AMUSEMENTS.

-Central Park will be produced at the Arch to-night with a fine cast. Lucilie Western will begin an engage ment of two weeks at the Walnut Street Thea tre to-night in East Lynne.

—The Lingard Combination will appear in a good performance at the Chestnut Street Theatre this evening.

—At Carneross & Dixey's Eleventh Street Opera House a good minstrel performance will be given this evening.

—A first class minstrel entertainment will be given at Simmons & Slocum's Arch Street Opera House to night.

-A good miscellaneous performance will officed at Fox's American Theatre tonight.

Hasslers' grand orchestra and military band will give their inaugural concert of the season at the Academy of Music on Saturday afternoon next. The programme consists of a fine selection of instrumental music, and as the band is composed of the best performers in the city, there is every reason to believe that the performances to be given by the Hassler lyothers will be great successes. brothers will be great successes.

The brilliant success with which Mile. Nillson's concerts in New York have been crowned, is in some degree a guarantee of an equal triumph for the Swedish singer in this city. At the conclusion of her engagement in New York, Mile. Nillson will appear in Philadelphia, at the Academy of Music, in a series of concerts. The company, of which she is the principal member, is in many respects an excellent one; it includes several first-rate artists, among them Vieuxtemps, the famous violinist, and Wehll, the pianist. The announcement of Nilsson's inaugural performance in this city will be made shortly in our advertising columns.

THE AURORA BOREALIS.—During last week several exhibitions of the electrical pheno mena, Aurora Borealis, were visible here. On Saturday and last night, however, the display Saturday and last night, however, the display was most magnificent. At about 9 o'clock on the night first named, crowds of citizens could be seen standing in the street gazing at the brightly illuminated horizon, wondering and surmising as to the cause thereof. Some asserted that the origin was a large fire somewhere distant, whilst others, better posted, rightfully attributed it to electricity. Along the horizon, from northeast to northwest, the sky was overspread for several hours, with a steady bluish white light, quite opalescent in places, extending from the horizon about one-third of the distance to the zenith. From this there was a rapid shootthe horizon about one-third of the distance to the zenith. From this there was a rapid shooting out of "heams" or "streamers," usually of white light, but occasionally showing a variety of tiuts, some being deep orange and flame color, and others a delicate blush of rose. Generally the flash or undulation of light was momentary, but quite often the light remained for many minutes as if a feint cloud had suddenly been formed in the sky. About half past ten o'clock the meteor encircled the had suddenly been formed in the sky. About half past ten o'clock the meteor encircled the whole heavens, and the term "northern lights" became a decided misnomer. Last evening the display was equally grand, but its duration was somewhat shortened by the sud-duration was somewhat shortened by the sudden coming up of a rain storm.

This phenoma has been known but imperfectly until within a late period. Its appearance in ancient times was regarded with great horror, and indeed in our own country, so late as the great aurora of "1837," the strange light was very generally a source of terror to late as the great aurora of "1851;" the strange light was very generally a source of terror to the ignorant. The streamers of light were converted by the imagination into the forms of familiar objects of motion, and were called by the natives of Scotland "Merry dancers." The ancient Greeks and Romans regarded their compensations of great stream of the stream of th their appearance as portentious of great events, and saw in their varying forms

Fierce, fiery warriors fight upon the clouds In rank, and squadrons, and right form of war. They even imagine that sounds of trumpets and arms came from them, and in this they are upheld by statements made by Esquimaux to members of Dr. Kane's expedition. During Saturday and last night the effects of the aurora were observed in the workings of our-telegraph wires, and from indications the "electric phenomena" must have been widestoning a Beer Saloon.—Olaf Berger and Edward McClay went into Murtz's beer saloon, No. 2124 North Front street, yesterday, and got a glass of beer. They refused to pay and raised a disturbance. Some Germans who were in the saloon, seized McClay, but Berger got into the street. There he threw stones at the building, and broke several glasses in the second-story windows. Policeman Taylor came up. Berger ran and was pursued. After a chase of about ten squares, he was captured. In the meantime. McClay had been handed over to Policeman Bird. The prisoners were taken before Alderman Heins, and were held in $1,000 bail for malicious mischief. malicious mischief.

INTERFERING WITH AN OFFICER.—Policeman Boyle, at Front and Thompson streets yesterday afternoon, arrested two men for drunkenness. As he was taking them to the station house he was followed by John Slingrough, who attempted to strike him on the head with a brick. Boyle let go his prisoner and arrested Slingrough, who was sent to prison by Alderman Shoemaker.

In Search of Her Husband.—Mrs. Hamill, of Portland, Maine, is now in this city in search of her husband, who has been missing for some time. He was Mate of the brig Emile, from St. Mary, S. C. He was last seen in this city, and then he intimated that he intended to destroy himself. Mrs. Hamili is stopping at No. 513 South Second street.

BONFIRES .- Mayor Fox has instructed the police to prevent the building of bontires inc. the streets. The places selected by the juveniles for the storage of boxes, barrels, &c., are to be hunted up and the plunder seized. Those who make the fires are to be arrested.

THE LATE WILLIAM ROSSITER.—The inqueet held on William Rossiter, Esq., whilied on Tuesday last, developed the fact that he deceased was a native of Norristown, and ame to Philadelphia on a visit. While walkng on Tenth street, near Pearl, in the aftergoon, he was suddenly taken ill. He was aken to the nearest house and a physician sent or, but before the medical aid could be obained he died. The post-mortem examination howed that apoplexy was the cause. Mr.
Rossiter was well and favorably known in this city as well as Norristown, and his sudden death has caused deep sorrow in a large circle of friends.

