculiarly adapted, and it has also been introduced, with great satisfaction, into many of the hotels in New York and the Eastern States.

WHEN THE lash falls the balky horse begins to wince. It is well known to the public that our tifteen dollar suits are so popular, and are giving such general satisfaction, and surpass in style, make and trimming, those made by others who have been endeavoring to imitate them, and have miserably failed yet are proclaiming that they are offering suits for twelve dollars, made of the same material as those on Chestnut street at fifteen dollars. as those on Chestnut street at fifteen dollars. If they allude to us we most respectfully request the public to make an examination and compare the articles, quality, style and trimmings, and they will see the mistake—we do not wish to use any harsher term. We say most positively that we purchased all the goods in the market of which our beautiful and substantial fifteen dollar suits are made. There are none equal to them in the city.

ROCKHILL & WILSON, Great Brown Stone Clothing Hall, No. 603 and 605 Chestnut street.

As we go to press the most exciting news that reaches us is of the grand success of Messrs. Wanamaker & Brown's opening today, and the unbounded enthusiasm prevailing about the southeast corner of Sixth and Market streets. The display at Horticultural Market streets. The display at Horicultural Hall, last week, was hardly more attractive; and as the Oak Hall is open until 9 o'clock, this evening, brilliantly lighted, beautifully decorated, it is to be hoped that all who are interested in the matter of good clothing will do themselves the service of looking through Oak Hall.

FOR THE LADIES.—The metallic spring garter, is the latest invention for the use of the ladies. It is made of fine wire, is round in form and is easy, comfortable, durable and healthful. Mr. Thomas T. Holme, of Frankford, is the agent for Philadelphia.

DRAMATIC.—The dramatic company performing at the Academy of Music will give London Assurance to-morrow evening, and a matinee-performance on Saturday.

This is not surprising; for, apart from its being found in most of our respectable Drug Stores in this city and country; and its being strongly recommended by the physicians, the mild and agreeable taste of this article, contrasted with the strong, pungent and actial sensation produced on the palate by the common deleterious article—which is now the general complaint of nearly all the medical faculty of this country—would, of itself, suffice to give it the decided preference. If prescribed as a medicine, it is not bad to take; and to use as a beverage it is considered by judges to be superior to any article of the kind ever imported into this country.