South Twelvin Street.—The Board of Health, on Saturday, received a communica-tion from the residents on Twelfth street, south of Walnut, complaining of the bad condition of the street on account of the debris left there of the street on account of the debtis stee thereby the contractors for laying the railway track. The Board passed a resolution directing the notification of the Citizens' Passenger Railway Company (Tenth and Eleventh Sts.), which owns the road on Twelfth street, to have that thoroughfare put in order at once.

BAR-KEEPER ASSAULTED.—Two men went into the beer saloon of Schwertzer & Grim, at Eleventh street and Columbia avenue, got a glass of beer, and then one of them threw a glass at George Louders, the bar-keeper. The missile struck Louders on the head, causing a serious wound. missie struck Louders on the head, causing a serious wound. Two men were afterwards arrested on the charge of having been the assailants, and were locked up in the Twelfth District Police station.

ACCIDENT ON BROAD STREET.-Last even ing, about 7 o'clock, a pair of horses attached to a carriage belonging to Wm. Beckhaus, ran away at Broad and Thompson streets. The carriage was overturned, and a son of Mr. Beckhaus was somewhat injured. About the same time the carriage of Mr. Hitner came in collision with another carriage in the same collision with another carriage in the same neighborhood. The latter vehicle was upset, and a lady was hurt.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY .- Wm. Keating, Charged with Robbery.—Wm. Keating, who has frequently figured in police matters, was arrested yesterday, at Seventeenth and Filbert streets, after a long chase, upon the charge of having robbed a man of $170 in the tavern of Pat Carroll, in the neighborhood of Twenty-second and Spring Garden streets. He was locked up for a hearing at the Central Statton.

Another Arrest.—John D. Heston was arrested on Saturday night, at Franklin—and Vinestreets, on the charge of having been concerned in the robbery of John Hoese, on Callowbill street, above Fifth, last week. Ald. Cahill committed him for a further hearing.

DIED IN A CELL.—An unknown man who was accommodated with lodgings in the Fifth District Police Station, last night, was found dead in a cell this morning.

BIRTH IN A POLICE STATION.—Mary Kennedy, a lodger in the Ffth District Police Station, gave birth to a male child, about three o'clock this morning.

A Stove is a Stove and a heater a heater, and if not an axiom, is at least an established fact which no one for a moment would attempt fact which no one for a moment would attempt to gainsay. Yet there are existing differences in both. The styles of stoves are anumerous almost as the variety of bounets. and stove manufacturers are yet busy in devising cheap, economical patterns. In the way of heaters, however, but little advancement was made until a very recent period. Heretofore our housekeepers have been satisfied with the old, fire-wasting, imperfect heater. But of late, through the instrumentality of Mr. Jas Spear, of the firm of Jas. Spear & Co., Nos. 1116 and 1118 Market street, a complete revolution has been wrought. On Saturday-we paid a visit to the extensive establishment of the firm and were there shown an invention of Mr. Spear's. The new article is as near perfection as can possible teachers. new article is as near perfection as can pos new article is as near perfection as can pos-sibly be obtained. "A revolving grate dipping towards the centre is constructed about 18 inches, above the base, and in front thereof are two doors, the outer being-of iron and the inner of wire-work, whilst the latter is open, the servant may rake the fire and at the same time watch the process of her labor through the sieve-like windows, without suffering any inconvenience from of her labor through the sleve-like windows. without suffering any inconvenience from dust. This is a desideratum never before attained. An opening in the side, some feet ubove, leads to the magazine, which makes of the heater a self-feeder. The principal improvement, however, is the grate arrangement, which does away with all clinkers or ashes, the fire never becoming cheked, and the servant being at all times able to see the exact state of the fire. It is claimed that a fire once built in fire. It is claimed that a fire once built in these heaters can be kept up all through the winter, thus saving trouble, labor, and expense. In the construction of this new heat producer, Mr. Spear has done the community a great benefit, and filled a long desired want. The firm are now ready to supply all persons in need of such articles, and already a number of housekeepers who have examined the improvement, are removing their old heaters and replacing them with the new—the saving in that more than recompaning them for the vinter,thus saving trouble, labor,and expense fuel, more than recompensing them for the

IT CAN'T BE DONE.—It is too late for any one to attempt to undersell Wanamaker & Brown. With the advantages of large capi arge capital, leading position, immense sales and a cash business, which they now possess, they need not, and will not, admit any competitors in the matter of prices. "Invariably the lowest" is their watchword.

Model of Windson Castle.-Mr. Hoppin is exhibiting at the Artists' Fund Rooms, No. 1334 Chestnut street, a model he has cut in cork, representing Windsor Castle: it is perhaps seven feet long, and mimics with surprising fidelity the multiplied towers and ramparts of the original, which altogether cover twelve acres. The light material selected by Mr. Hoppin repeats most faithfully the outlines of the ponderous walls, though in specific gravity hardly more than the ghost of granite. Hood says that when the noble corktree "shades a beautiful group of Castilian Maids" 'tis a theme for a song or a sonnet. Herne's oak, in the Little Park at Windsor, has shaded the Maiden Queen; and, from her time to this, the historic associations of the Castle are so valied and romantic that we owe our thanks to Mr. Hoppin for bringing it palpably and visibly home to us. The ex ibition will continue for a few days.
